NOTIFICATION.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.

Bombay Castle, 10th August 1885.

No. 3011.—In exercise of the power conferred by Act I of 1870, the following Rules for quarantine against cholera have been made by the Government of Bombay, with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council: they will take effect from the 8th instant in the Port of Aden and at Perim as a temporary measure:—

I.—The Commander of every vessel, including buggalows or other native craft arriving from Karachi shall, before entering the harbour, indicate by signal the port from which such vessel has come.

II.—Such Commander shall not, except as hereinafter provided, allow any communication, either with the pilot boat, except orally, or with the shore, or with any other vessel or boat in the harbour.

III.—Immediately on any such arrival being signalled, the Health Officer of the port shall go alongside the vessel, and, if communication with the shore is desired, shall direct the Commander to take the vessel to the quarantine anchorage, duly appointed and notified in that behalf by the Resident, there to remain for a period of seven days from the date of arrival in the harbour, or for the shorter period prescribed in Rule IV, and undergo disinfection, which should apply as well to crew, passengers, effects and susceptible goods. The Health Officer shall also direct the Commander to prohibit, during the period for which the vessel remains at the quarantine anchorage as aforesaid, all communication, except such as is hereinafter provided for, between such vessel and the shore, or other vessels and boats in the harbour. If communication with the shore is not desired, the vessel shall anchor at such place as may be pointed out by the Port authorities, having regard to the season of the year, and no communication shall be allowed with the pilot boat, otherwise than orally, or with the shore.

IV.—If the Health Officer of the Port has sufficient evidence that no cases of a suspicious nature have taken place on board during the voyage, and if the vessel is besides in good hygeinic condition, the duration of the quarantine will be diminished according to the following scale:—

After eight days of voyage		...	Six days of quarantine.
Do. nine	ditto	...	Five ditto.
Do. ten	ditto	...	Four ditto.
Do. eleven	ditto	...	Three ditto.
Do. twelve	ditto	...	Two ditto.
Do. thirteen	ditto and upwards	...	Twenty-four hours of quarantine.

V.—If during the period a vessel is at the quarantine anchorage aforesaid any case or cases of cholera should occur on board, the said vessel shall remain in quarantine for a period of seven days from the date of the last case occurring, and be subject to all the prohibitions provided for in Rule III.

VI.—When any vessel has been placed in quarantine as aforesaid, the Health Officer may direct the removal of so many of the passengers and crew as may not be suffering from illness, and whose services may not be required on board the vessel, to such particular spots as may from time to time be selected by the Resident as places of quarantine, there to remain for a period of seven days. If a case of cholera occurs among such passengers and crew during any such period, they shall remain in a place of quarantine for a period of fifteen days from the date of the occurrence of the last case of such illness.

VII.—Any mails or cargo which may be brought by any vessel so arriving shall be landed under such precautions as the Health Officer may deem necessary to prevent the spread of the disease.

VIII.—It will be the duty of the Port Officer to facilitate the conveyance to all vessels in quarantine of such supplies of provisions, stores, and other articles as may be required by those on board. Such supplies will be placed on the boats of the vessels in quarantine to be subsequently removed by members of their crews.

IX.—All vessels arriving at Aden and Perim which may have communicated with vessels coming from Karachi shall be subjected to the same quarantine as vessels arriving at Aden and Perim from that port.

X.—All vessels which have undergone quarantine in the manner above prescribed should have the fact clearly stated on their bills of health.

By order of His Excellency the Right Hon'ble the Governor in Council,

J. NUGENT,
Secy. to Government.

NOTIFICATION.

Order for Survey under the Bengal Survey Act, 1875.

The 18th August 1885.—Under section 3 of the Bengal Act V of 1875, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to order that a survey shall be made of the lands situated in pergunnah Biserah and pergunnah Gudeshwar in the district of Mozufferpore, and that the boundaries of estates, tenures, mouzahs, and fields shall be demarcated on the lands so to be surveyed.

H. H. RISLEY,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTIFICATION.

BENGAL TENANCY ACT.

The 15th August 1885.—The following draft rules under the provisions of Act VIII of 1885 are published for general information in conformity with section 190 of the Act, and it is hereby notified that the draft will be taken into consideration by the Government of Bengal on the 1st of October 1885. Any objection or suggestion which may be made by any person with respect to the draft should be submitted to the Secretary to the Government of Bengal in the Revenue Department at Darjeeling before the date specified above.

H. H. RISLEY,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Rules under the Bengal Tenancy Act.

Section 103.—1. Applications under this section shall be made to the Collector of the district.

2. The application shall specify—

(a) The status of the applicant, viz. whether he is a proprietor or a tenure-holder, and the particulars of the estate or tenure in respect of which the application is made.

(b) The particulars under section 102 which the applicant desires to have recorded.

(c) The number of tenants (so far as the applicant is able to specify them) occupying the estate or tenure, or part thereof, in respect of which the application is made, and the rent payable by them at the time.

3. If the application is made by a proprietor, it shall not be admitted unless the name of the applicant and the extent of his interest are registered under Act VII (B.C.) of 1876.

4. On receipt of the application the Collector shall forward it to the Commissioner with any remarks which he may think necessary.

5. The Commissioner may call for further information, or may require the application to be amended.

6. If the Commissioner shall have reason to believe that the number of tenants affected by the application does not exceed 200, and that the rent payable by them at the time the application is made does not exceed Rs. 1,000, he shall pass an order allowing or rejecting the application; but otherwise he shall forward the application with an expression of his opinion for the orders of the Board of Revenue.

7. A Commissioner allowing an application under the preceding rule may allow it in respect of some of the particulars specified in section 102, and may reject it in respect of others.

8. A Commissioner rejecting an application, either wholly or in part, shall record his reasons for doing so, and the applicant, if dissatisfied with the order, may appeal within one month to the Board of Revenue.

9. When an application is referred to the Board under rule 6, or in consequence of an appeal under rule 8, the Board shall pass such orders as it may think fit for allowing or rejecting the application, either wholly or in part.

10. The Commissioner or the Board, as the case may be, when allowing an application, shall specify the Revenue officer or officers by whom the record is to be prepared.

11. As soon as an application is allowed, the Collector shall call upon the applicant to deposit the expenses at the rate of eight annas per acre for the estimated area in respect of which the application has been allowed. If the Collector is unable to estimate the area, he shall calculate the expenses at the rate of Rs. 2 per each tenant. If the amount does not exceed Rs. 500, the applicant must deposit the whole amount in advance. If it exceeds Rs. 500, the applicant shall deposit the sum of Rs. 500, and shall give such security as the Collector may require for the balance.

12. In conducting the operations the Revenue officer shall have regard to any rules or instructions which may have been issued by the Local Government for the guidance of officers acting under orders made under section 101.

NOTIFICATION.

BENGAL TENANCY ACT.

The 18th August 1885.—The following draft rules, under the provisions of Act VIII of 1885, are published for general information, in conformity with section 190 of the Act, and it is hereby notified that the draft will be taken into consideration by the Government of Bengal on the 1st of October 1885. Any objection or suggestion which may be made by any person with respect to the draft should be submitted to the Secretary to the Government of Bengal, in the Revenue Department, at Darjiling, before the date specified above.

H. H. RISLEY,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Rules under the Bengal Tenancy Act.

Section 39.—1. The local area under this section shall be a sub-division of a district, or such other area (not being larger than a sub-division) as the Local Government may from time to time prescribe in any particular case.

2. The Collector of the district, after such local enquiry as he may think necessary, shall certify to the Local Government, through the Board of Revenue, the staple food crop or food crops grown in each local area in his district.

3. The staple food crop shall be the food crop most generally and extensively grown in each local area; and the Collector shall, if necessary, certify different crops for up-lands and for low-lands in the same local area.

4. Unless and until the Local Government, by a rule duly made and published under section 190 of the Act, shall otherwise direct, the entries in the schedule hereunto annexed shall be taken to show:—

(a) The local areas for which prices are to be recorded,

(b) The staple food-crops grown on up-lands and low-lands respectively in each of such local areas,

(c) The mart or marts within each local area at which prices are to be taken for record in the lists.

5. Price-lists shall be prepared fortnightly on the 15th and last days of each month.

6. The prices to be recorded shall be the average of the retail prices at which the staple food crop or food crops were actually sold in the mart to which the price-list refers, on the day or days on which the officer charged with the preparation of the list visited the mart for the purpose of ascertaining prices.

7. If more than one retail price prevails for the same food crop, in the same mart, on the day on which the officer preparing the price-list visits the mart, he shall take the highest and lowest of such prices, and shall record the mean of the two as the price.

8. Price-lists shall ordinarily be prepared by a gazetted officer not below the rank of a Sub-Deputy Collector. But in special cases, where a Sub-Deputy Collector is not available, the Collector, with the sanction of the Commissioner, may authorize a canoongoe to prepare the lists.

9. Every officer charged with the preparation of price-lists shall keep a record showing:—

(a) The dates of his visits to the market the prices ruling in which are to be recorded.

(b) The names of vendors and purchasers, the quantities sold, and prices thereof, for any sales effected in his presence.

10. When price-lists are prepared at the sudder sub-division by an officer below the rank of a covenanted Deputy Collector or senior Deputy Collector, or at other sub-divisions by an officer subordinate to the Sub-divisional officer, they shall be submitted to the covenanted Deputy Collector, or senior Deputy Collector, or Sub-divisional officer, as the case may be. Such officer shall scrutinize the lists; he may call for explanations and cause corrections of manifest errors; and, having satisfied himself to the best of his ability of the accuracy of the lists, he shall countersign them.

11. The lists shall then be published (as required in sub-section 3 of section 39) at the Collector's or sub-divisional office, and at every thana, munsiffee, and municipal office in the local area for one month.

12. The lists shall then be submitted to the Board with any objections made to them and with the opinions of the officer who prepared and countersigned them, and of the Collector, on such objections.

Orders and Notifications by the Government of India, &c.

[Reprinted from the Gazette of India.]

The following order, issued by the Government of India in the Legislative Department, is republished for general information.

F. B. PEACOCK,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTIFICATION.

Simla, the 7th August 1885.

No. 14.—The Governor-General in Council has been pleased to make the following rules in regard to the publication of the Indian Law Reports, in supersession of those published with Notification No. 3, dated 24th January 1878 :—

CALCUTTA SERIES.

1. The Government of India will appoint a Reporter and such Sub-Reporters as from time to time it thinks fit for the High Court of Bengal, who shall work under the orders and supervision of a Council to be constituted as follows :—

The Chief Justice.
Two Puisne Judges.
The Advocate-General.
A Member of the Calcutta Bar.
A Vakil.

The two Puisne Judges, the Barrister and Vakil shall be from time to time appointed by the Court.

2. The Reporter and Sub-Reporters will be paid by the Governor-General in Council. The Local Government will be responsible for all arrangements connected with printing, publication and distribution of the reports.

3. The entire supervision of the literary work and editing of the reports, including such arrangements as may be needed to ensure the report of each case being ready for the press as soon as possible after judgment is delivered, will rest with the Council.

4. The Reporter and Sub-Reporters will act in direct subordination to the Council as to attendance in Court, the form of the reports, the cases to be reported, the date of publication and other matters. The Council may, on due cause shewn, recommend to the Government of India the dismissal or suspension of any Reporter or Sub-Reporter, and may, pending the orders of Government on the subject, itself suspend any Reporter or Sub-Reporter.

5. The Reporter shall, subject to the directions of the Council, be responsible for the selection, form and publication of the reports, and, if the Council direct that any case shall be reported, the Reporter shall cause such case to be reported and published.

6. The Council may make such rules as it thinks fit as to the personal attendance of the Reporter and Sub-Reporters in Court, and generally for the guidance of the Reporter and Sub-Reporters.

7. The Council may make rules for the regulation of its own business.

8. The reports shall be published under the authority of the Governor-General in Council, and the Council constituted under these rules is hereby empowered to publish them under such authority.

9. The present Reporter and Sub-Reporters shall be deemed to have been appointed under these rules.

MADRAS SERIES.

1. A Reporter shall be appointed for the High Court of Madras, and shall work under the supervision of a Council to be constituted as follows :—

A Judge of the High Court.
The Advocate-General.
One other Member of the Bar.
One Solicitor.
One Vakil.

The Judge, Member of the Bar, Solicitor and Vakil shall from time to time be appointed by the Chief Justice.

2. The Reporter shall be appointed and paid by the Governor-General in Council.

3. The Reporter shall be primarily responsible for the selection and form of the reports, but on all questions of principle he shall consult, and be guided by, the Council.

4. The entire supervision of the literary work and editing of the reports, including such arrangements as may be needed to ensure the report of each case being ready for the press as soon as possible after judgment is delivered, will rest with the Council, the Local Government being responsible for all arrangements connected with printing, publication and distribution.

5. If the Judge or Judges who decided any case desires or desire that it should not be reported, it shall not be reported.

6. If the Court of the Chief Justice desires that the Reporter shall consult it or him, or any Committee appointed by it or by him, on any case or matter, it shall be his duty to do so.

7. If the Court or the Chief Justice desires that any case decided by the Court or by any Division or Judge thereof shall be reported, and signifies such desire to the Reporter, the case shall, subject to rule 5, be reported and published.

8. The Council may, with the approval of the Chief Justice, make rules of business for the Council.

9. The reports shall be published under the authority of the Governor-General in Council, and the Council is hereby empowered to publish them under such authority.

10. In framing reports regard shall be had to the following general rules and principles :—

(a) Every report ought to contain a statement of all facts necessary for a due understanding of the decision.

(b) Reports ought not to state any facts which are clearly unnecessary for a due understanding of the decision.

(c) In judging whether to insert or to omit a statement of facts, it is better to err on the side of overstatement than of understatement.

(d) It is not meant that the Reporter must state the facts over again if there is a clear, full and consecutive statement of them in the judgment.

(e) As a general rule, cases for which a full statement of facts cannot be obtained are not to be reported.

(f) As a general rule, every report ought to contain a statement of the arguments of counsel, sufficient to shew what points were pressed upon the Court.

(g) The Reporter should note any material bearing which the decision may have on other decisions or on any principle of law, and which is not otherwise apparent on the face of the report.

(h) Every report ought to contain a full copy or account of the judgment delivered by the Court and by each Judge thereof, or of so much of the judgment as bears on the point for which the case is reported.

(i) As a general rule, cases turning upon evidence or inferences of fact, cases relating to the construction of private documents, and, generally, cases which do not illustrate some principle of law or some important bearing of an enactment in a way not covered by previous decisions, ought not to be reported.

(j) In selecting cases for report, the Reporter is to be guided by the weight and importance of the decision, and the existence of materials for a satisfactory report, and is not to abstain from reporting a case merely because he may think the decision to be erroneous, or to be in conflict with other decisions.

BOMBAY SERIES.

1. A Reporter shall be appointed for the High Court of Bombay, and shall work under the supervision of a Council to be constituted as follows :—

The Chief Justice.
Two Puisne Judges.
The Advocate-General.
The Government Pleader.

The two Puisne Judges shall from time to time be selected by the High Court.

2. The Reporter shall be appointed and paid by the Governor-General in Council.

3. The Local Government shall be responsible for all arrangements connected with the printing, publication and distribution of the reports.

4. The Council may, with the approval of the Chief Justice, make rules of business for the Council.

5. The reports shall be published under the authority of the Governor-General in Council, and the Council is hereby empowered to publish them under such authority.

6. Subject to such instructions as may from time to time, with the approval of the Chief Justice, be issued by the Council, regard shall be had in framing reports to the following general rules and principles :—

(a) Every report ought to contain a statement of all facts necessary for a due understanding of the decision.

(b) Reports ought not to state any facts which are clearly unnecessary for a due understanding of the decision.

(c) In judging whether to insert or to omit a statement of facts, it is better to err on the side of overstatement than of understatement.

(d) It is not meant that the Reporter must state the facts over again if there is a clear, full and consecutive statement of them in the judgment.

(e) As a general rule, cases for which a full statement of facts cannot be obtained are not to be reported.

(f) As a general rule, every report ought to contain a statement of the arguments of counsel, sufficient to shew what points were pressed upon the Court.

(g) The Reporter should note any material bearing which the decision may have on other decisions or on any principle of law, and which is not otherwise apparent on the face of the report.

(h) Every report ought to contain a full copy or account of the judgment delivered by the Court and by each Judge thereof, or of so much of the judgment as bears on the point for which the case is reported.

(i) As a general rule, cases turning upon evidence or inferences of fact, cases relating to the construction of private documents, and, generally, cases which do not illustrate some principle of law or some important bearing of an enactment in a way not covered by previous decisions, ought not to be reported.

(j) In selecting cases for report, the Reporter is to be guided by the weight and importance of the decision, and the existence of materials for a satisfactory report, and is not to abstain from reporting a case merely because he may think the decision to be erroneous, or to be in conflict with other decisions.

ALLAHABAD SERIES.

1. A Reporter shall be appointed for the High Court for the North-Western Provinces, and shall work under the supervision of a Council to be constituted as follows :—

One Puisne Judge.
Two Barristers.
Two Vakils of the Court.

Each of the above shall from time to time be appointed by the Chief Justice.

2. The Reporter shall be appointed and paid by the Governor-General in Council.

3. The Reporter shall be primarily responsible for the selection and form of the reports, but on all questions of principle he shall consult, and be guided by, the Council.

4. The entire supervision of the literary work and editing of the reports, including such arrangements as may be needed to ensure the report of each case being ready for the press as soon as possible after judgment is delivered, will rest with the Council, the Local Government being responsible for all arrangements connected with printing, publication and distribution.

5. If the Judge or Judges who decided any case desires or desire that it should not be reported, it shall not be reported.

7. If the Court or the Chief Justice desires that any case decided by the Court or by any Division or Judge thereof shall be reported, and signifies such desire to the Reporter, the case shall, subject to rule 5, be reported and published.

8. The Council may, with the approval of the Chief Justice, make rules of business for the Council.

9. The reports shall be published under the authority of the Governor-General in Council, and the Council is hereby empowered to publish them under such authority.

10. In framing reports regard shall be had to the following general rules and principles :—

(a) Every report ought to contain a statement of all facts necessary for a due understanding of the decision.

(b) Reports ought not to state any facts which are clearly unnecessary for a due understanding of the decision.

DISTRICT ROAD FUND.

NOTIFICATION No. 338.

The 13th August 1885.

THE following annual accounts and reports of the Road Cess Committees of the districts of Dinagepore, Rajshahye, Rungpore, Bogra, Pubna, Darjeeling and Julpigoree for the cess year 1883-84, together with the remarks thereon of the Commissioner of the Rajshahye Division, are published for general information.

D. B. HORN,

Under-Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal, P. W. Dept.

No. 128R.W., dated Dinagepore, the 16th December 1884.

From—H. S. BEADON, Esq., Chairman, District Road Cess Committee, Dinagepore,
To—The Commissioner of the Rajshahye Division.

I HAVE the honour to submit herewith the annual report of the District Road Cess Committee for the cess year 1883-84.

2. The brief preliminary report was submitted on the 20th June 1884.

3. Working of the Committee.—Fourteen meetings were held by the Committee during the year.

4. Mr. Tute has left the following note regarding the way in which members showed their interest in district road matters:—

"The attendance of members from the mofussil was not good, with the exception of Baboo Budhi Nath Chouduri. Those members who lived near were fairly regular in their attendance, but, I regret to say, there seemed a falling off in the attendance of the others. The work before the meetings was generally fairly discussed and an intelligent interest taken in it.

5. Working of the Cess Act.—The Cess Act worked efficiently during the year, as the gross collections have been 102·56 per cent. on the demand for the year. Unlike other taxes, the cess is paid without any hostile feeling towards it, as the people understand that the money paid by them is spent in the roads of the district.

6. Inspection of Offices.—The office of the Committee, and that of the District Engineer, were inspected by the Local Auditor, under the Examiner of the Local Accounts, Bengal, on the 27th February 1884, and his report of inspection was satisfactory.

7. Original Works.—The following original works have been executed during the year:—

(a) Turfing to the last seven miles of the Moorshedabad road, which remained unfinished at the close of the previous year.

(b) An approach road from the 10th mile of the Rungpore road to the railway station at Chirirbundur, constructed by the Northern Bengal State Railway engineers.

(c) The completion of a timber bridge of seven spans of 23 feet each over the Chuck Gouri stream on the Mahadebpore to Hapina road.

According to the instructions of the Divisional Superintendent of Works, old iron rails have been built into and used as beams supporting the roadway in this bridge. As the price of wood is very high, and there is great difficulty in obtaining good and sound timber for large beams, this plan of constructing bridges with a planked roadway seems excellent. Work on this road was undertaken from the Rajshahye boundary according to your instructions, and it is intended to build three more bridges on it during the current year.

8. Repairs.—The work on this head at first underwent considerable changes on account of the transfer of money to relief works on the south from the roads on the north and west of the district. But after the receipt of the additional grant for Rs. 5,000 from Government, the budget estimate was recast and the original budget almost restored, and, though late in the season, all the works provided for were finished by the end of the year.

9. The roads have, I am told, received great attention, and are improving every year. Besides building and ordinarily repairing temporary bridges on the various roads, two large timber bridges on masonry abutments and piers on the 12th and 39th miles of the Moorshedabad road, three on the 10th, 13th and 14th miles of the Gongarampore road, and one on the 12th mile of the Bogra road, have been supplied with a new planked roadway upon iron rails as beams. Two similar bridges on the 13th and 20th miles of the Maldah road have also been renewed, but with wooden beams only.

10. Village roads.—Various applications were received for village roads, and were attended to in almost all cases. In one instance money was entrusted to a private person for the repairs of the road in his village: the remainder of the work under this head has been done by the agency of the District Engineer.

11. Removal of obstructions to drainage.—Two passages, one on the 5th and the other on the 7th miles of the Moorshedabad road, one on the 7th mile of the Dinagepore to Hemtabad road, and one on the 24th mile of the Dinagepore to Patiram road, were opened out with pipe culverts, and the obstructions to drainage removed.

12. Tree plantation.—Besides taking care of the trees planted in previous years, new trees have been planted for nearly three miles on the Gongarampore road, three miles on the Patiram road, one and a half miles on the Moorshedabad road, one mile on the Rungpore road, about half a mile on the Bogra road, one mile on the Maldah road, and one and a half miles on the Purneah road.

13. Establishment.—Mr. Tute has left the following remarks regarding the working of the several establishments under the Committee:—

"The several establishments under the Committee—engineering, upper and lower subordinates, offices of collection and accounts, and that of the District Engineer—have worked fairly, with the exception of some of the subordinate engineering staff, especially the overseer at Kaliagunj. I think the working staff requires being held with a tighter hand."

14. Accounts.—The annual accounts were audited by the standing sub-committee on the 2nd December 1884, and laid before the special meeting of the committee held on the 19th instant.

Explanatory Memorandum to accompany the Annual Account for the cess year 1883-84.

RECEIPTS.

(1.) THE arrear outstanding at the close of the preceding year was collected in full during this year, hence the collection was larger than the amount budgeted for.

(2.) Nothing was estimated in the revised budget under this sub-head in accordance with instructions contained in paragraph 4 of Government Resolution No. 4124R.C., Public Works Department, dated 30th November 1883.

(3.) Under the Board's Circular Order No. 4 of June 1883, certificate proceedings were instituted in the current year for the realization of the road cess arrears against one or more selected share-holders of estates instead of all the share-holders, as was the practice in preceding years. Hence the amount realized under this head during the year was less than that estimated for.

(4.) The cause of the amount realized as interest on the arrear cess, being in excess of the amount budgeted for, is due to the fact that a larger amount of arrears was outstanding at the opening of the year than what had been calculated at the time of the submission of the budget estimate.

The arrears were collected in full, and consequently a larger amount of interest was realized.

EXPENDITURE.

(5.) Rupees 202-12-6 were paid as remuneration to copyist, and Rs. 11-1 refunded to parties for excess payment; whereas only Rs. 200-4 have been shown on the receipt side as income under this head. The reason for this excess payment is that a sum of Rs. 17-8-6 was paid to copyist in October 1883, whereas the amount was credited on the 28th and 29th September 1883.

(6.) Salary for the month of September 1884 was paid on the 23rd September 1884 on account of Doorga Poojah holidays, hence thirteen months' pay was drawn during the year.

(7.) Salary for the month of September was paid in September 1884 on account of Doorga Poojah holidays: hence the expenditure has exceeded the allotment.

(8.) The excess in expenditure under this heading is owing to the payment of a part of the demand for the previous year having been made during the year under report.

(9.) This work was undertaken by the Railway Department, but no bill for the work done has yet been received.

(10.) As the allotments for roads Nos. 36, 37, and 42 were not sufficient for their maintenance, nothing was spent on them.

(11.) The excess expenditure incurred on road No. 39 was owing to its having been a relief work; and when finally settling up the accounts of the work people it was found that the grant had been exceeded.

(12.) The expenditure on this head has exceeded that of the allotment owing to the fact that the salary for September was paid on the 23rd September on account of Doorga Poojah holidays, and that the journals of the District Engineer for June, July, and August 1883 were not received back from the Divisional Superintendent till November 1883. His travelling allowances for those months were paid during the year under report.

No. 102R.F., dated Beauleah, the 6th December 1884.

From—E. H. RUDDOCK, Esq., Magistrate and Chairman, District Road Cess Committee, Rajshahye,

To—The Commissioner of the Rajshahye Division.

I HAVE the honour to forward the accounts of income and expenditure of the district road fund for the cess year 1883-84, and to make the following remarks on the administration of the fund.

These accounts were examined by the sub-committee of audit and certified by them as correct. They were then laid before the special meeting held on the 12th ultimo, and passed by them under section 179 of the Bengal Cess Act.

The road cess was levied at the full rate of one-half anna in the rupee, and the cess collections during the year were satisfactory.

The year commenced with an opening balance of Rs. 22,324. The revenue collected during the year, including contributions from Government and the private parties, was Rs. 78,422. The receipts under the suspense head were Rs. 19,248. These made up a total of Rs. 1,20,004.

The expenditure on works, including dâk bungalow and drains, was Rs. 50,546, that on the several establishments and stationery Rs. 25,684, and under suspense Rs. 26,342, leaving a balance of Rs. 17,432 available for the current year.

Re-valuation.—The re-valuation of estates in the district for cess purposes was completed in September last at a cost of Rs. 10,356-12-10 to the Committee, viz. :—

	Rs.	A.	P.
In 1881-82	731	6	5
„ 1882-83	5,666	14	10
„ 1883-84	3,958	7	7

A third of this cost will be borne by Government, as per Government order No. 40, dated 17th March 1883.

The increase in revenue likely to accrue from the re-valuation is shown below :—

	Rs.
Estimated demand for the year 1884-85	77,865
Ditto ditto 1883-84	73,001
Increase	4,864

Meetings.—Five road cess meetings were held during the year, but the attendance of members at them was only sufficient to form a quorum, viz., at two of the meetings nine members presented themselves, and at each of the other three only seven members attended. The native non-official members have taken very little interest in road cess matters. The total attendance of 12 such members being only five in the five meetings. Of the zemindars, the Rajah of Dighaputtia used to take a lively interest in works of public utility, and the Committee desire to put on record their regret at the loss they have sustained through his sudden and unexpected death, which happened in December last.

Roads.—The road from Nowgong to Hapaniah hât, a feeder to the Sultanpore railway station, has been in course of construction since the cess year 1881-82. Two large iron and timber bridges were constructed on the road, and iron and timber materials for others were collected during the year under report.

New metalling was laid on three quarters of a mile of the Nattore road and on a mile of the Bya road : the latter has now been completely metalled.

Two masonry bridges on the Bogra road were renewed, and the others repaired.

Besides these permanent improvements, the roads were maintained in as good condition as the limited funds at the disposal of the Committee allowed.

Village Roads.—Village roads received greater attention this year than in previous years, a total sum of Rs. 7,588 being expended on them in the three sub-divisions of this district, against Rs. 6,144 in 1882-83 and Rs. 4,888 in 1881-82. With this amount some new permanent works were constructed, viz. a sluice gate at Jhogroor Doras, opening the mouth of the Narrail, and a bridge of 60 feet at Moondumalla, and in addition the condition of the existing roads was improved.

The Chairman of the Nattore Branch Committee, Baboo Taran Chandra Sarkar, and the sub-divisional officer of Nowgong, Baboo Rajendra Nath Ghose, showed considerable zeal in improving the roads in their respective sub-divisions.

Thanks of the Committee are due to Messrs. Gordon, Long, Morey, and Robertson, and to the District Superintendent of Police for undertaking the repairs of roads, and satisfactorily carrying them out.

Drains.—With a view to remove the stagnation of the Haja Naddi, and thereby to save the inhabitants, particularly in the neighbourhood of the Doorgapore outpost, from the ravages of the Asiatic cholera and frequently recurring intermittent fever prevalent on its banks, the Committee devoted a couple of thousands of rupees to clearing its inlets and outlets. The Haja was thus thoroughly flushed.

The zemindars of Puttia contributed Rs. 1,150 for deepening the Nandangatchee khal for flushing the bheels, and thereby improving the condition of their lands and the health of the villagers.

The District Engineer executed the work satisfactorily.

Arboriculture.—No new trees were planted this year, the Committee contenting themselves with maintaining the old ones.

Establishment.—Leaving aside the cost on re-valuation establishment as an extraordinary charge, the cost of establishment was as follows :—

	Rs.
Collection establishment, including cost of serving processes ...	3,454
Administration establishment	1,142
Percentage cost of establishment for offices of account and control	2,062
Public Works establishment	11,197
Total ...	17,855

This bears to the revenue a ratio of 22·77 : 100. The requirements of section 135 of the Act have therefore been complied with.

Working of the establishment.—The District Engineer, Mr. N. W. Mackenzie, continued to give satisfaction to the Committee during the year under report, and the rest of the establishment worked efficiently.

W. KUNON,
Vice-Chairman.

Remarks to accompany the Annual Accounts for the year 1883-84.

RECEIPTS.

Fees and Fines.—The short collections under this head is due to an adjustment of Rs. 1,304-10-6, in February 1884, in order to correct an error that crept into the treasury accounts in March 1882 and explained on the note submitted with the annual accounts of 1881-82.

Interest.—A long outstanding interest on arrears of Nushipore estate under the Court of Wards was realized this year. This has swelled the receipts under head "Interest."

Miscellaneous.—A rent of Rs. 177-10-6 was recovered by the Chairman of the Nattore Branch Committee of land on sides of the Dadapore village road.

Establishment, Cost of Re-valuation Office.—As the re-valuation was not completed before the end of the last cess year, a bill for a third of the total cost could not be presented to Government for payment.

EXPENDITURE.

Re-valuation Office.—The excess expenditure in re-valuation works has been met from the savings effected in the cess collection establishment.

Original Works.—Compensation for land acquired for the Gadagare Diversion road has not yet been paid, and hence the great saving under this head.

W. KUNON,
Vice-Chairman.

Reports of the work done and in progress during the cess year 1883-84, drawn up by the Vice-Chairman of the Road Cess Committee, Rungpore, under Section 178 of the Cess Act, IX of 1880.

I HAVE the honour to forward herewith the annnal accounts of the Rungpore District Road Fund for the cess year 1883-84, together with the report prescribed in section 178 of the Bengal Cess Act.

2. Audit of Accounts.—The accounts were submitted to the standing sub-committee appointed under section 174 of the Act for verification and certification under section 179, and have duly been passed by that body on the 18th November 1884.

3. Assessments and Collections.—The current demand of the year amounted to Rs. 1,23,445 and the arrear demand from last year Rs. 23,153, making a total or gross demand of Rs. 1,46,598 for realization. A sum of Rs. 1,33,023 has been realized during the year, leaving a balance of Rs. 13,575 uncollected at end of the year. Rupees. 8,478 has since been realized.

4. Working of the Road Cess Act.—The provisions of section 99 of the Act had to be enforced in many cases for the recovery of arrears, as the Deputy Collector in charge of road cess collections found the Certificate Act in practice to be dilatory and circuitous, and for this reason an establishment consisting of 11 cess collectors and 44 peons, with salaries varying from Rs. 30 to Rs. 60 per month, had to be appointed at an average cost of Rs. 700 per month for the collections of arrears, the cost being of course met from the amount realized as costs from the defaulting estates. This procedure has been adopted only against habitual defaulters, and I have reason to believe that when it becomes more widely known that habitual default will be dealt with in this penal manner, we shall every year find that we have to have less and less recourse to it.

5. Working of the Sudder and Branch Committees.—The number of meetings held by the Sudder Committee was seven, and the members attended in sufficient numbers to form and quorum, and took intelligent interest in the proceedings of the Committee. There are three branch committees, i. e., one at Gyebanda, one at Kurigram, and one at Nilphamaree. The Committee at Gyebanda met five times, that at Kurigram three times, and that at Nilphamaree nine times during the year. The non-official members at Kurigram and Nilphamaree took no interest whatever in their work. Steps should be taken to appoint new members in the places of those who failed to attend the required times, but it is very difficult to get qualified persons to serve on these sub-committees,

6. Inspection of Accounts.—The office was professionally inspected by the Auditor of Local Accounts, Bengal, in March last, and reported, with trifling remarks, to be satisfactory.

7. How the different establishments worked during the year.—On the whole, the different establishments on the collection of the cess, on the administration of the funds, and on the execution of works worked satisfactorily during the year under report. The special acknowledgment of the Committee is due to Baboo Asutosh Lahiri, District Engineer, for his energy in making substantial and permanent improvement on the roads and bridges at moderate rates.

8. Original Works and Repairs.—A sum of Rs. 32,150 was spent on original works. Five timber and two masonry bridges were completed at a cost of Rs. 18,380 against an estimate of Rs. 22,747. All the original works carried out during the year are on the whole substantial and good.

A large sum of Rs. 68,956 was expended on repairs. Out of the sum an expenditure of Rs. 21,310 was incurred in the renewal of metal on the main station and Tajhat roads, a length of upwards of six miles, and the works were nearly completed. The balance was spent chiefly on earthwork, surface repairs, cutting jungles, and in repairing masonry and temporary bamboo bridges on the district and village roads. A large number of glazed stoneware pipes were substituted for temporary bamboo bridges and small culverts, with exceptionally good results.

9. Village Roads.—A sum of Rs. 4,635 was spent on the improvement of village communications against Rs. 6,000 allotted in the year under report. Part of this sum was placed at the disposal of some of the respectable zemindars and cess-payers, and the balance distributed to the sub-divisional officers of Gyebanda, Kurigram and Nilphamaree for proper management. The work was done through official and non-official agency. Forty-three village tracks were improved, and the money appears to have advantageously been spent. The working agencies have shown considerable interest in the matter of village communications during the year under reference.

Tree-planting.—A nominal sum of Rs. 145 was expended on arboriculture. Upwards of 700 jack and mango trees have been planted on the sides of the Molatol, Cheelai-Ghoramara and Tajhat roads. The municipal garden lately abolished has been taken over by the Road Cess Committee to establish a nursery garden on a large scale for raising young trees of selected seedlings to plant out on the sides of the most important district roads.

11. State of the Roads.—On the whole, the roads are in good condition, though there is still much room for improvement. The roads were inspected by the Divisional Superintendent of Road Cess Works in February last, but the inspection report has not up to date been received.

SYAMA KUMUD MOOKERJEE,
Vice-Chairman.

Chairman's Report on Roads.—During the year I have driven over a considerable portion of the roads, and I consider this is about the best test to which they can be subjected.

I note the gradual disappearance of the old, broken, unsafe bamboo bridges and their replacemen by substantial permanent ones.

The main station road has been re-metalled entirely. The material put down was excellent and the consolidation carefully attended to. The consequence is that we now have a drivable road the whole length, of which we may well be proud.

RUNGPORE,
The 7th December 1884.

H. J. NEWBERY,
Chairman.

SYAMAKUMUD MOOKERJEE,
Vice-Chairman.

No. 27, dated Bogra, the 20th December 1884.

From—J. J. LIVESAY, Esq., Chairman, District Road Cess Committee, Bogra,
To—The Commissioner of the Rajshahye Division.

I HAVE the honour to submit the annual accounts and report of the District Road Fund operations for the cess year ending 30th September 1884.

2. The Cess Act has worked smoothly. The total cess collections were 101·2 per cent. on the current demand.

* * * * * * *

4. The District Road Fund and the District Engineer's offices were inspected by the Assistant Examiner of Local Accounts during the year, and the suggestions made by him were generally carried out.

5. The different establishments under the Committee worked on the whole fairly well. I should add here that an attempt at cheating the Committee of money, amounting to about Rs. 75, was made by a contractor, but fortunately the matter was disclosed by the District Engineer in time, and the contractor was criminally prosecuted and sentenced to four months' imprisonment.

6. As stated in my last year's report, the principal roads of the district are above high flood level and bridged. None of the roads are metalled, but most of them were easily driveable throughout the year, and many of them in a really good condition. Under sanction of Government as a relief measure, the Gohail-Durgapore road, 8¾ miles in length, was constructed, but not bridged. Provision has been made to make tál wood bridges on the same, and on their completion it will be a very useful road, as it passes through a tract of country where the communication was not difficult during the rains. All other minor roads were maintained during the year in excellent condition.

7. Rupees 1,180 were spent from the village road allotment on the following works :—

	Rs.
Road from Dhunat to Sherepore	250
Khas mehal	930
	1,180

Owing to the relief work in the distressed tract of the district, no money could be spent on village roads in the parts of the country where relief measures were not necessary.

8. A grant of Rs. 21,875-12 was sanctioned by Government for relief measures in this district, out of which Rs. 3,875-12 was allotted for compensation for acquisition of land of Gohail-Durgapore road, newly constructed. There is still a balance of Rs. 1,017 of so much mentioned remaining over for the Government grant for relief works.

9. Arboriculture.—During the last year young jack and mango trees were planted and protected on the sides of the Dinagepore, Sultanpore, Serajgunge, Nattore and Sheriakandy roads, so that at present the Dinagepore road up to 11th mile, Sultanpore road up to end of 26th mile, Serajgunge road up to 11½ mile, Nattore road up to near end of the 4th mile, and Sheriakandy up to end of 8th mile, are planted, and it is confidently expected that a very considerable income will be derived from selling the fruit.

10. In the current year's budget provision has been made for repairing, maintaining and improving all the existing roads of the district as far as the funds allow.

11. The District Engineer has been very successful in dealing with the roads of this district, which are in excellent condition. The District Engineer is fairly entitled to the credit for the satisfactory state of the district roads, as without his good work all the efforts of the supervising might not have obtained really satisfactory results.

G. C. MOOKERJEE,

Deputy Magistrate, for Chairman.

Audit Certificate.

I HEREBY certify that the books and accounts prescribed for the Road Cess office and for the office of the District Engineer, are duly kept up, and that they have been posted for the year 1883-84, and have been duly scrutinized by the sub-committee.

Aslo that the Treasury officer's abstracts of the account of the Committee for each month was duly received, checked with the cash and pass-books, and found to agree therewith (except in respect of uncashed cheques).

MOHENDRA NATH BATTACHARJEE,
Vice-Chairman.

No. 48D.R., dated Pubna, the 16th December 1884.

From—C. VOWELL, ESQ., Chairman, District Road Cess Committee, Pubna,
To—The Commissioner of the Rajshahye Division.

UNDER section 179 of the Cess Act, I have the honour to submit the Road Fund Annual Accounts and report for the cess year 1883-84.

2. The working of the Cess Act.—The Act has worked as in previous years without friction. As I have already stated in my report from the collection department, the certificate procedure entails much work and delay in the realization of cess.

3. Working of the District Committee.—There has been no meeting of the Committee since I have been Chairman. But I am told that the members take a lively and intelligent interest in the proceedings and afford efficient help in the deliberation of matters that come before them. Those members who reside at the sudder station are regular in their attendance, but those in the mofussil seldom attend.

* * * * * * * *

4. Working of the Branch Committee.—The Serajgunge Branch Road Cess Committee is a very influential and energetic body, and, as the sub-divisional officer reports, take considerable interest in the proceedings. The members occasionally express their dissatisfaction at the scope of their action being so circumscribed by shortness of funds. They have since a very long time been contending with commendable zeal for an equal share of the funds with the sudder being allotted to the Serajgunge sub-division, which the District Committee could not hitherto give, having in their hands the construction of the feeder road from Pubna to Sara. This year, now that the Sara road is out of their hands, the Committee have allotted more than half of the funds available to works in Serajgunge.

5. Original Works.—Under Original Works the Sara road only requires special mention. The big gap in the 4th mile of the road from Pubna was bridged. The aggregate waterway consists of 500 running feet. At the close of the year under report the communication from Pubna to Sara on the Northern Bengal State Railway might be said to be complete. But the last flood caused the destruction of one large bridge and injury to a smaller one. The work next in importance to the Sara feeder road, as provided for in the year's budget, was the construction of bridges on the Chundaikona road. The estimate for the work not having been sanctioned, the work could not be taken in hand.

6. Repairs.—All the roads and tracks in the district were repaired and kept in order so far as the funds permitted.

7. State of the roads as a whole, whether improved or deteriorated.—There does not appear to have been any marked deterioration or improvement in the state of the roads as a whole as compared with the last year. In this district the roads annually suffer more or less from the effects of the periodical inundation and the tracks are in many parts obliterated. So that just after the rains communication is difficult, there is a paucity of embanked roads in Serajguuge, and this could not be remedied, except at enormous cost on account of the lowness of the country. The committee have, however, resolved to devote all available funds now set free by the completion of the Sara Road towards the improvement of communication in Serajgunge.

8. Village roads.—The amount spent on village roads was Rs. 2,001. Of this Rs. 469 was for Pubna, and Rs. 1,632 for Serajgunge. The greater part of this amount was spent through the agency of the villagers. In the Serajgunge sub-division the people of Damira, Potagia and Foolkucha contributed Rs. 100, Rs. 200 and Rs. 250 respectively towards the construction and improvement of roads in those villages. The committee hope to spend a larger sum in the Pubna sub-division in future.

9. Planting of trees.—Trees were planted on the sides of the Serajgunge road, section I, and the Chatmohur road with bamboo gabions to protect them from cattle. Those planted in past years on other roads were looked after.

10. Audit and inspection of accounts.—The accounts of the district road fund and the District Engineer's offices were monthly audited by a standing sub-committee. The result was satisfactory. The accounts were not inspected by the Examiner of Local Accounts during the year.

WORKING OF ESTABLISHMENT.

11. Establishment for collection of cess.—This establishment, so far as I have been able to ascertain, has worked well.

Establishment of the Committee's office.—I have been only a short time in the district. But from what I have seen I am inclined to think that the establishment has worked with commendable zeal and energy.

Work establishment consists of a District Engineer and two sub-overseers, one for each sub-division.—I am not at present satisfied with either the rate of progress of repairs or the manner in which they are carried out.

Explanatory Notes on the Road Fund Annual Accounts for 1883-84.

THE increase of Rs. 10 in the expenditure under "establishment and contingencies of office of collection" as shown in the Annual Account over the amount shown against that head in the schedule of receipts and disbursements for September 1884, is due to the amount having been erroneously charged to "Original Works." The error has been rectified in the Annual Account by adjustment per contra. This also accounts for the similar decrease of Rs. 10 under "Original Works."

2. The increase of Rs. 11,864 and Rs. 300 in the allotments for "Original Works" and "Repairs" respectively, as shown in the column "amount as per budget estimate" of the Road Fund Annual Accounts for 1883-84, over the amounts shown under those sub-heads in the revised road fund budget estimate accepted by Government in Public Works Department No. 1738RC, of 21st May 1884, to the address of the Commissioner of the Rajshahye Division, is due to subsequent appropriations sanctioned in Commissioner's letters No. 90PWct., dated 10th July 1884, No. 97PWct. of 30th idem, and No. 87PW, dated 19th August 1884.

3. The other transfers are from one work to another under the same sub-head, and do not call for explanation.

PUBNA.
The 28th November 1884.

BHUGWAN CHUNDER BOSE,
Vice-Chairman, District Road Cess Committee.

No. 763, dated Darjeeling, the 9th February 1885.

From—The Chairman of the District Road Cess Committee, Darjeeling,
To—The Commissioner of the Rajshahye Division.

I HAVE the honour to forward the annual accounts of the District Road Fund for the cess year ending 30th September 1884 with the various statements prescribed.

2. The balance at credit of the fund on 1st October 1883 was Rs. 10,603-8. 0. The current demand for the year was Rs. 17,919, being Rs. 1,811 less than in the previous year. There was also an arrear demand of Rs. 1,075 for the year 1882-83, making a total gross demand of Rs. 18,994. Out of this demand Rs. 1,244 had been collected in advance during the previous years.

3. During the year under review out of the current demand sums of Rs. 16,083, and on account of the arrears Rs. 982 were collected. There was also a remission of Rs. 100.

4. Thus at the close of the year the balance of current demand was Rs. 592, and of arrears Rs. 93, total Rs. 685, less remission Rs. 100, net balance Rs. 585. This does not include Rs. 455 collected in advance for future years.

5. The reason of the decrease in the demand, viz. Rs. 1,811 is the reduction of cess on the Government cinchona lands and of the exemption of certain khas mehals. The revaluation of the district was completed before the commencement of the year.

6. The balance to the credit of the fund at the close of the year was Rs. 11,508-13-3.

7. During the year there were five meetings held at Darjeeling. The average attendance was 4 out of 8 officials, and 6 out of 18 non-officials.

8. The Terai Sub-Committee work under the general supervision of the District Committee. But in the first instance apportion among their own roads the lump sum set aside by the District Committee. There is little difficulty about the accounts which are submitted through the Sub-Divisional Officer, who also superintends the work in his portion of the district.

9. Very great assistance is given by the planter members of the Committee, and in many instances they supervise the expenditure of the grants made for repairs in their neighbourhood. In the hills this is invariably the case. In the absence of a District Engineer we have been hitherto entirely dependent on the planters and Tenduk Palger.

10. The list of district roads, which has been revised, contains 20 hill roads and 11 Terai roads. These are nearly all in a satisfactory condition.

11. Rupees 6,378-3-2 was spent on hill roads and Rs. 3,306-8-3, on Terai roads, making a total of Rs. 9,684-11-5. Besides this a sum of Rs. 3,106-1-7 was spent on village roads in the Terai. No expenditure was incurred on account of arboriculture, more important work having engaged the attention of the Committee.

12. Last year the Committee reported that they had engaged a District Engineer to plan and erect some important bridges over the hill streams. It was hoped that we would be able to utilize the Government grant of Rs. 20,000. Unfortunately the plans prepared by the Engineer did not meet the approval of the Superintending Engineer, and shortly after this the Engineer, Mr. G. D. Scott of Kurseong, resigned. He was appointed in July 1883 and worked till 23rd January 1884. The Committee then after various negociations, with the sanction of the Government, elected Baboo Gopal Lall Banerjee to the vacant post. The Baboo, who was stationed at Katmandu, has not yet been able to join his appointment, The whole work of bridging the hill streams is consequently at a standstill, and it is feared that the Committee may lose the benefit of the grant. Such an event would place the Committee at a serious disadvantage, and they hope that, under the circumstances, the grant will be continued for the next year. The work will perforce stand over, as nothing can be done in the valleys between April and October.

13. No difficulty has been experienced in the working of the Road Cess Act, except in the Terai, where a number of certificates have to be issued.

14. The establishment under the Deputy Collector is working satisfactorily, though delay in realization occurs in the Silligoree and Julpigoree offices. The road fund clerk has not yet passed the Government examination as Public Works, Accountant, and the Deputy Commissioner has so far refused to recommend his confirmation in his post.

15. The Road Fund Office was examined during the year by Mr. Larpent, the Examiner of Local Accounts, Bengal. The copy of the note, showing the result of the examination of the accounts, is hereto annexed.

Note on the accounts of the Darjeeling District Road Cess Committee.

THE accounts of the Darjeeling Road Cess Committee, from 1st March 1883 to 31st March 1884, have been examined, partly by myself and partly by the Local Auditor. The accounts up to 28th February 1883 were wholly examined by myself personally.

2. The accounts seem to be audited every month by a sub-committee appointed under section 174 of the Cess Act. A new sub-committee for audit was appointed at the meeting held on the 16th January 1884, consisting of the Vice-Chairman, the District Superintendent of Police, Captain Graham, Mr. A. C. Band and Mr. H. C. Bell. The sub-committee meets every month and the members who attend, and are present at the audit, are in the habit of signing the cash-book. The vouchers are said to be examined with the entries on the payment side of the cash book. Each item entered in the cash book is said to be compared with each item entered in the cash abstract, and the cash abstract is signed by the members of the sub-committee present.

3. The balance standing unadjusted at debit of the advance account on the 31st March 1884 amounted to Rs. 14,145-1-2, distributed amongst the following persons:—

I would once again draw the Committee's attention to the desirability of securing the more prompt adjustment of these advances.

The Branch Committee can by law be compelled to send in accounts regularly every month, and directions should be issued to that Committee, and to the various officials who receive advances, to submit accounts before the 10th of the month following that in which the advances were given. The gentlemen who gratuitously undertake the supervision of repairs might be urged to send in details of their expenditure more expeditiously than they seem in the habit of doing, and the item standing against the late District Engineer should be capable of immediate settlement.

A careful examination of these advance accounts was, at the request of the Chairman, made by the Local Auditor after I left from the 1st April 1879, and I believe now that the above represents a correct statement of the balance unadjusted. There is, however, still a difference of one pie in the balance as brought out from the books, and it occurs in the account of the Terai Branch Committee.

	Rs.	A.	P.
Balance unadjusted on 28th February 1883... ...	17,070	2	1

„ work done	23,986	3	2
Balance unadjusted on 31st March 1884				14,145	1	3

I would remind the Committee that the balance of an account is the arithmetical difference between the two sides of the account, and consequently that it cannot be altered by adding a sum to or subtracting a sum from the amount of the balance.

4. The deposit account showed a balance of Rs. 480-8-3 at credit on the 31st March 1884 This sum stood at credit of the Divisional Superintendent of Works appointed for the Rajshahye Division, and as Darjeeling is not one of the districts which contribute, under section 136 of the Act, towards the cost of that establishment, the amount should be refunded and the account closed.

I noticed that in the cash abstract for April 1883, a sum, paid to the Divisional Superintendent of Works, of Rs. 2,800-14-2 was debited to "Refunds" instead of to "Deposits."

Among the payments made to the Divisional Superintendent of Works, I noticed charges for travelling, and for the conveyance of chaprasis to and from Darjeeling. I am not aware if the orders of Government, passed in paragraph 6 of letter No. 1193T.F., dated 29th June 1883, to the Commissioner, are considered sufficient sanction for these charges. The sanction of the Government to the recurrence of these charges seems necessary.

Examiner of Local Accounts in Bengal.

F. TAYLOR,
for Chairman.

Explanatory Note to accompany the Annual Accounts.

Establishment of the Collection Office, of Committee Office, and Public Works Establishment.—The excess expenditure incurred over and above the budget allotment is due to the payment of salary of the establishments for September 1884 within the year—vide notification by the Accountant-General, Bengal, published in the Calcutta Gazette dated 3rd September 1884.

The excess over budget allotment against heading "purchasing court-fee stamps" for the collection office is chiefly due to a greater number of certificates being issued for the realization of the arrear cesses in the Terai during the year than last.

Original Works.—The following original works have not been taken up, as the plans and estimates for them were not duly prepared and sanctioned:—

Bridge over Balasun on road No. 11.
Do. over Rongbong on road No. 13.
Do. over Balasun at Namsoo on road No. 15.

Expenditure on account of the following was incurred:—

Bridge over little Rungit at Pulbazar on road No. 3.
Do. over Mohanudi on road No. 14.

The plans and estimates for the above bridges were sent up to Government for sanction. As it was intended to undertake these works before March 1884, the Committee purchased the necessary materials, collected stones, and began some preliminary works at a cost of Rs. 2,604 in anticipation of the Government sanction to the plans.

The following original works have not been executed during this year, but advances on account of them, made in previous years, were adjusted during this year:—

Bridge over Balasun at Dhooteria. | Bridge over Kyel river.
Naksulbari to Matigarah road.

The following original works were executed in the Terai during the year, out of the grant of Rs. 5,000 from one anna Cess Fund—vide Government No. 1055T.—R., dated 4th October 1883, communicated with the Commissioner's No. 678Rct., dated 1st November 1883:—

20. Naksalbari to Debigunge viâ Koribari. | 26. Adulpore to Sukna.
27. Khuprail to Hill cart road.

The provisions for the above works were made in the Terai budget at a meeting held on 25th July 1883, and duly passed by the District Committee at their meeting held on 27th July 1883; but through an oversight this was omitted in the budget submitted to the Commissioners.

Repairs.—The expenditure on some of the works under this head exceeded the original budget grants, but the extra cost was met from the savings under other items of repairs. In other cases in which excess expenditure is shown it occurred in the following way. The expenditure on works executed in the previous years were adjusted during the current year, and thus the expenditure appears to be in excess over the allotments provided in the budget of the year under report.

The advance made for the road from Bagdogra to Tirhana was refunded just before the close of the year. Hence no repairs were done on this road.

The following bridges were repaired during the year at a cost of Rs. 1,409-14-4, sanctioned by the Committee, after the preparation of the budget estimates in order to keep the traffic open during the rains :—

Bridge over Rongbong.
Do. over Little Rungit.
Bridge over Mohanudi.
Cane bridge over Great Rungit.

F. TAYLOR,
Vice-Chairman.

No. 53, dated Julpigoree, the 15th December 1884.

From—The Deputy Commissioner and Chairman of the District Road Cess Committee of Julpigoree,
To—The Commissioner of the Rajshahye Division.

IN accordance with the Government Circular No. 973 A, dated the 14th September 1880, I have the honour to submit herewith the annual accounts of income and expenditure of the Julpigoree District Road Fund, for the past cess year 1883—84 in duplicate, and to report as follows.

2. * * * There are no branch committees in the district.

3. Feeling of the people towards Road Cess.—The cess appears to be paid without much grumbling, but the people expect a quid pro quo, which, under existing circumstances, they do not always get. The income of the committee from road cess only is very insufficient for the requirements of the district, and there is no doubt that many important roads are in danger of suffering from interrupted communications owing to the state of bridges, which need large sums for their reconstruction or repairs, and for which funds are not forthcoming. At present there is a great demand for communications in the north of the district, which pays very little road cess, and complaints have reached me from farmers and others in the south and south-west of the district that money paid by them as road cess is being spent on roads to tea estates, while their own roads are neglected. There is undoubtedly a certain modicum of truth in these complaints.

4. State of Roads.—The general condition of the roads under the committee, specially of those that are important, was fair throughout the year. They were kept open for traffic as far as the limited funds at the disposal of the committee admitted. Permanent gangs of dhanger coolies were kept on all the main roads in the district, to get the petty repairs executed when needed, for keeping them in traffic order during the rains. Of the works undertaken by the committee during the year under report, the most important were, the construction of the permanent masonry bridges on the Boda to Domer via Debigunge road, and the high embankments on some parts of the Julpigoree to Damdim road. The embankments were made to protect the road from floods during the rains. Both of these roads are important railway feeders. As grants-in-aid towards their construction Government gave Rs. 11,000. (i. e. Rs. 6.000 for the Boda to Debigunge and Rs. 5,000 for the Julpigoree to Damdim roads) during the year under review.

5. Village Roads.—A sum of Rs. 1,675 was allotted in the budget estimate under the sub-head of "village roads," and a sum of Rs. 1,312-7-3 was expended during the year. Almost all the village roads provided for in the budget, were repaired.

6. Tree planting—Rupees 250 was allotted under this head, and Rs. 148-12-9 was expended. Nearly 300 (three hundred) sissoo, mango and jack trees have been planted during the year on the side of the Julpigoree to Alipore and the sudder station roads. They are thriving well and have been fenced round with strong bamboos to protect them from cattle. The Indian rubber trees planted on the side of the Julpigoree to Damdim road are also thriving well.

7. Work Establisbment—The establishment on work consists of one District Engineer, one overseer and two sub-overseers. They have worked fairly well, but in my opinion the best system has always been adopted for making the most of the very limited funds at their disposal. When they have a working balance to go upon which will be next year, I hope to see an improvement in this respect. Baboo Gogon Chandra Biswas appears active and energetic, and was highly thought of by my predecessor.

8. Committee's establishment.—The Establishment of the Committee consists of one head-clerk and accountant and one assistant clerk. The books and registers prescribed by Government, both for the offices of the Committee and the District Engineer, are kept by the accountant, as the latter has no separate accountant of his own. The headclerk and accountant is an intelligent officer and has pleased me so far by his works.

9. Inspection of the office.—The office was inspected by Baboo Jogendra Nath Banerjee, the local auditor under the Examiner of Local Accounts, Bengal, on the 13th September 1884. He found the prescribed books and registers, both for the offices of the Committee and the District Engineer, duly kept up. He noticed that on many occasions the monthly audit of accounts was conducted by two instead of three members forming the audit sub-committee and he objected to the practice of showing advances against the name of the Divisional Superintendent of District Works for his establishment charges. This practice has the sanction of Government, vide their letter No. 1143, dated the 18th October 1883.

10. Audit of Accounts.—The accounts of the committee are audited and passed monthly by a standing sub-committee, consisting of the Vice-Chairman and two other members of the committee. The annual accounts were passed by the sub-committee on the 27th November 1884, and by the general Committee held on the 29th November 1884.

11. Works proposed to be done during the following year.—There will be no such important original works in the following year as to require any comment under this head. This is partly owing to the retention of a working balance of nearly Rs.10,000 to be kept always in hand for prompt payments during the working season of the year and the matter has received Commissioner's approval vide his letter No. 116PWct., dated the 26th August 1884. The general repairs to all the principal roads under the Committee will be undertaken, and they will be maintained properly and kept in traffic order during the rains.

12. Explanation of excess expenditure over budget allotments.—The excess expenditure on establishments under the headings "Administration," "Public Works," and "Staging Bungalows" is due to the payment of salaries for the month of September 1884 during that month on account of the Doorga Poojah vacation under orders from the Accountant-General, Bengal. The repair works, which have exceeded their respective allotments, were of a very urgent nature.

PREO NATH BANERJEE,
Vice-Chairman, District Road Committee.

No. 41PWct., dated Darjeeling, the 11th June 1885.

From—LORD H. ULICK BROWNE, Commissioner of the Rajshahye Division,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Public Works Department.

I HAVE the honour to forward in original the district road fund annual accounts and reports of the several* districts of this division for the cess year 1883-84.

* Dinagepore. Rajshahye. Pubna. | Bogra. Rungpore. Julpigoree. Darjeeling.

2. The reports and accounts of the districts were received in my office in proper time, but some of them were incomplete, and the last letter from one district, correcting the annual account, was not received till 20th April 1885 ; hence much of the delay in the submission of the report.

3. Working of the Road Cess Act.—The working of the Act may be said to have been satisfactory on the whole during the year. The Collectors of Pubna and Rungpore complain that the certificate procedure entails much work and delay in the realization of cess (a matter which is always dealt with in the annual report on the collection of the cess sent to the Board of Revenue), and the Deputy Commissioner of Julpigoree reports that farmers and others in the south and south-west of the district complain that money paid by them as road cess is being spent on roads to tea estates in the north, which part of the district pays very little road cess, while their own roads are neglected. He states that there is undoubtedly a certain modicum of truth in these complaints, and I will enquire into them, as it may be that the Committee have felt a difficulty in refusing to grant for roads in the Dooars a sum equal to the liberal subscriptions of the tea-planters in that tract.

4. Working of the District Committees.—It is generally reported from all the districts that the members present at meetings take a lively and intelligent interest in the proceedings of the Committee. The Chairmen of Dinagepore and Pubna state that the members who reside at the sudder station are regular in attendance, but that mofussil members seldom attend, and the Chairman of Rajshahye says the native non-official members take very little interest in road cess affairs. In Darjeeling the planters continue to show considerable interest in the proceedings, and have assisted largely in the supervision of work.

5. Working of the Branch Committees.—In this division there are six Branch Committees.

The Serajgunge Branch Committee in the Pubna district is a very influential and energetic body, and the Sub-Divisional Officer of Serajgunge reports that the members take considerable interest in the proceedings.

The Branch Committees at Nattore in the Rajshahye district, Gyebanda in the Rungpore district, and at Silligori or the Terai in the Darjeeling district, did nothing particular during the year; and it is stated that the non-official members of the Branch Committees at Nelphamari and Kurigram in the Rungpore district took no interest whatever in their work.

6. Collection and Assessment.—The collection in all the districts of this division, excepting Dinagepore, was above 90 per cent. of the gross demand of the year. In Dinagepore it was 87·2.

The re-valuation work in Rajshahye was finished within the year at a cost of Rs. 10,357, resulting in an increase of Rs. 4,864 to the income of the Committee.

7. Receipts and Expenditure.—The year opened with a balance of Rs. 1,10,546 in the hands of the several Committees in the division, and the net receipts of the year, exclusive of "deposits" and "advances," aggregated Rs. 5,28,681. This latter sum included Rs. 71,081, the Government grant-in-aid, which was made up thus—Rs. 7,051 for one-third of collection establishment, Rs. 26,876 for relief works in the Dinagepore and Bogra districts, Rs. 11,155 for improvements in Government estates, and Rs. 26,000 to aid the Pubna and Julpigoree Committees in constructing and completing certain main roads.

The net disbursements of the year amounted to Rs. 5,23,756 against the budget allotment of Rs. 5,86,393.

8. Only 75 per cent. of the estimated amount was spent on original works. This short expenditure is owing to certain works in the Darjeeling district not receiving sanction, to the non-receipt of estimates for original works in the Pubna district, and to the non-payment of certain budgetted amount for compensation for land for a road diversion in the Rajshahye district. All the other original works budgetted for in the other districts were completed during the year. Ninety-seven per cent. of the estimated expenditure on repairs was incurred.

9. Original Works.—The following important original works were carried out in the division:—

On the feeder road from Sultanpore railway station to Mahadebpore, which passes through the districts of Bogra, Rajshahye and Dinagepore, a large timber bridge of 161 running feet was constructed by the Dinagepore Committee over the Chuk Gouri stream, and two large timber bridges were constructed by the Rajshahye Committee. By the end of the current year it is expected that nearly all the gaps on this important road will be permanently bridged.

The large gap in the fourth mile of the feeder road from Pubna to Sara railway station has been bridged, and through communication between the sudder station of Pubna and the Northern Bengal Railway established.

In Bogra an embanked road from Gohail to Doorgapore was constructed from the fund placed in the hands of the Committee by Government for relief works.

In Rungpore seven substantial timber and masonry bridges were constructed at a cost of Rs. 18,380 against an estimate of Rs. 22,747.

The most important original works carried out in the Julpigoree district were the construction of permanent masonry bridges on the road from Domer railway station to Boda vid Daybeegunge, and completing part of the embankment on the second section of the Julpigoree to Dalingkote road, both of these being important feeder roads.

No work of importance was carried out in Darjeeling. The construction of bridges over the hill streams could not be carried out, as the plans and estimates framed by Mr. Scott, the District Engineer, were not approved of, and shortly after Mr. Scott resigned his appointment.

10. Repairs and state of the Roads.—All the roads were repaired and maintained as far as the funds of the Committees permitted.

The general condition of the roads in this division was fair throughout the year, and they are gradually improving in Dinagepore, Bogra and Rungpore. In the Pubna district the roads annually suffer more or less from the effects of inundation, and the tracks are in many parts nearly obliterated, so that just after the rains communication is difficult.

11. Village Roads.—The following table shows the estimated and actual expenditure on village roads during the year, as contrasted with the actuals of the preceding year :—

DISTRICT.	1883-84.		Actuals of 1882-83.
	Estimated.	Actual.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Dinagepore	3,000	2,388	3,169
Rajshahye	8,000	7,588	6,144
Pubna	3,300	2,101	886
Bogra	2,000	868	3,056
Rungpore	4,645	4,635	4,649
Julpigoree	1,515	1,312	1,080
Darjeeling	1,000	3,106	2,360
Total ...	23,460	21,998	21,344

Village roads received more attention in the Rajshahye district, and some new permanent works were constructed under this heading, viz. a sluice gate at Jhogroo Dara, and the opening out of the mouth of the Narud.

12. Drainage.—This also received as much of the attention of the Committees during the year under report as their limited funds allowed, and some fairly substantial work was done under this head by the Rajshahye Committee.

The stagnation of the Hoja Nuddee was the cause of many preventible diseases in the villages situated on its banks, and the Rajshahye Committee thoroughly flushed it with Ganges water during the year at a cost of Rs. 1,983.

With the contribution of Rs. 1,150 by the zemindars of Pooteah, the Committee deepened the Nandangachee khal, and thereby enabled Ganges river water to reach the interior and flush many bheels.

13. Arboriculture.—New trees were planted by the sides of roads in all the plains districts of this division, excepting Rajshahye, and the trees that were planted in previous years were properly taken care of, and are now thriving. It is expected by the Bogra Committee that a considerable income will be derived by them from the fruit of these trees in a few years' time.

14. Establishments.—The expenditure on the different establishments, exclusive of the pay and travelling allowances of the Divisional Superintendent of Works, was 21 per cent. of the net aggregate income of all the Committees in the division taken together. It will be a little less in the current year, as the re-valuation work in Rajshahye is completed.

The percentage of the year under report has also risen a little higher owing to the establishment charges for September 1884 being paid within the month on account of the Doorga Poojah holidays commencing before October 1st.

The establishment in all the districts are reported to have worked well during the year.

The Chairman of Bogra mentions favourably the District Engineer, Baboo Ambika Churn Bose, and states that he is fairly entitled to credit for the very satisfactory state of the district roads. The Chairman of Rungpore reports that the special acknowledgment of the Committee is due to Baboo Ashootosh Lahiri, District Engineer, for his energy in making substantial and permanent improvements on the roads at moderate rates.

Mr. G. D. Scott, who was appointed District Engineer of Darjeeling, and joined his appointment in July 1883, resigned it in January 1884, and the new District Engineer, Baboo Gopal Lal Banerjee, did not join his appointment within the year.

15. The total expenditure on account of the pay, travelling allowance, and contingent charges of the Divisional Superintendent of Works during the year amounted to Rs. 16,768, or 3·4 per cent. of the expenditure in all the districts of this division, with the exception of Darjeeling, which does not contribute towards the cost of the Divisional Superintendent of Works.

Mr. Beatty has continued to supervise works and advise the Committees and District Engineers with great benefit to the cess payers.

Calcutta Port Trust.

GUARANTEED DEBENTURE LOAN, 1885.

The Calcutta Port Improvement Act, V of 1870 (B.C.), and the amending Acts, and the Act to enable the Commissioners for making Improvements in the Port of Calcutta to construct Docks at Kidderpore, Act II (B.C.) of 1885. Issue of seventy-five lakhs of Rupees, 4½ per cent. debentures, having a currency of not less than forty years. Interest guaranteed by the Secretary of State for India in Council until such time as the loan is repaid.

TENDERS are invited for a loan of seventy-five lakhs of rupees at 4½ per cent. interest upon debentures to be issued under the provisions of Act II (B.C.) of 1885 to provide for the construction, equipment, maintenance, and management of the docks at Kidderpore, such loan having been sanctioned by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council by notification published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 22nd July 1885, Part I, page 717, the payment of interest thereon being secured by the guarantee of the Secretary of State for India in Council until such time as the loan is repaid.

The debentures will be for sums of Rs. 100 each, or multiples of Rs. 100, as may be desired, made payable to order, and carrying interest at the rate of 4½ per cent. per annum, payable half-yearly on the 1st day of January and 1st day of July at the office of the Port Commissioners upon presentation of the debentures. Twenty-five per cent. of the amount tendered for to be paid on 1st October, 25 per cent. on 1st November, and the balance on 1st December 1885, into the Bank of Bengal. Any allotment may, however, be paid in full at the option of the tenderer upon receipt of letter of allotment, and interest will run on such payments from the date of the Bank's receipts. The Bank of Bengal's receipts for the payments should be forwarded to the Port Commissioners, who, upon the receipt of the acknowledgment for the final instalment, will issue the debentures for the amount allotted in such sums as the holders of the receipts may desire. Arrangements will be made, if required, to enface debentures issued under this loan for payment of interest in England by drafts on India.

Tenders in the prescribed form should be filled up and forwarded in sealed covers superscribed "Tender for Port Trust Dock Loan, 1885," to the Secretary to the Port Commissioners before noon of Wednesday, the sixteenth day of September 1885, accompanied by either Government Promissory Notes equal in value to, or a receipt from the Bank of Bengal for, 2 per cent. upon the amount of each debenture applied for.

The deposit of 2 per cent. will be returned if an allotment is not made, and it will be forfeited if an allotment after being made is not fully taken up.

In case a less number of debentures is allotted than is applied for, the excess of the deposit will be applied in or towards payment of the balance due upon such number as may be allotted.

The tenders will be opened in the presence of the Port Commissioners. The minimum rate at which tenders will be accepted will be recorded under the signature of the Chairman and before the tenders are opened, but will not be made public unless some tender is rejected only because it is below the recorded minimum.

Forms of tender can be obtained on application to the Secretary to the Port Commissioners, and the form of debenture can be seen at the office of the Secretary. A separate tender must be made for each rate.

R. A. DONNITHORNE, Secretary.
Port Commissioners' Office, dated 23rd July 1885.

Notes on Forestry,

BY C. F. AMERY,

Deputy Conservator, Forests, N.-W. Provinces.

THIS little work, published with the approval of the Government of India, treats of the general principles of forest management in all its branches, and is recommended not only to forest officers, but to all who are interested in the progress of forest management in this country.

May be obtained of Messrs. King, King & Co., Bombay, and of Messrs. Wyman & Co., Calcutta. Price Rs. 3-8, or including postage, Rs. 4. Or of the publishers, Messrs. Trübner & Co., Ludgate Hill, London. Price five shillings.

Notice

THE following Reports of the Bengal Meteorological Department, issued by orders by the Government of Bengal, can be supplied to the public at the prices annexed:—

1*st.*—Bay of Bengal Daily Report giving observations taken at 17 stations on or near the coast of the Bay, with a chart and summary. This is published in connection with the Calcutta Storm Signal Service. The report giving 10 A.M. observations of the day is distributed by peon in Calcutta after 4 P.M. Price to subscribers in Calcutta, Rs. 2 per mensem.

2*nd.*—Bengal Daily Report containing observations taken at 30 meteorological stations, and transmitted to Calcutta by weather telegrams, with a brief summary of the weather in Bengal during the preceding 24 hours. The report giving the 10 A.M. observations of each day is printed in time for the evening mail. This report for the present will only be published during the south-west monsoon, i.e. from May, 15th, to November, 15th. Price Rs. 2-8 per mensem, including postage.

3*rd.*—A Weekly and Monthly Statement of Meteorological Observations taken at 38 observing stations, and of rainfall recorded at 160 sub-divisional stations, together with summaries of the more important features of the meteorology of the past week or month of the province, and of the distribution of the rainfall and its variation from the normal. Price of the Weekly Report, including postage, Rs. 6 per annum, payable in advance, and of the Monthly Summary Report, Rs. 2 per annum, payable in advance.

Subscriptions payable to the Meteorological Reporter to the Government of Bengal for the Bay of Bengal Daily Report, and to the Accountant and Treasurer, Bengal Secretariat, for the other reports.

JOHN ELIOT,

Meteorological Reporter to the Govt. of Bengal.
Meteorological Office, Bengal, the 3rd July 1885.

INDIAN LAW REPORTS.

Advertisements will be received for publication on the wrappers of the Indian Law Reports, Calcutta Series, by the Calcutta Central Press Company, "Limited," 5-1, Council House Street, at the following rates, payable in advance:—

The Indian Law Reports,

Published under Authority.

THE Indian Law Reports, published under the authority of the Governor-General in Council, appear in monthly parts, published as soon as possible after the first of each month at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad, and comprise four series—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court. The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court are reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court are reported in the Calcutta Series.

The Calcutta Series is distributed by the Bengal Secretariat; the copies for subscribers registered by Messrs. Thacker, Spink & Co., are distributed by that firm; and the Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad Series are distributed direct from Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad respectively.

In supersession of the previous advertisements, on and from the 1st January 1885, the terms of subscription and sale will be as follows:—

Terms of subscription payable annually in advance.

For the complete series, including postage, Rs. 22-8.

	Without postage.	With postage.
For the Calcutta Series ...	Rs. 10 0	Rs. 12 8
,, each of the Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad Series ...	,, 6 0	,, 7 0

Acts of the Governor General's Council assented to by the Governor General.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[Third publication.]

The following Act of the Governor-General of India in Council received the assent of His Excellency the Governor-General on the 22nd July, 1885, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT NO. XII OF 1885.

An Act to amend the law relating to the carriage of passengers by sea.

WHEREAS by section 99 of an Act of the Imperial Parliament called "The Passengers Act, 1855," it is enacted that "it shall be lawful for the Governor-General of India in Council, from time to time, by any Act or Acts to be passed for that purpose, to declare that this Act or any part thereof shall apply to the carriage of passengers upon any voyage, from any ports or places within the territories of British India, to be specified in such Act or Acts, to any other places whatsoever, to be also specified in such Act or Acts;" and it is thereby also enacted that "on the passing of such Indian Act or Acts, and whilst the same shall remain in force, all such parts of this Act as shall be adopted therein shall apply to and extend to the carriage of passengers upon such voyages as in the said Indian Act or Acts shall be specified. The provisions of such Indian Act shall be enforced in all Her Majesty's possessions in like manner as the provisions of this Act may be enforced;"

And whereas certain parts of the said Act of Parliament were by Act II of 1860 (to amend the law relating to the carriage of passengers by sea) made applicable to the carriage of passengers upon certain specified voyages;

And whereas by an Act of the Imperial Parliament called "The Passengers Act Amendment Act, 1863," certain parts of the Passengers Act, 1855, which were so made applicable, have been amended, and it is provided that the said Acts of the Imperial Parliament shall be construed together as one Act;

And whereas it is expedient that the amendments so made in the Passengers Act, 1855, should also be made in the parts of that Act so made applicable, and it is also expedient to apply those parts so amended to the carriage of passengers upon certain voyages not specified in Act II of 1860;

It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Indian Sea Passengers Act, 1885; and

(2) It shall come into force on the first day of October, 1885.

Repeal of Act II of 1860.

2. On and from the day on which this Act comes into force, Act II of 1860 (to amend the law relating to the carriage of passengers by sea) shall be repealed.

Certain provisions of the Statutes made applicable to specified voyages from India.

3. The provisions contained in sections 4, 5 and 6 of this Act, and the schedule hereto annexed (being parts of the Passengers Act, 1855, as amended by the Passengers Act Amendment Act, 1863), are declared applicable to the carriage of passengers upon the following voyages, namely :— 18 & 19 Vic., c. 119. 26 & 27 Vic c. 51.

(a) voyages from the ports of Calcutta, Madras and Bombay to the British Colonies of Mauritius, Jamaica, British Guiana, Trinidad, St. Lucia, Grenada, St. Vincent, Natal, St. Kitts, Nevis and Fiji;

(b) voyages from the ports of Calcutta, Madras and Bombay to the French Colonies of Réunion, Martinique, Guadeloupe and its dependencies, and Guiana;

(c) voyages from the ports of Calcutta, Madras and Bombay to the Netherlands colony of Dutch Guiana;

(d) voyages from the ports of Calcutta, Madras and Bombay to the Danish colony of St. Croix;

(e) voyages under the Native Passenger Ships Act, 1876, from Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, Karáchí, Rangoon and other ports in British India to the Straits Settlements, to the protected Native States adjoining the Straits Settlements, to Australia, and to ports in the Red Sea, Gulf of Aden or Persian Gulf and on the East Coast of Africa. VIII of 1876.

4. If the passengers or cabin-passengers upon any such voyage as is specified in the last preceding section are taken off from the ship carrying them or are picked up at sea from any boat, raft or otherwise, it shall be lawful, if the port or place to which they are conveyed is in any of Her Majesty's colonial possessions, for the Governor of such colony, or for any person authorized by him for the purpose, or, if in any foreign country, for Her Majesty's Consular Officer at such port or place therein, to defray all or any part of the expenses thereby incurred.

Governors or Consuls may pay expenses of passengers taken off passenger-ship.

5. If any passenger or cabin-passenger of any such passenger-ship as aforesaid, without any neglect or default of his own, finds himself within any colonial or foreign port or place other than that for which the ship was originally bound, or at which he, or the Emigration Agent, or any public officer or other person on his behalf, has contracted that he should land, it shall be lawful for the Governor of the colony, or for any person authorized by him for the purpose, or for Her Majesty's Consular Officer at the foreign port or place, as the case may be, to forward the passenger or cabin-passenger to his intended destination, unless the master of the ship, within forty-eight hours of the arrival of such passenger or cabin-passenger, gives to the Governor or Consular Officer, as the case may be, a written undertaking to forward or carry on within six weeks thereafter the passenger or cabin-passenger to his original destination, and unless the master accordingly forwards or carries him on within that period.

Governors or Consuls may send on passengers, if the master of the ship fail to do so.

6. (1) All expenses incurred under the last two preceding sections, or either of them, by or by the authority of a Governor or Consular Officer, or other person as therein respectively mentioned, including the cost of maintaining the passengers and cabin-passengers until forwarded to their destination, and of all necessary bedding, provisions and stores, shall become a debt to Her Majesty and Her successors from the owner, charterer and master of the ship, and shall be recoverable from them, or from any one or more of them, at the suit and for the use of Her Majesty, in like manner as in the case of other Crown debts.

Expenses incurred under sections 4 and 5 to be a Crown debt.

(2) A certificate in the form given in the schedule hereto annexed, or as near thereto as the circumstances of the case will admit, purporting to be under the hand of any such Governor or Consular Officer (as the case may be), stating the total amount of the expenses, shall, in any suit or other proceeding for the recovery of the debt, be received in evidence without proof of the handwriting or of the official character of the Governor or Consular Officer, and shall be deemed sufficient evidence of the amount of the expenses, and that the same were duly incurred;

nor shall it be necessary to adduce on behalf of Her Majesty any other evidence in support of the claim, but judgment shall pass for the Crown, with costs of suit, unless the defendant specially pleads and duly proves that the certificate is false or fraudulent, or specially pleads and duly proves any facts showing that the expenses were not duly incurred:

Provided, nevertheless, that in no case shall any larger sum be recovered on account of the expenses than a sum equal to twice the total amount of passage-money received or due to and recoverable by or on account of the owner, charterer or master of the passenger-ship or any of them from or on account of the whole number of passengers and cabin-passengers who may have embarked in the ship; which total amount of passage-money shall be proved by the defendant if he will have the advantage of this limitation of the debt; but if any such passengers are forwarded or conveyed to their intended destination under the provisions of the last preceding section, they shall not be entitled to the return of their passage-money, or to any compensation for loss of passage.

7. No policy of assurance effected in respect of any passages or of any passage or compensation money by any person by this Act made liable in the events aforesaid to provide those passages or to pay that money, or in respect of any other risk under this Act, shall be deemed invalid by reason of the nature of the risk or interest sought to be covered by the policy of assurance.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

THE following Report on the Bill to amend the law relating to the carriage of passengers by sea was presented to the Council of the Governor-General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 8th July, 1885 :—

We, the undersigned, Members of the Select Committee to which the Bill to amend the law relating to the carriage of passengers by sea was referred, have considered the Bill and the papers noted in the margin, and have now the honour to submit this our Report.

From Officiating Secretary to Chief Commissioner, British Burma, No. 304—5M.S., dated 13th February, 1885 [Paper No. 1].
From Secretary to Government, Bengal, No. 409, dated 19th February, 1885, and enclosures [Papers No. 2].
From Chief Secretary to Government, Madras, No. 486J., dated 20th February, 1885, and enclosures [Papers No. 3].
From Under Secretary to Government, Bombay, No. 753, dated 28th February, 1885, and enclosures [Papers No. 4].
From Officiating Registrar, High Court, Calcutta, No. 1018, dated 27th March, 1885 [Papers No. 5].

2. The papers contain several suggestions both by officials and by commercial bodies which might be well worthy of consideration if the question were one as to the amendment of the English Passengers Acts, but which, having regard to the conditions under which we are now proceeding, it is beyond our power to entertain.

Acting, as we are, under the 99th section of the 18 & 19 Vic., c. 119, which is recited in the preamble to the Bill, we are restricted to applying to the voyages here in question the provisions of the English Passengers Acts as they stand; and if we were to introduce any modifications in the substance of those provisions, we should in all probability fail to secure for our Act the effect referred to at the end of the preamble, namely, that its provisions "shall be enforced in all Her Majesty's possessions in like manner as the provisions" of the English Passengers Acts.

3. Thus, we have no power to adopt the suggestion of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce that we should amend section 5 of the Bill so as to compel a Colonial Governor or Consular Officer to accept an undertaking to forward passengers offered by the owner, charterer or agent of a ship. We may observe, however, that, having regard to the definition of "master" in the Passengers Acts, and to the duties of a master of a wrecked ship, the contingency of there being no master of a wrecked ship, which this amendment was intended to meet, is one likely to be of very rare occurrence.

Moreover, as the Governor or Consular Officer is not compelled to act under the section, but has a discretion in the matter, there can be little doubt that in the case put he would accept the undertaking of the owner, charterer or agent.

4. Similarly, it would be beyond our powers, even if we thought it desirable to do so, to adopt the suggestion of the Madras Chamber that a shipowner should be relieved of the liability imposed by section 6 of the Bill in cases in which the ship is prevented from completing her voyage by the act of God or the Queen's enemies.

It appears to us, however, that the risk involved is one which should be provided against by insurance; and, in order to remove all doubt as to the possibility of so providing against it we have introduced into the Bill a section (7) similar to section 55 of the Passengers Act, 1855, expressly legalizing such insurances.

5. The Government of Bombay draw attention to the want of a provision like section 14 of the Passengers Act Amendment Act, 1863, to meet the case of passengers who may be left in British India owing to their ship being wrecked before she leaves the territorial waters, or who may be brought back to British India owing to their ship being wrecked or disabled after proceeding some short distance on her voyage. We are disposed to agree in thinking some such provision desirable, but the extraordinary powers under which we are now acting are not needed for its enactment, and we think the matter could be more conveniently dealt with in our Native Passengers and Emigration Acts, where we should be free to mould the law as we think fit to suit local requirements.

6. We have, at the suggestion of Brigadier-General Blair, the Political Resident at Aden, amended section 3 (c) so as to extend the Bill to voyages to ports on the East Coast of Africa and in the Gulf of Aden.

7. We have also made such amendments as were necessary to render it clear that the Bill extends, as the English Acts do, to cabin passengers.

The Indian Telegraph Act, 1885.

(Part I.—Preliminary.—Sections 1-3.)

(Part II.—Privileges and Powers of the Government.—Sections 4-7.)

An Act to amend the law relating to Telegraphs in India.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the law relating to telegraphs in India; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

PART I.

PRELIMINARY.

Short title, local extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Indian Telegraph Act, 1885.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India, and, so far as regards subjects of Her Majesty, to the dominions of Princes and States in India in alliance with Her Majesty; and

(3) It shall come into force on the first day of October, 1885.

Repeal and savings. 1 of 1876.

2. The Indian Telegraph Act, 1876, is hereby repealed.

But all licenses granted and rules made under that Act or any Act thereby repealed, and now in force, shall, so far as they could be granted or made under this Act, be deemed to have been respectively granted and made hereunder.

Definitions.

3. In this Act, unless there is something repugnant in the subject or context,—

(1) "Telegraph" means an electric, galvanic or magnetic telegraph, and includes appliances and apparatus for transmitting or making telegraphic, telephonic or other communications by means of electricity, galvanism or magnetism:

(2) "Telegraph officer" means any person employed either permanently or temporarily in connection with a telegraph established, maintained or worked by the Government or by a person licensed under this Act:

(3) "Message" means any communication sent by telegraph, or given to a telegraph officer to be sent by telegraph or to be delivered:

(4) "Telegraph line" means a wire or wires used for the purpose of a telegraph, with any casing, coating, tube or pipe enclosing the same, and any appliances and apparatus connected therewith for the purpose of fixing or insulating the same:

(5) "Post" means a post, pole, standard, stay, strut or other above-ground contrivance for carrying, suspending or supporting a telegraph line:

(6) "Telegraph authority" means the Director General of Telegraphs, and includes any officer empowered by him to perform all or any of the functions of the telegraph authority under this Act:

(7) "Local authority" means any municipal committee, district board, body of port commissioners or other authority legally entitled to, or entrusted by the Government with, the control or management of any municipal or local fund.

PART II.

PRIVILEGES AND POWERS OF THE GOVERNMENT.

Exclusive privilege in respect of telegraphs, and power to grant licenses.

4. Within British India, the Governor-General in Council shall have the exclusive privilege of establishing, maintaining and working telegraphs:

Provided that the Governor-General in Council may grant a license, on such conditions and in consideration of such payments as he thinks fit, to any person to establish, maintain or work a telegraph within any part of British India.

Power for Government to take possession of licensed telegraphs and to order interception of messages.

5. (1) On the occurrence of any public emergency, or in the interest of the public safety, the Governor-General in Council or a Local Government, or any officer specially authorised in this behalf by the Governor-General in Council, may—

(a) take temporary possession of any telegraph established, maintained or worked by any person licensed under this Act; or

(b) order that any message or class of messages to or from any person or class of persons, or relating to any particular subject, brought for transmission by or transmitted or received by any telegraph, shall not be transmitted, or shall be intercepted or detained, or shall be disclosed to the Government or an officer thereof mentioned in the order.

(2) If any doubt arises as to the existence of a public emergency, or whether any act done under sub-section (1) was in the interest of the public safety, a certificate signed by a Secretary to the Government of India or to the Local Government shall be conclusive proof on the point.

Power to establish telegraph on land of Railway Company.

6. Any Railway Company, on being required so to do by the Governor-General in Council, shall permit the Government to establish and maintain a telegraph upon any part of the land of the Company, and shall give every reasonable facility for working the same.

Power to make rules for the conduct of telegraphs.

7. (1) The Governor-General in Council may, from time to time, by notification in the Gazette of India, make rules consistent with this Act for the conduct of all or any telegraphs established, maintained or worked by the Government or by persons licensed under this Act.

(2) Rules under this section may provide for all or any of the following, among other matters, that is to say:—

(a) the rates at which, and the other conditions and restrictions subject to which, messages shall be transmitted;

(b) the precautions to be taken for preventing the improper interception or disclosure of messages;

(c) the period for which, and the conditions subject to which, telegrams and other documents belonging to, or being in the custody of, telegraph officers shall be preserved; and

The Indian Telegraph Act, 1885.
(Part II.—Privileges and Powers of the Government.—Sections 8-9.)
(Part III.—Power to place Telegraph Lines and Posts.—Sections 10-15.)

(d) the fees to be charged for searching for telegrams or other documents in the custody of any telegraph officer.

(3) When making rules for the conduct of any telegraph established, maintained or worked by any person licensed under this Act, the Governor-General in Council may by the rules prescribe fines for any breach of the same:

Provided that the fines so prescribed shall not exceed the following limits, namely:—

(i) when the person licensed under this Act is punishable for the breach, one thousand rupees, and in the case of a continuing breach a further fine of two hundred rupees for every day after the first during the whole or any part of which the breach continues;

(ii) when a servant of the person so licensed, or any other person, is punishable for the breach, one-fourth of the amounts specified in clause (i).

Revocation of licenses.

8. The Governor-General in Council may, at any time, revoke any license granted under section 4, on the breach of any of the conditions therein contained, or in default of payment of any consideration payable thereunder.

Government not responsible for loss or damage.

9. The Secretary of State for India in Council shall not be responsible for any loss or damage which may occur in consequence of any telegraph officer failing in his duty with respect to the receipt, transmission or delivery of any message; and no such officer shall be responsible for any such loss or damage, unless he causes the same negligently, maliciously or fraudulently.

PART III.

POWER TO PLACE TELEGRAPH LINES AND POSTS.

Power for telegraph authority to place and maintain telegraph lines and posts.

10. The telegraph authority may, from time to time, place and maintain a telegraph line under, over, along or across, and posts in or upon, any immoveable property:

Provided that—

(a) the telegraph authority shall not exercise the powers conferred by this section except for the purposes of a telegraph established or maintained by the Government, or to be so established or maintained;

(b) the Government shall not acquire any right other than that of user only in the property under, over, along, across, in or upon which the telegraph authority places any telegraph line or post; and

(c) except as hereinafter provided, the telegraph authority shall not exercise those powers in respect of any property vested in or under the control or management of any local authority, without the permission of that authority; and

(d) in the exercise of the powers conferred by this section, the telegraph authority shall do as little damage as possible, and, when it has exercised those powers in respect of any property other than that referred to in clause (c), shall pay full compensation to all persons interested for any damage sustained by them by reason of the exercise of those powers.

Power to enter on property in order to repair or remove telegraph lines or posts.

11. The telegraph authority may, at any time, for the purpose of examining, repairing, altering or removing any telegraph line or post, enter on the property under, over, along, across, in or upon which the line or post has been placed.

Provisions applicable to Property vested in or under the Control or Management of Local Authorities.

Power for local authority to give permission under section 10, clause (c), subject to conditions.

12. Any permission given by a local authority under section 10, clause (c), may be given subject to such reasonable conditions as that authority thinks fit to impose, as to the payment of any expenses to which the authority will necessarily be put in consequence of the exercise of the powers conferred by that section, or as to the time or mode of execution of any work, or as to any other thing connected with or relative to any work undertaken by the telegraph authority under those powers.

Power for local authority to require removal or alteration of telegraph line or post.

13. When, under the foregoing provisions of this Act, a telegraph line or post has been placed by the telegraph authority under, over, along, across, in or upon any property vested in or under the control or management of a local authority, and the local authority, having regard to circumstances which have arisen since the telegraph line or post was so placed, considers it expedient that it should be removed or that its position should be altered, the local authority may require the telegraph authority to remove it or alter its position, as the case may be.

Power to alter position of gas or water pipes or drains.

14. The telegraph authority may, for the purpose of exercising the powers conferred upon it by this Act in respect of any property vested in or under the control or management of a local authority, alter the position thereunder of any pipe (not being a main) for the supply of gas or water, or of any drain (not being a main drain):

Provided that—

(a) when the telegraph authority desires to alter the position of any such pipe or drain it shall give reasonable notice of its intention to do so, specifying the time at which it will begin to do so, to the local authority, and, when the pipe or drain is not under the control of the local authority, to the person under whose control the pipe or drain is;

(b) a local authority or person receiving notice under clause (a) may send a person to superintend the work, and the telegraph authority shall execute the work to the reasonable satisfaction of the person so sent.

Disputes between telegraph authority and local authority.

15. (1) If any dispute arises between the telegraph authority and a local authority in consequence of the local authority refusing the permission referred to in section 10, clause (c), or prescribing any condition under section 12 or in consequence of the telegraph authority

The Indian Telegraph Act, 1885.
(Part IV.—Penalties.—Sections 20-21.)

omitting to comply with a requisition made under section 13, or otherwise in respect of the exercise of the powers conferred by this Act, it shall be determined by such officer as the Local Government may appoint either generally or specially in this behalf.

(2) An appeal from the determination of the officer so appointed shall lie to the Local Government; and the order of the Local Government shall be final.

Provisions applicable to other Property.

Exercise of powers conferred by section 10, and disputes as to compensation, in case of property other than that of a local authority.

16. (1) If the exercise of the powers mentioned in section 10 in respect of property referred to in clause (d) of that section is resisted or obstructed, the District Magistrate may, in his discretion, order that the telegraph authority shall be permitted to exercise them.

(2) If, after the making of an order under sub-section (1), any person resists the exercise of those powers, or, having control over the property, does not give all facilities for their being exercised, he shall be deemed to have committed an offence under section 188 of the Indian Penal Code.

XLV of 1860.

(3) If any dispute arises concerning the sufficiency of the compensation to be paid under section 10, clause (d), it shall, on application for that purpose by either of the disputing parties to the District Judge within whose jurisdiction the property is situate, be determined by him.

(4) If any dispute arises as to the persons entitled to receive compensation, or as to the proportions in which the persons interested are entitled to share in it, the telegraph authority may pay into the Court of the District Judge such amount as he deems sufficient or, where all the disputing parties have in writing admitted the amount tendered to be sufficient or the amount has been determined under sub-section (3), that amount; and the District Judge, after giving notice to the parties and hearing such of them as desire to be heard, shall determine the persons entitled to receive the compensation or, as the case may be, the proportions in which the persons interested are entitled to share in it.

(5) Every determination of a dispute by a District Judge under sub-section (3) or sub-section (4) shall be final:

Provided that nothing in this sub-section shall affect the right of any person to recover by suit the whole or any part of any compensation paid by the telegraph authority, from the person who has received the same.

Removal or alteration of telegraph line or post on property other than that of a local authority.

17. (1) When, under the foregoing provisions of this Act, a telegraph line or post has been placed by the telegraph authority under, over, along, across, in or upon any property, not being property vested in or under the control or management of a local authority, and any person entitled to do so desires to deal with that property in such a manner as to render it necessary or convenient that the telegraph line or post should be removed to another part thereof or to a higher or lower level or altered in form, he may require the telegraph authority to remove or alter the line or post accordingly:

Provided that, if compensation has been paid under section 10, clause (d), he shall, when making the requisition, tender to the telegraph authority the amount requisite to defray the expense of the removal or alteration, or half of the amount paid as compensation, whichever may be the smaller sum.

(2) If the telegraph authority omits to comply with the requisition, the person making it may apply to the District Magistrate within whose jurisdiction the property is situate to order the removal or alteration.

(3) A District Magistrate receiving an application under sub-section (2) may, in his discretion, reject the same or make an order, absolutely or subject to conditions, for the removal of the telegraph line or post to any other part of the property or to a higher or lower level or for the alteration of its form; and the order so made shall be final.

Provisions applicable to all Property.

Removal of trees interrupting telegraphic communication.

18. (1) If any tree standing or lying near a telegraph line interrupts, or is likely to interrupt, telegraphic communication, a Magistrate of the first or second class may, on the application of the telegraph authority, cause the tree to be removed or dealt with in such other way as he deems fit.

(2) When disposing of an application under sub-section (1), the Magistrate shall, in the case of any tree in existence before the telegraph line was placed, award to the persons interested in the tree such compensation as he thinks reasonable, and the award shall be final.

Telegraph lines and posts placed before the passing of this Act.

19. Every telegraph line or post placed before the passing of this Act under, over, along, across, in or upon any property, for the purposes of a telegraph established or maintained by the Government, shall be deemed to have been placed in exercise of the powers conferred by, and after observance of all the requirements of, this Act.

PART IV.

PENALTIES.

Establishing, maintaining or working unlicensed telegraph or breaking condition of license.

20. If any person establishes, maintains or works a telegraph within British India, otherwise than as permitted by a license granted under section 4, or breaks any condition contained in such a license, he shall be punished with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees, and with a further fine which may extend to five hundred rupees for every week during which the line is maintained or worked or the breach of the condition continues.

Using such telegraphs.

21. If any person, knowing or having reason to believe that a telegraph has been established or is maintained or worked in contravention of this Act, transmits or receives any message by such telegraph, or performs any service incidental thereto, or delivers any message for transmission by such telegraph or accepts delivery of any message sent thereby, he shall be punished with fine which may extend to fifty rupees.

The Indian Telegraph Act, 1885.

(Part IV.—Penalties.—Sections 22-32.)

(Part V.—Supplemental Provision.—Section 33.)

Opposing establishment of telegraphs on railway land.

22. If a Railway Company, or an officer of a Railway Company, neglects or refuses to comply with the provisions of section 6, it or he shall be punished with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees for every day during which the neglect or refusal continues.

Intrusion into signal-room, trespass in telegraph office or obstruction.

23. If any person—

(a) without permission of competent authority, enters the signal-room of a telegraph office of the Government, or of a person licensed under this Act, or

(b) enters a fenced enclosure round such a telegraph office in contravention of any rule or notice not to do so, or

(c) refuses to quit such room or enclosure on being requested to do so by any officer or servant employed therein, or

(d) wilfully obstructs or impedes any such officer or servant in the performance of his duty, he shall be punished with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees.

Unlawfully attempting to learn contents of messages.

24. If any person does any of the acts mentioned in section 23 with the intention of unlawfully learning the contents of any message, or of committing any offence punishable under this Act, he may (in addition to the fine with which he is punishable under section 23) be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to one year.

Intentionally damaging or tampering with telegraphs.

25. If any person, intending—

(a) to prevent or obstruct the transmission or delivery of any message, or

(b) to intercept or to acquaint himself with the contents of any message, or

(c) to commit mischief, damages, removes, tampers with or touches any battery, machinery, telegraph line, post or other thing whatever, being part of or used in or about any telegraph or in the working thereof, he shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to three years, or with fine, or with both.

Telegraph officer or other official making away with or altering, or unlawfully intercepting or disclosing, messages, or divulging purport of signals.

26. If any telegraph officer, or any person, not being a telegraph officer but having official duties connected with any office which is used as a telegraph office,—

(a) wilfully secretes, makes away with or alters any message which he has received for transmission or delivery, or

(b) wilfully, and otherwise than in obedience to an order of the Governor General in Council or of a Local Government, or of an officer specially authorised by the Governor General in Council to make the order, omits to transmit, or intercepts or detains, any message or any part thereof, or otherwise than in pursuance of his official duty or in obedience to the direction of a competent Court, discloses the contents or any part of the contents of any message, to any person not entitled to receive the same, or

(c) divulges the purport of any telegraphic signal to any person not entitled to become acquainted with the same,

he shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to three years, or with fine, or with both.

Telegraph officer fraudulently sending messages without payment.

27. If any telegraph officer transmits by telegraph any message on which the charge prescribed by the Government, or by a person licensed under this Act, as the case may be, has not been paid, intending thereby to defraud the Government or that person, he shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to three years, or with fine, or with both.

Misconduct.

28. If any telegraph officer, or any person not being a telegraph officer but having official duties connected with any office which is used as a telegraph office, is guilty of any act of drunkenness, carelessness or other misconduct whereby the correct transmission or the delivery of any message is impeded or delayed, or if any telegraph officer loiters or delays in the transmission or delivery of any message, he shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to three months, or with fine which may extend to one hundred rupees, or with both.

Sending fabricated message.

29. If any person transmits or causes to be transmitted by telegraph a message which he knows to be false or fabricated, he shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to three years, or with fine, or with both.

Retaining a message delivered by mistake.

30. If any person fraudulently retains, or wilfully secretes, makes away with or detains a message which ought to have been delivered to some other person, or, being required by a telegraph officer to deliver up any such message, neglects or refuses to do so, he shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to two years, or with fine, or with both.

Bribery.

31. A telegraph officer shall be deemed a public servant within the meaning of sections 161, 162, 163, 164 and 165 of the Indian Penal Code; and in the definition of "legal remuneration" contained in the said section 161, the word "Government" shall, for the purposes of this Act, be deemed to include a person licensed under this Act. XLV of 1860.

Attempts to commit offences.

32. Whoever attempts to commit any offence punishable under this Act shall be punished with the punishment herein provided for the offence.

PART V.

SUPPLEMENTAL PROVISION.

Power to employ additional police in places where mischief to telegraphs is repeatedly committed.

33. (1) Whenever it appears to the Local Government that any act causing or likely to cause wrongful damage to any telegraph is repeatedly and maliciously committed in any place, and that the employment of an additional police-force in that place is thereby rendered necessary, the Local Government may send such additional police-force as it thinks fit to the place, and employ the same therein so long as, in the opinion of that Government, the necessity of doing so continues.

(2) The inhabitants of the place shall be charged with the cost of the additional police-force, and the District Magistrate shall, subject to the orders of the Local Government, assess the proportion in which the cost shall be paid by the inhabitants according to his judgment of their respective means.

(3) All moneys payable under sub-section (2) shall be recoverable either under the warrant of a Magistrate by distress and sale of the moveable property of the defaulter within the local limits of his jurisdiction, or by suit in any competent Court.

(4) The Local Government may, by order in writing, define the limits of any place for the purposes of this section.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

THE following Report on the Bill to facilitate the construction of Telegraphs, and to amend the Indian Telegraph Act, 1876, was presented to the Council of the Governor-General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 8th July, 1885 :—

We, the undersigned, Members of the Select Committee to which the Bill to facilitate the construction of Telegraphs, and to amend the Indian Telegraph Act, 1876, was referred, have considered the Bill and the papers noted in the margin, and have now the honour to submit this our Report.

From Officiating Registrar, High Court, Calcutta, No. 2609, dated 15th September, 1884 [Paper No. 1].
From Secretary to Chief Commissioner, Coorg, No. 807—111, dated 13th September, 1884 [Paper No. 2].
From Officiating Secretary to Chief Commissioner, British Burma, No. 771-18L., dated 26th September, 1884, and enclosures [Papers No. 3].
From Officiating Secretary to Chief Commissioner, Assam, No. 1536, dated 27th September, 1884, and enclosures [Papers No. 4].
From Chief Commissioner, Ajmer-Merwara, No. 842, dated 3rd October, 1884 [Paper No. 5].
From Officiating Secretary to Government, North-Western Provinces and Oudh, No. 1057—VII-276-24, dated 7th October, 1884, and enclosures [Papers No. 6].
From Secretary for Berar to Resident, Hyderabad, No. 359G., dated 9th October, 1884 [Paper No. 7].
From Chief Secretary to Government, Madras, No. 2541, dated 6th October, 1884, and enclosures [Papers No. 8].
From Officiating Secretary to Government, Punjab, No. 911, dated 23rd October, 1884, and enclosures [Papers No. 9].
From Assistant Secretary to Chief Commissioner, Central Provinces, No. 5183—240, dated 5th November, 1884 [Paper No. 10].
From Under-Secretary to Government, Bombay, No. 7782, dated 7th November, 1884, and enclosures [Papers No. 11].
From Secretary to Government, Bengal, No. 1461T.—R., dated 23rd October, 1884, and enclosures [Papers No. 12].
Extract, paragraph III, from Proceedings of the Meerut Association, No. 18, dated 16th November, 1884 [Paper No. 13].
Telegram from Secretary to Government, North-Western Provinces and Oudh, dated 13th December, 1884 [Paper No. 14].

2. We are of opinion that it would be for the convenience of the Telegraph Department and the public that Act I of 1876 should be repealed and re-enacted with most of the modifications and additions proposed by the Bill as introduced. We have accordingly re-drawn the Bill as a consolidating measure.

3. Objection having been taken to licensees being entrusted with the powers with which it was proposed to invest them as telegraph authorities, we have defined "telegraph authority" to mean the Government Telegraph Department (section 3, clause (6)), and provided that that authority shall not exercise the power of placing telegraph lines and posts except for the purposes of a telegraph established or maintained by the Government or to be so established or maintained (section 10).

4. We have also amended the definition of "local authority" so as to make that expression include a cantonment authority and clearly exclude any commercial association however incorporated (section 3, clause (7)).

5. In declaring, in section 4, the exclusive privilege of the Government to extend to establishing, maintaining and working telegraphs, and in empowering the Government to grant licenses to establish, maintain or work telegraphs, we formulate what is, and has always been understood to be, the existing law, and at the same time avoid the necessity of using the words "lease" and "lessee" which were introduced into the Bill of last year (section 13). A lease is a license to work a line established and maintained by the Government, and a lessee is the holder of such a license.

6. By section 7, sub-section (2), clause (b), we propose to give the Government the power of requiring licensees to provide for the seclusion of telegraph instruments at all offices open for the receipt of public messages. Clauses (c) and (d) of the same sub-section have been suggested to us by correspondence that has been placed at our disposal by the Public Works Department of the Government of India, respecting applications from time to time made by private persons to the Telegraph Department for the preservation of telegrams.

7. Most of the objections that were taken to the Bill as introduced, chiefly by commercial bodies in Calcutta, will, it is believed, have been met by our proposal that the power of placing telegraph lines and posts shall only be exercised by the Government Telegraph Department for the purposes of telegraphs established or maintained by the Government.

8. In section 11 we have, following a recent English Act, proposed to empower the telegraph authority to enter at any time on property for the purpose of examining, repairing, altering or removing any telegraph line or post that has been placed on it.

9. In section 14 we have adhered to the provisions of the English Act (26 & 27 Vic., c. 112, sections 6 and 8), though in practice the officers of the Telegraph Department will doubtless arrange for the alteration of the position of any pipe or drain being carried out by the authority having control of it.

10. In section 15 we have provided, on the suggestion of the Government of Bombay, that disputes between the telegraph authority and local authorities shall be determined by a local officer whose decision will be subject to appeal to the Local Government.

11. In section 16, sub-sections (1) and (2), we have provided for recourse being had by the telegraph authority to the District Magistrate where the exercise of the powers conferred on that authority is resisted. We have also provided in this section, sub-section (4), in accordance with the suggestion of the Government of Bombay, that the telegraph authority may pay compensation into Court where any dispute arises as to the persons entitled to receive it.

12. We have met the objections that were taken to section 10 of the Bill as introduced by providing in section 17 of the present Bill that a person desiring the removal or the alteration of the position of a telegraph line or post shall tender the cost of the removal or alteration in those cases only in which compensation has been paid by the telegraph authority, and that in those cases he shall not be required to tender more than half the sum that was paid to him as compensation.

13. By section 18 we have proposed to provide for the removal by order of a Magistrate of trees interrupting or likely to interrupt telegraphic communication. A somewhat similar provision in the case of trees dangerous to railways is contained in the Regulation of Railways Act, 1868 (31 & 32 Vic., c. 119, section 24).

14. By section 26 we propose to subject a person who is not a telegraph officer, but has official duties connected with an office which is used as a telegraph office, to the same penalty as that to which a telegraph officer is liable for secreting or altering telegrams or unlawfully intercepting or disclosing them. Many post offices in India are now used as telegraph offices, and we consider that postal officials should be restrained by penalty, as they are under the English Telegraph Act of 1868, from abusing such opportunities as they may have of becoming acquainted with the contents of telegraphic messsages.

Bills introduced into the Council of the Governor General for making Laws and Regulations, or published under Rule 22.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[Third publication.]

The following Bill was introduced into the Council of the Governor-General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 22nd July, 1885, and was referred to a Select Committee :—

No. 13 OF 1885.

A Bill to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1882, the Bombay District Police Act, 1867, the Indian Penal Code and the Prisoners' Act, 1871.

1882. Act X of 1860. 1871

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1882, the Bombay District Police Act, 1867, the Indian Penal Code and the Prisoners' Act, 1871; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Code of Criminal Procedure, 1882.

1. In the last paragraph of section 31 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1882, for the words "any sentence of imprisonment for a term exceeding three years" the words "any sentence of transportation or imprisonment for a term exceeding four years" shall be substituted.

1882. Amendment of section 31 of the Code of Criminal Procedure.

2. For section 34 of the same Code the following shall be substituted, namely :—

Substitution of new section for section 34.

"34. The Court of a District Magistrate, specially empowered under section 30, may pass any sentence authorized by law, except a sentence of death or of transportation for a term exceeding seven years or of imprisonment for a term exceeding seven years; but any sentence of transportation or imprisonment for a term exceeding four years shall be subject to confirmation by the Sessions Judge."

3. In section 88 of the same Code, after the words "District Magistrate" the words "or Chief Presidency Magistrate" shall be inserted.

Amendment of section 88.

4. In section 110 of the same Code, for the words "Sub-divisional Magistrate or Magistrate of the first class" the words "or Sub-divisional Magistrate or a Magistrate of the first class" shall be substituted.

Amendment of section 110.

5. In section 173 of the same Code, the following shall be substituted for the second paragraph, namely :—

Amendment of section 173.

"Where a superior officer of Police has been appointed under section 158, the report shall, if the accused has been released on his bond under section 169, be submitted through that officer, and he may, pending the orders of the Magistrate, direct the officer in charge of the police-station to make further investigation."

6. In section 266 of the same Code, for the word and figures "section 307" the words and figures "sections 276 and 307" shall be substituted.

Amendment of section 266.

7. (1) For the third paragraph of section 401 of the same Code the following shall be substituted, namely :—

Amendment of section 401.

"If any condition on which a sentence has been suspended or remitted by the Governor-General in Council or the Local Government is not fulfilled, the Governor-General in Council or the Local Government, as the case may be, may cancel the suspension or remission, and thereupon the person in whose favour the sentence has been suspended or remitted may, if at large, be arrested by any Police-officer without warrant and remanded to undergo the unexpired portion of the sentence."

(2) After the third paragraph of the same section the following shall be inserted, namely :—

"The condition on which a sentence is suspended or remitted under this section may be one to be performed by the person in whose favour the sentence is suspended or remitted, or one independent of his will."

New section to follow section 475

8. After section 475 of the same Code the following shall be inserted, namely :—

"475A. The Governor-General in Council may direct that any person whom the Local Government has ordered under this chapter to be confined in a lunatic asylum, jail or other place of safe custody, shall be removed from the place where he is confined to any lunatic asylum, jail or other place of safe custody in British India."

Power of Governor-General in Council to order removal of criminal lunatics from one province to another.

9. In section 510 of the same Code, for the words "the Chemical Examiner or Assistant Chemical Examiner to Government" the words "a Chemical Examiner to Government" shall be substituted

Amendment of section 510.

New section to follow section 541.

10. After section 541 of the same Code the following shall be inserted, namely :—

"541A. (1) If any person liable to be imprisoned or committed to custody under this Code is in confinement in a civil jail, the Court or Magistrate ordering the imprisonment or committal may direct that the person be removed to a criminal jail.

Removal to criminal jail of accused or convicted persons who are in confinement in civil jail, and their return to the civil jail.

"(2) When a person is removed to a criminal jail under sub-section (1), he shall, on being released therefrom, be sent back to the civil jail, unless either—

"(a) three years have elapsed since he was removed to the criminal jail, in which case he shall be deemed to have been discharged from the civil jail under section 342 of the Code of Civil Procedure; or

XIV of 1882.

"(b) the Court which ordered his imprisonment in the civil jail has certified to the officer in charge of the criminal jail that he is entitled to be discharged under section 341 of the Code of Civil Procedure."

XIV of 1882.

11. In Schedule II of the same Code, between the two lines of entries against section 211 of the Indian Penal Code the following shall be inserted, namely :—

Removal from one jail to another in territories under Local Government.

X of 1

16. After the second paragraph of section 31 of the same Act the following shall be inserted, namely :—

Addition to section 31.

"In any case in which the Local Government is competent under this section to order the removal of a prisoner to a lunatic asylum or other fit place of safe custody within the territories subject to its administration, the Governor General in Council may order his removal to any lunatic asylum or other fit place of safe custody in any part of British India, and the provisions of this section respecting the custody, detention, remand and discharge of a prisoner removed by order of the Local Government shall, so far as they can be made applicable, apply to a prisoner removed by order of the Governor-General in Council."

17. For section 32 of the same Act the following shall be substituted, namely :—

Substitution of new section for section 32.

"32. When any person is, or has been, sentenced to imprisonment by any Court, or, in default of giving security for maintaining good behaviour, has been committed to, or is detained in, prison under section 123 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1882, the Governor-General in Council may order his removal during the period for which he has been sentenced to imprisonment or the security has been ordered to be given, as the case may be, from the jail or place in which he is confined to any other jail or place of imprisonment in British India."

Removal of prisoners from territories under one Local Government to territories under another.

X of 1882.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE object of this Bill is to correct certain minor defects in the criminal law which have been brought to the notice of the Government of India during the three years which have elapsed since the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1882, was passed.

The following are the reasons for each of the proposed amendments.

Section 1.—An Assistant Sessions Judge may pass a substantive sentence of transportation for any term not exceeding seven years under section 121A or section 124A of the Indian Penal Code, or a substituted sentence of transportation for a term not less than seven years under section 59 of that Code. But only sentences of imprisonment for a term exceeding three years are declared subject to confirmation by the Sessions Judge. The omission to require that certain sentences of transportation as well as of imprisonment should be subject to confirmation was clearly an oversight. It is now proposed to correct the omission, and, in accordance with the opinion of the Hon'ble the Chief Justice and Judges of the Bombay High Court, to extend to four years the term of transportation or imprisonment which an Assistant Sessions Judge may award without the sentence being subject to confirmation. Under section 35 of the Code a first class Magistrate can pass an aggregate sentence of imprisonment for four years which is subject only to appeal.

Section 2.—A District Magistrate specially empowered under section 30 may, under the provisions of section 59 of the Indian Penal Code, pass a sentence of transportation for seven years, instead of awarding sentence of imprisonment (9 Sutherland's Weekly Reporter, Criminal Rulings, 6). Such a substituted sentence of transportation should be subject to confirmation by the Sessions Judge.

As section 34 now stands, an aggregate sentence of imprisonment for four years passed by a District Magistrate specially empowered under section 30 is subject to the confirmation of the Sessions Judge, while such a sentence passed by one of his subordinates exercising the powers of a first class Magistrate is subject only to appeal. It seems desirable, therefore, as recommended by the Bombay High Court in the case of Assistant Sessions Judges, to extend to four years the term of imprisonment which a District Magistrate may award under section 34 without the sentence being subject to confirmation.

The difference between the powers of the Assistant Sessions Judge and those of a Magistrate specially empowered under section 30 being thus very trifling, it has been thought best to put the latter on precisely the same footing as the former, and section 34 has accordingly been re-cast.

Section 3.—This section is intended to correct an oversight in the drafting of section 88. Section 10 of the Code confines the term "District Magistrate" to the Magistrate of a district outside a Presidency-town.

Sections 4 and 12.—The object of these sections is to make it clearer than section 110 and Schedule III now do that Sub-divisional Magistrates have power, without being specially empowered by the Local Government in that behalf, to require security for good behaviour from habitual offenders.

Section 5.—This section will restore the practice that obtained while the Code of 1872 was in force. Under that Code police-reports under section 125 were submitted through the superior officer of police appointed under section 117, but those under section 127 were submitted direct to the Magistrate.

Section 6.—This section will remove a doubt which has been expressed as to whether High Courts other than those referred to in section 266 can make rules under the Code regarding the manner in which jurors shall be chosen by lot.

Section 7.—It would seem that the only sort of condition on which suspension or remission of sentence may now be granted under section 401 is a potestative condition, that is to say, a condition to be performed by the convict and dependent on his will. This limitation may prove inconvenient, and sometimes prevent the release of convicts who might otherwise be set at large.

Section 8.—The object of this section is to give the Governor-General in Council the same powers in regard to the removal of persons confined under Chapter XXXIV of the Code as he possesses under section 32 of the Prisoners' Act, 1871, in the case of persons under sentence of imprisonment. It is desirable that, by whatever Local Government criminal lunatics may have been ordered to be confined, they should be confined wherever the most suitable accommodation has been provided for the custody of such persons.

Section 9.—This section is suggested by I. L. R. 10 Cal. 1026. The effect of it will be that a Local Government may appoint as many Chemical Examiners as it thinks fit. All must be gazetted as "Chemical Examiners" and must sign as such; but they can, for departmental purposes, be graded or distinguished from one another in such manner as the Local Government desires.

Section 10.—The power of a Criminal Court to order the transfer from the civil jail to the criminal jail of a civil prisoner against whom a criminal charge is made having been questioned in the Bombay Presidency, the Local Government asked the High Court whether that Court could make a rule conferring the power. In reply the Hon'ble the Chief Justice and Judges stated that they were very doubtful whether they had authority to make any valid rule on the subject, and advised that, if the conferment of the power was deemed necessary, recourse should be had to legislation.

It appears to the Government of Bombay and to the Government of India that the power should be conferred, and the object of this section is to confer it.

At the same time, in order that the rights given to decree-holders by the existing law may not be interfered with, it has been provided that the prisoner shall ordinarily be sent back to the civil jail when his detention under the orders of the Criminal Court has ceased.

Section 11.—Under the Code of 1872 the offence, under section 211 of the Indian Penal Code, of making a false charge of an offence with intent to injure, was triable by the Court of Session exclusively when the offence charged was punishable with imprisonment for seven years or upwards. While the Bill which became the Code of 1882 was under consideration, the Select Committee determined, on the suggestion of a Sessions Judge, that Magistrates of the first class should be empowered to deal with cases under section 211 when the offence charged was punishable with imprisonment for seven years, cases where the offence charged was punishable with imprisonment for a term exceeding seven years continuing to be exclusively triable by the Court of Session. The entry in the second column of Schedule II, in the second line of entries against section 211, was altered accordingly; but the additional entries which it is proposed by section 11 of this Bill to insert in Schedule II will make still clearer the alteration which the Select Committee intended to effect.

Section 13.—The last nine words of section 24, Act V of 1861, were repealed by Schedule I of the Code of 1882. Through an oversight the same words in section 23, Bombay Act VII of 1867, remained unrepealed and are still in force (I. L. R. 8 Bombay 534). It is now proposed to repeal them.

Section 14.—It is proposed by this section to substitute for section 225A of the Indian Penal Code a section that will cover not only the case there provided for, but the cases which section 651 of the Code of Civil Procedure was intended to meet, and others, such as those referred to in I. L. R. 8 Cal. 331 and 7 All. 67, for which no provision has hitherto been made.

Section 15.—The exigencies of prison administration occasionally necessitate the transfer from one jail to another within the same province of persons who have been imprisoned in default of giving security for keeping the peace or maintaining good behaviour.

Section 30 of the Prisoners' Act only provides for the transfer of persons sentenced to imprisonment. "Sentence" seems to imply an antecedent conviction for an offence, and persons who are imprisoned for default in furnishing security are not persons who have been so convicted.

Section 16.—The object of this section, as of section 8, is to empower the Governor-General in Council to send prisoners of unsound mind to the part of India where persons in their condition are likely to be best cared for.

Section 17.—It occasionally happens that members of criminal tribes, while on marauding expeditions in other provinces than that in which they have their homes, are arrested, ordered to give security for good behaviour, and imprisoned in default of giving it. In such cases it seems proper that the prisoners should ordinarily be sent back to the district from which they came, instead of being released in a district which may be hundreds of miles distant from their homes and where dishonesty might be their only possible means of subsistence.

THE Annual Report on the Administration of Jails in Bengal for 1884 was not received from the Inspector-General until the end of June. The delay in submission is ascribed by the Inspector-General to the late receipt by him of returns from the Bhagulpore Central Jail, at which jail he was obliged to weaken the staff at a critical time by deputing an officer to fill a vacancy elsewhere. Unless this transfer and the consequent delay in submission of the returns were wholly unexpected and unavoidable, the Lieutenant-Governor must express his regret that the Inspector-General was not more careful to comply with the orders repeatedly issued for the punctual submission of Administration Reports.

2. No administrative changes of any importance were made in the management of the Jail Department. Owing to a partial failure of crops, and to the distress among the poorer classes thereby occasioned in some places, the steady decrease noticed in preceding years in the daily average number of prisoners was checked, and the number of convicts remaining in jail at the close of 1884 was slightly greater than at the end of 1883. There was an improvement in the general health of the prisoners, and in the number and percentage of deaths. The state of discipline among the prisoners was apparently less satisfactory than in 1883. The number of offences against prison discipline largely increased. Of the severer forms of punishment for jail offences, sentences of flogging slightly, and those of solitary confinement with reduced diet very greatly, decreased. The punishments inflicted increased, however, on the whole, largely. The accommodation for juvenile offenders in reformatory schools, though perhaps not yet sufficient, was considerably extended. In the cost of jail administration, excluding the expenditure on new jails, additions, alterations and repairs, there was some increase owing chiefly to the rise in the cost of provisions and to a larger expenditure on clothing. The expenditure of the Public Works Department on jail buildings shows a large decrease owing partly to the completion of several important works and partly to deficiency of funds. While the average earnings of the prisoners employed on jail manufactures somewhat decreased, owing chiefly to the general depression of trade throughout the country, the amount of total net cash earnings of the prisoners remained almost stationary. The results of the jail administration were on the whole fairly satisfactory.

3. The following table shows the statistics of convicts in the jails during the year compared with the previous seven years :—

The number of convicts directly admitted during the year increased by more than 7 per cent., viz. from 29,763 to 32,034. The direct admissions were more numerous than in any of the three preceding years; but assuming that the distress felt in some districts acted as an incentive to crime, they were, taken in the aggregate, less numerous than might have been expected. In 12 districts, most conspicuously in Durbhunga, the Sonthal Pergunnahs, Bhagulpore, 24-Pergunnahs, and Mozufferpore, the increase of convicts admitted to jails and subsidiary jails aggregated 2,409. These districts were for the most part in Behar, where distress was most severely felt. In six districts of Bengal, viz. Mymensingh, Backergunge, Pubna, Chittagong, Tipperah, and Bogra, the admissions to jail of convicts decreased by 827.

4. The total daily average population of convicts in central, district, and subsidiary jails for the last five years is shown in the statement below :—

Thus, although the admissions during the year and the number of the prisoners in jail at its close were more numerous than in 1883, the total daily average convict population, though to an inappreciable extent, actually decreased: the proportion of convicts confined in central jails declined from 55·91 to 54·36 per cent., and of those confined in district jails increased from 42·16 to 43·54 per cent. This result, the Inspector-General remarks, appears to point to an increase in the number of sentences of short terms of imprisonment, and as no prisoner under sentence of imprisonment for less than six months is transferred to a central jail, the convict population of the central jails decreased. The explanation given is probably correct. Sentences of six months' or less than six months' imprisonment increased from 23,114 to 25,303: sentences of between six months and two years from 5,151 to 5,287. On the other hand, there was a considerable decrease in sentences of transportation and imprisonment for terms exceeding five years. The increase in convictions was chiefly under heads of offences against property; but until the returns of the Police Department are received, it cannot be ascertained whether the decrease in the length of sentences was due to an actual improvement in the character of serious crime. Considering, however, the prevalence of high prices of food during the year, and the consequent inducement to crime, there are no grounds for believing that either the increase in convictions generally, or the very slight increase in the percentage of habitual offenders, was caused by undue leniency on the part of convicting officers. Although the percentage of prisoners confined in central jails to the total average jail population declined, the actual number of prisoners admitted direct increased from 4,452 to 4,938, and of those transferred from other jails from 4,865 to 5,335. At the close of the year there were 7,704 prisoners in central jails against 7,449 at the close of 1883. The principle of concentrating the long-term prisoners in central jails has therefore, as far as practicable, been observed.

5. In the numbers of prisoners transferred and released, there was an increase consequent on the greater number of admissions. The percentage of convicts released on appeal rose slightly for causes not explained. In 1883 there were 2,149 convicts released, who had been under the mark system, and of these 1,913 received remission of sentences on earning marks. In 1884, owing to the general shortening in terms of sentence of those released, only 1,858 were under the mark system, and of these 193 failed to obtain sufficient marks to entitle them to any remission. Five convicts, three of whom were Europeans, were released on special grounds for good service. The number of convicts executed increased from 35 to 43. Twenty-two prisoners were released under a rule of the Jail Code, which permits the release of a prisoner who has not more than six months to remain in jail, and has there contracted a disease likely to prove fatal if he remains, but from which he has a good chance of recovery if he be released. In 1883 the number of prisoners released under this rule was 41. On this subject the Inspector-General remarks: "There is a decrease in the number of convicts released on medical grounds, and, nevertheless, several were improperly released, their deaths immediately after release proving that their chance of recovery was not sufficiently good to justify their release under the terms of rule 487.* * * I do not think it right that the death-rate of jails should be ostensibly reduced by releasing prisoners who are dying. Much as a high death-rate in the jail population is to be deplored, I consider it objectionable that the true facts should in any way be obscured; and whether the death of a prisoner is due to the conditions of jail life or not, the fact of such death should not be concealed by his removal from jail in moribund condition." With these remarks the Lieutenant-Governor entirely concurs. They are, however, so obvious that the necessity of making them is not clear. The object of the rule is the release of prisoners who would, if released, probably recover, and who would, if kept in confinement, almost certainly die. If a jail officer takes advantage of the rule so as to release a prisoner in a moribund condition in order to reduce the nominal death-rate of the jail, he is guilty of gross dereliction of duty, and the Lieutenant-Governor is prepared to deal severely with any plain case of such misconduct whenever brought to his notice. But Sir Rivers Thompson believes that Superintendents of jails seldom err in this direction. The rule is one that needs to be worked with discretion. Convicts released under it are for the most part those who have suffered long from phthisis or bowel complaints. A prisoner's condition becomes either gradually or rapidly worse, and the Superintendent sees that the only chance of saving his life is to release him. But the change may come too late. The sufferer may not have the strength to bear the journey to his home or his downward progress may have made such way that it cannot be checked. Still the Lieutenant-Governor would prefer that an occasional prisoner should die immediately after release rather than that numerous prisoners should die in jail who might possibly have been saved had the rule been applied with a little less strictness and a little more humanity.

6. Of 521 prisoners transported beyond seas during the year, 471 were males and 50 females, the total being less by 50 than in 1883, and more by three than in 1882. The medical board at Alipore rejected 107 prisoners as unfit for transportation, of whom 37 were received from Bengal and 70 from other provinces. In 1883 the number rejected by the board was 138. In the Resolution on the Report for 1883, the Lieutenant-Governor expressed himself satisfied that the medical board performed their duties not only with the ability which might be confidently expected in such a body, but also with all possible care and thoroughness, and stated his opinion that the frequent rejection, by the board, of convicts whom the local medical officers had certified to be in good health and fit for transportation, appeared to indicate necessity for greater care and watchfulness in the preliminary enquiries held before granting certificates. Greater care accordingly was observed during the past year in the preliminary examinations in Bengal. Out of 572 prisoners under sentence of transportation beyond seas the number from Bengal rejected was only 37 or slightly more than 7 per cent. In 1883, out of 514 prisoners under such sentence, 86 from Bengal were rejected or more than 16 per cent.' On the other hand, the number of those rejected out of such prisoners received from other provinces increased from 52 to 70. It has not been shown in the statements forwarded by the Inspector-General what was the total number of prisoners under sentences of transportation received from other provinces. In future reports the Inspector-General should state for each province the number received for transportation and rejected by the medical board. It seems plain that the preliminary examinations held by the medical officers in other provinces was at least not less superficial than in former years, and that the conveyance for long distances to, and re-conveyance from, the Alipore jail with their guards of prisoners wholly unfit for transportation, must have entailed considerable expense on the State which might well have been avoided.

7. Early in 1884 the Government of India directed that, in view of the recent large increase in the number of life and long-term prisoners in Burmah under sentence of transportation, the arrangement under which 20 of these convicts were annually sent to these provinces should not be disturbed. Provision was accordingly made for the accommodation of an increased number of convicts in the Bengal jails, and the Lieutenant-Governor expressed an opinion that, if properly and firmly treated, the Burmans would be found amenable to discipline, and become useful workers. This has been fully realized. At the beginning of 1884 there were 64 Burman convicts in the jails of these provinces; 45 more were received in the course of the year; three having died, there were at its close 106. Of these, 35 were confined in the Alipore central jail, eight in the Presidency, and the same number in the Dacca central jail; seven in the Buxar, four in the Midnapore, and four in the Bhagulpore central jail; two were imprisoned in each of 19 district jails; one in the Patna, and one in the Jessore jail. The Inspector-General states that he can, if necessary, find accommodation for a total of 141. The health of these prisoners has been fairly good, and their conduct on the whole satisfactory. Two were flogged for attempting to escape at Patna, and two put in fetters for a year at Monghyr for striking a convict officer. The result of training them as blacksmiths and carpenters, and to work on machinery, has been decidedly satisfactory, and they promise to make thoroughly useful artizans.

8. Of the convicts admitted the percentage of Christians decreased from 2·05 to 1·66; and of Musulmans from 40·82 to 37·98; that of Hindoos increased from 54·12 to 57·36; and that of Buddhists and Jains from 0·44 to 0·51. There was a decrease in the percentage of convicts of other religions from 2·57 to 2·49. Of the Christian convicts, 296 were Europeans, 139 Eurasians, and 96 Native Christians. The only explanation given on the fluctuation in the numbers of convicts of the several religious faiths is in regard to European Christians. It is stated that owing to decline in the trade of the port of Chittagong, the number of European prisoners, the majority of whom are sailors from ships in Port, decreased from 49 to 22. The probable explanation of the increase from 16,107 to 18,375 in the number of Hindoo convicts with an increase in the number of Musulman convicts merely from 12,150 to 12,168, is that the immense majority of the population in the poorer western districts, where there was a partial failure of the crops, are Hindoos; while in the eastern districts where the population is mainly Musulman, the distress, if it prevailed at all, was comparatively slight.

9. Convicts of ages under 16 increased from 318 to 408. There was no noticeable fluctuation in the numbers of convicts admitted of other ages. Of the juvenile convicts 362 were boys, and of these 37 had been previously convicted. There were admitted to the subsidiary jails 152, and to the district and central jails 210 boy convicts. Twelve were confined in the Chumparun, 18 in the Patna, 21 in the Gya, and 25 in the Presidency jail. In reviewing the jail administration of 1883 the Lieutenant-Governor remarked that of the boys sent to jails it could hardly be doubted that a considerable proportion ought to have been sent to the reformatories, and that until those institutions were full no such offender should, as a rule, be sent to a jail. The Inspector-General of Jails has mistakenly inferred from these remarks that it was his duty whenever he observed juvenile male convicts in jail to direct their production by the Superintendents before the Magistrate of district with a view to their being sent to reformatories, and states generally that he considers the imprisonment of a boy in a jail as objectionable, and that, except when under trial, boys should not be kept in prison at all. While Sir Rivers Thompson agrees with the Inspector-General that the confinement of a boy in a jail is, as a general rule, objectionable, it was certainly not his wish or the intention of the Act that all juvenile male offenders should be sent to reformatories irrespective of the offencess of which they were convicted. These institutions are intended for those who, there is reason to believe, would, if confined in jails and released without any means of support, grow up to be habitual criminals. It is unnecessary therefore, indeed it is positively mischievous, to send to the reformatories boys convicted of offences not indicating depravity, or having relatives who are able and willing to attend to their proper training, because if this is done the accommodation space is pro tanto reduced, and boys who should go there are kept out for want of room. The Lieutenant-Governor trusts to the good sense of Magistrates to decide whether a juvenile offender should be sent to a reformatory; and, if not, to award him such legal punishment as may seem suitable to his case. The subject has been fully dealt with in the Resolution on the report of the administration of reformatories in 1884, and need not further be referred to here.

10. The number of convicts who, before conviction, were employed under Government or local authorities, was 1,407; of those engaged in professions 1,227; of servants 2,175; of cultivators and herdsmen 17,373; of traders 1,129; of mechanics 697; of persons not classed 6,431. The differences between these figures and those of the preceding year for all classes excepting the last were only nominal.

11. Convicts sentenced to simple imprisonment decreased from 2,241 to 1,868, while sentences of rigorous imprisonment increased from 27,333 to 30,005. Sentences of rigorous imprisonment with solitary confinement are less by 38 than in the preceding year, the total number being only 28 in the whole province. The Lieutenant-Governor concurs with the Inspector-General in thinking that this form of punishment acts as a greater deterrent than most others. The number of cells in Bengal jails has of late been much increased, and it is to be regretted that they should not be more utilized. No explanation is given of the decrease in the number of sentences of simple imprisonment, and these figures are at variance with the statement of the Inspector-General that there is an increasing tendency on the part of Magistrates to deal leniently with crime.

12. One thousand five hundred and ninety-five female convicts, of whom 46 are stated to have been under the age of 16, were admitted into the jails during the year under report against 1,365 in 1883. The women's jail at Russa was closed from the end of 1883, and the female convicts transferred to Alipore and other jails. The buildings at Russa were not, however, given up. They have, since the close of the year, been found of use for the confinement of female prisoners during an outbreak of cholera in the Alipore jail. The question of the proper place of confinement for female prisoners from Calcutta is now under the consideration of the Lieutenant-Governor. It was hoped that the completion of the various central jails would obviate the necessity of overcrowding the wards for females in district jails. Owing, however, to the number of civil, under-trial, and short-term female convicts who cannot be transferred to central jails, difficulties are still met with in this respect.

13. Both the percentage to the total number of convicts and the number of re-convicted convicts increased. The number was 3,915 against 3,540, and the percentage 12·22 against 11·89 in the previous year: 2,874, it was ascertained, had been once, 694 twice, and 347 more than twice before convicted. Of the 3,915 convicts recognized as habitual criminals, 1,103 were not recognized as such until after their conviction. With regard to the identification of previously-convicted prisoners, the Inspector-General observes: "The Jail Code indicates the duty of all jail officials to bring to notice whatever they may know of the previous history of convicts, and I have directed that notes may be made in the service registers of officers who give valuable information on the subject. I think it would be advisable to give rewards to warders and head-warders who identify convicts as old offenders when the police have failed to do so. I am not aware whether the examination of prisoners on parade by the police has led to the recognition of any habitual criminals, but every facility is given for it by the jail officers. The greater number of criminals in Bengal is probably convicted in the districts of which they are natives and residents, and, with reference to them, it is inexcusable that the local police should be ignorant of any previous convictions; many others give a true account of their names and places of residence, and their antecedents may be verified on reference by the police within whose jurisdiction those places may be. It is the few prisoners forming the residue who give false accounts of themselves, and who change their names and habitations frequently, whom it is difficult to identify, and to the registration of whose appearance by photography and other means the efforts of police and jail officers should be directed." The Lieutenant-Governor agrees with the Inspector-General that it is the undoubted duty of all jail officials to bring to notice whatever they may know of the previous history of convicts. It is not, however, explained why, if that duty was properly performed, 1,103 convicts or more than 28 per cent. were not till after sentence identified as habitual criminals. It is the duty of jail officials under Rule 795 of the Jail Code to bring to the knowledge of the Magistrate the previous convictions of under-trial prisoners, and no pains on their part should be spared to comply with the rule. To report the previous convictions of a prisoner after sentence has been passed on him is of comparatively little use, as they cannot then operate as a reason for enhancing his sentence. The Inspector-General has not stated how far the jail officials assisted in procuring the identification of habitual criminals before sentence, when detained in the ward for under-trial prisoners, or when sent by Magistrates to jails for recognition: nor to what extent the procedure suggested in the Resolution on his report for 1883, that Superintendents of jails should communicate to the police and to each other the descriptive rolls of persons suspected to be habitual criminals, or of concealing their true names and districts, with the facts discovered regarding them after admission, was followed. The suggestion that it would be advisable to give rewards to warders and head-warders who identify convicts as old offenders, when the police have failed to identify them, does not commend itself to the Lieutenant-Governor. The inevitable result would be to encourage the warders in antagonism towards, instead of co-operation with, the police. The questions of the definition, identification, and treatment of habitual criminals are, under orders of the Government of India, now being considered, and the Inspector-General states that he hopes shortly to submit a report on the subject after consulting officers whose opinions should be valuable. The Lieutenant-Governor will await the report before passing final orders. If in the meantime the Inspector-General will, during his inspections of jails, ascertain the reason why so large a proportion of previously convicted prisoners is recognized by jail officials only after sentence instead of before, and the extent to which those officials have actually aided Magistrates and the police by proving the previous convictions of under-tral prisoners, he may be able to offer suggestions of more practical value than those contained in his present report. The registers of previous convictions kept by Magistrates, under the orders of the High Court, deal only with those more serious offences for which enhancement of punishment is provided, on a second or subsequent conviction, by section 75 of the Penal Code and section 4 of the Whipping Act; while under a rule of the Jail Code, section 454, the Superintendent of a Jail has to record all convictions of convicts received. The statement of previously convicted prisoners, forwarded with the report, apparently includes convicts previously convicted of all classes of offences, petty or serious; if this is so, it is obvious that all deductions from it as to the leniency of sentencing officers, and as to want of detective ability on the part of the police, are entirely fallacious. The Lieutenant-Governor gathers from some remarks of the Inspector-General that, in his opinion, previously convicted prisoners, even those whose antecedents are known, are sentenced by courts with too great leniency. Neither in the body of the report, nor in the statements appended to it, however, are there any statistics which support such an opinion, though it would seem from the remark at the bottom of page 13 of the report that some instances of the kind have come under his notice.

14. Under-trial prisoners detained in jails and subsidiary jails increased from 27,088 to 29,914, and the daily average of their number from 1,065 to 1,170. The increase was due to the general increase of crime, of which the causes have been already noticed. In ten jails the average period of detention exceeded 20 days: the general average in all jails was 17·30. The general average term of detention of all under-trial prisoners decreased from 14·90 to 14·86 days. The number of deaths among under-trial prisoners increased from 34 to 49. It is stated in the report that the accommodation for under-trial prisoners in many jails is very inadequate, and that the prisons are frequently overcrowded. The subject will have to be considered when funds are available. Under-trial prisoners compare favourably with convicts in regard to sickness and mortality, and the Lieutenant-Governor, on the information which he at present has on their condition, does not consider that their necessities are of pressing moment. The number of civil prisoners increased from 3,511 to 3,545; but the daily average decreased from 249 to 233·8. The fluctuation was not of any importance. It is remarked in the report that the civil jails are not within jail gates, and in the new jails specially are so constructed that the inmates can easily escape. As, however, only one civil prisoner out of 3,545 escaped, the civil jails would seem sufficiently secure to answer their purpose. Non-criminal lunatics under observation are detained in jails pending their despatch to lunatic asylums, as, until they are, after observation, certified to be lunatics, they cannot legally be confined in lunatic asylums, and no safe places for their confinement, except the jails, exist. The Inspector-General remarks that they are troublesome inmates, and sometimes by occupying the cells deprive jail officers of the power of punishing convicts by separate or solitary confinement. He proposes that, when a lunatic asylum is near, a non-criminal lunatic under observation should be sent to it rather than to a jail, and draws attention to the delay which generally takes place before orders are passed on applications to Government for the transfer of lunatics. The lunatics are undoubtedly troublesome to deal with, but they would not be less troublesome if confined elsewhere than in a jail. As it is elsewhere noticed in the report that the number of separate cells in the jails has much increased, while sentences of solitary confinement have much decreased, there cannot, the Lieutenant-Governor would suppose, be much real difficulty in finding suitable accommodation for the few lunatics who are temporarily confined in jails. The detention of lunatics in asylums before they are certified insane would, as already remarked, be illegal. The Inspector-General should at once bring to the notice of Government any case in which there is delay in the issue of orders for the final disposal of a lunatic.

Total ...	4,18,523	55,283	30,227	9,984	58,909	44,472	5,07,718	1,09,739

The chief items of expenditure were Rs. 22,064 on the construction of the new central jail at Dacca, Rs. 6,623 principally on warder barracks and water distribution at Buxar, Rs. 2,613 on completion of the new jail at Gya, Rs. 2,585 on water-supply at Darjeeling, Rs 4,013 on new buildings at Manbhoom, Rs. 3,491 on conversion of the old sub-divisional lock-up into a jail at Khoolna, and Rs. 3,601 on re-roofing the subsidiary jail at Kooshtea. Rupees 50,517 were spent on repairs to jails of all classes and the Reformatory School at Hazaribagh, and Rs. 16,173 on new subsidiary jails at Nowada, Aurungabad, Kurigram, and Contai. Rupees 21,715 were expended on buildings by the Jail Department. The report shows a considerable list of minor improvements still required; but considering the present state of the provincial finances, it is not probable that funds can be soon provided for their completion. The Inspector-General must in the meantime endeavour to make the best use he can of the funds at his disposal in effecting such improvements as are most urgently needed, or are most likely to benefit the health of the prisoners. The daily average number of convicts employed on jail buildings decreased to 1,800 from 2,591 in 1883.

16. All jails, except the Alipore Jail, in which there is a military guard, are now guarded by warders instead of police, and the result is reported to be decidedly satisfactory. Difficulty in obtaining recruits has been most felt in the central jails at Dacca, Rajshahye, Midnapore, and Alipore, and the affiliated district jails. The Inspector-General states:—"I am now trying the experiment of recruiting men in the more popular districts entirely for those less popular, and filling up vacancies in the popular ones by transfers of men who have served for a certain time in those districts which are disliked. I propose similarly to fill the higher grades in the unpopular districts by promotion from the others, in which vacancies would be filled by transfers without promotion." The arrangement is approved, and the Inspector-General should notice the result in his next Administration Report. The Inspector-General submits that an Act drafted on the model of the Police Act V of 1861 is required for jail guards, rendering desertion and certain other offences punishable, and conferring on them legal power to arrest in certain circumstances. He also points out that the pension rules of the police have not yet been generally extended to prison warders. The question of the pay, duties, and status of prison warders is, however, as he remarks, one on which it is not desirable to enter, except as a whole. The Inspector-General should, if possible, submit a report on the general question with his recommendations before the close of the current year. The drill of the warder guards, it is stated, is, as a general rule, very fair. Promotion, leave, and increment of pay have been refused to all officers who have not passed in drill, and there has in consequence been an improvement. A suggestion that breech-loading in lieu of muzzle-loading arms should be supplied for all guards has not up to the present time been adopted. An estimate of the cost is at present being awaited. There were 3,031 offences committed by warders and head warders during the year, of which 173 were criminal and the remainder breaches of jail rules. Among criminal offences committed by jail officers the chief heading was that of assaults on prisoners, which numbered 64. A chief warder assaulted a prisoner in the Pubna Jail for uncleanliness, and the prisoner was removed to the hospital and died from rupture of the spleen. The head warder was on conviction sentenced to rigorous imprisonment for one year. In case of convictions of jail officers by criminal courts for the more serious offences committed by them in violation of their duty, the Inspector-General might with advantage cause notice of the crime, conviction and sentence of the offender to be circulated among the jail officials generally as a warning and deterrent to all. The number of escapes of convicts from jails decreased from 13 to 10, and escapes from subsidiary jails from 19 to 14. There were also eight escapes from jails and 21 from subsidiary jails of under-trial prisoners, and one from the Gya jail of a civil prisoner. In 1883, 24 under-trial and one civil prisoner escaped. The total number of escapes in 1884 was therefore 54. Twenty-six escaped convicts were recaptured during the year, 11 of whom had escaped in former years. Twenty-eight subordinate jail officials were prosecuted to conviction on account of these escapes. The number of jails from which there were no escapes of convicts increased from 37 to 40. The general result was satisfactory. There is, however, still much to be done towards making the subsidiary jails more secure.

17. The Inspector-General has again omitted to notice in his report how far the scheme for the segregation of juvenile offenders and the worst class of habitual criminals by the sub-division of sleeping wards into cubicles has been introduced, or how far it has been generally successful. With regard to the cubicles at the Gya, Durbhunga, and Bhagulpore jails, however, he remarks that the result has not been satisfactory: that a convict by holding his blankets and placing them on the sharp top edge of the corrugated iron partition can easily climb from one cubicle into another, and that it is necessary to make the partitions secure at the top with wire netting, or to continue them up to the roof. An estimate of cost has been submitted, but the work cannot at present be carried out for want of funds. The segregation of the female from the male prisoners is, it is stated, fairly carried out except in subsidiary jails, the present condition of which will be noticed hereafter. Some laxity has been observed in the separation of habitual (B class) from non-habitual convicts. This has been due not to any deficiency of accommodation but to a desire to so organize the labour of the convicts as to make it as remunerative as possible. The rules on the subject of classification of prisoners are now being enforced with more strictness.

18. The number of offences committed by convicts increased from 48,580 to 56,564, and the percentage of offences to the daily average population from 354 to 412. Ninety-one per cent. of prisoners subjected to jail discipline and hard labour committed some offence. The following table shows the number of offences committed by prisoners against the jail rules and the criminal law during the past three years:—

Year.	Criminal offences.	Smoking or having possession of forbidden articles.	Offences relating to work.	Other offences against prison discipline.	Total offences.
1882	76	3,604	26,602	18,288	48,570
1883	88	3,020	26,852	18,620	48,580
1884	91	3,360	31,303	21,890	56,564

Thus offences relating to work increased by 4,451 and prison offences other than those relating to work by 3,530. The Inspector-General observes:

"I cannot look on the increase in the number of recorded jail offences as unsatisfactory, and I consider that it only indicates improvement in discipline. It is a subject into which I have enquired very carefully when visiting jails, especially at Bogra, where the number of offences is especially high, and cannot detect any undue severity. The punishments for short work do not indicate excessive tasks beyond the strength of the convicts, because all are weighed every fortnight, and Superintendents are very careful to reduce the task of any man who is found to be losing weight. No offence is entered as a criminal one unless the offender is prosecuted before a court of justice; but a great number of offences punishable under the Penal Code are disposed of by jail officers with whom prosecution is by rule 663 rendered optional. I have in several instances called on Superintendents to explain why they have not prosecuted, and have been informed that the courts show a reluctance to accept the testimony of convicts, and when an offender has once been acquitted by a Magistrate, I think it is objectionable to take up the case again and inflict punishment in jail. * * * I could adduce numerous cases in which it has appeared to me that Magistrates do not appreciate the necessity of maintaining jail discipline, and protecting jail officials, by adequate punishment of crime: and although an assault on a convict warder at Bhagulpore was properly punished with two years' imprisonment, I cannot blame the Superintendent of Bankoora (Jail) for taking up a similar case himself and inflicting 20 stripes." The Inspector-General is probably correct in considering that the detection of a considerably increased number, over 16 per cent., of offences in connection with task work is indicative of improved discipline. In other words it means that year by year more care is taken by the jail officials to measure up work and to scrutinize more and more closely its quality, with the result that in an ever increasing number of instances short or bad work is detected, reported, and punished. No explanation has been given of the increase, over 17 per cent., in the number of other offences against prison discipline, and though this increase may show greater diligence and watchfulness in the discharge of their duties on the part of the establishments, it clearly indicates that no improvement is taking place in the discipline of the prisoners themselves. The increase in offences relating to work was not due to the reduction in the number of prisoners employed in building operations, for at Bhagulpore and Mymensingh the number of jail offences largely decreased, while at Buxar and Dacca it largely increased, though in all four jails the number of men employed on buildings was considerably reduced. The increase occurred in 29 out of 45 jails. It was in the majority of jails not great, and was probably due merely to the fact that the average term of imprisonment generally was shorter, since short-term prisoners are more liable to transgress jail rules and commit faults in their work than those whose terms are longer, and who are familiar with the jail routine. It was in a few jails only that the increase in jail offences was conspicuous. The returns for the Alipore, Buxar, and Dacca jails alone show an aggregate increase of 9,642, or nearly 56 per cent. in the number of offences. The Inspector-General will be requested to explain the special causes of this very large increase. The Lieutenant-Governor notices that in these three jails punishments of solitary confinement with reduced diet were reduced from 1,739 in 1883 to 154 in 1884. Possibly the change in the form of punishment may have been accountable for the increase. Instances are quoted in the report of undue leniency on the part of Magistrates in the infliction of punishment for jail offences. Jail officers, it is true, being most familiar with its details can, as a general rule, best judge of the means most necessary for the effective maintenance of discipline. They should not, however, treat the more serious cognizable offences as simple breaches of jail discipline, merely because those offences are committed within jail precincts. These should properly go to the criminal courts, and the law provides ample remedies if the decisions of those courts are wrong. The Lieutenant-Governor has recently prohibited jail officers from dealing with criminal offences triable only by the Court of Session as offences against prison discipline. It is advisable also to define with more distinctness than at present the other offences which should and should not be dealt with departmentally when committed by prisoners. On this point the recommendations of the Inspector-General will be awaited by Government.

19. The punishments inflicted on prisoners during the last three years are shown in the following statement:—

	By criminal courts.	Solitary confinement.	Reduced diet.	Solitary confinement with reduced diet.	Corporal punishments.	All other punishments.	Total punishments.	Ratio of total punishments to daily average number of prisoners.	Ratio of corporal punishments to total number of all others inflicted on male prisoners.
1882	79	3,067	5,087	3,098	416	36,827	48,574	328·18	0·88
1883	77	3,261	2,385	2,347	349	40,170	48,589	351·22	0·74
1884	85	3,688	3,073	522	345	47,945	56,558	412·91	0·63

Thus, while sentences of solitary confinement increased by 427, sentences of solitary confinement with reduced diet decreased by 1,825. On the other hand, sentences of reduced diet alone increased by 1,608. Sentences of reduced diet thus in the aggregate decreased by 217. The ratio per cent. of corporal punishments to the total number of all other punishments inflicted on male prisoners again decreased. From the statements appended to the report under review, and to those of previous years, it is obvious that the method of inflicting the different forms of punishment authorized by the code varies considerably in different jails, and even in the same jail from year to year. This remark does not, however, apply to corporal punishments, which are generally only inflicted in extreme cases, and the number of which has of late years steadily declined. No reason has been ascertained as accounting for these variations, and the Inspector-General has apparently not noticed them; yet they are in cases very considerable, and an instance is noticed in the preceding paragraph. It is unsatisfactory to find that the punishment of placing prisoners on reduced diet—a form of punishment which the Local Government has discouraged—decreased by less than five per cent., while sentences of solitary confinement decreased by nearly 25 per cent. So long as the relaxations prescribed by the code, which distinguish separate confinement for prison offences from solitary confinement under the Indian Penal Code, are properly allowed, this form of punishment is at once non-detrimental to health and deterrent in its effects. The Inspector-General states that, in his opinion, the reaction against flogging has gone too far. This subject was fully discussed in the Resolution on his report for 1883, and until such method is introduced in the infliction of jail punishments generally that deductions of some value can be made from the results, the Lieutenant-Governor is not inclined to change the opinion he then expressed.

20. With a daily average of 13,206 male and 491 female convicts, 775 male and 7 female convicts were on the average employed as prison officers. The convict prison officers, none of whom are habitual criminals, have been found useful and trustworthy. It is suggested that in a special case, when the convict has behaved well for a long period in jail, an habitual criminal might be appointed a prison officer. Any such special case may be recommended by the Inspector-General for the consideration of the Local Government.

21. The average remission gained under the mark system by prisoners sentenced to various terms of imprisonment, from two years and upwards, generally increased. The Inspector-General on this subject remarks: "The general increase in the amount of remission earned should be considered with the number of punishments inflicted, as showing that the number of convicts punished for short work is not inconsistent with the earning of full marks by such as are industrious." Marks are, however, not deducted as a punishment for offences relating to work alone, and such offences formed but a small portion of the offences for which marks can as a punishment be deducted. The probable explanation of the rise in the average of remissions under the mark system, coincident with an increase in jail offences, is that the majority of those who committed the offences were imprisoned only for short terms and did not come under the mark system at all. As those who earned remissions must have been originally sentenced to at least two years' rigorous imprisonment, they must have entered the jail and become habituated to the rules before the increase of prisoners in 1884 began. The result probably shows a better appreciation by the long term prisoners of the benefit of good conduct while in jail. The whole question of the system of granting remission of sentences by the award of marks is now under consideration, and the Lieutenant-Governor will deal with it in communication with the Government of India.

22. The total expenditure, exclusive of the amount spent by the Public Works Department as already noticed, increased from Rs. 10,32,695 to Rs. 10,56,490, and was greater than in any of the preceding three years. The increase was chiefly under the heads of general supervision, diet, and clothing of prisoners, and petty construction and repairs. There was some saving under the heads of establishment, hospital charges, miscellaneous contingencies, and stationery. The daily average population of all classes increased only from 15,026 to 15,101; the average expenditure per prisoner in jails of all classes from Rs. 68 11-7 to Rs. 69-15-4. The total increase in the cost of diet amounted to Rs. 40,864, and was due chiefly to increase in the price of grain and pulse used as food. The variation in the prices of dâl and meat was slight, and that in the price of fish was considerably less. The diet of the prisoners was constantly altered or varied as their health appeared to require. The five jails in which the average expenditure per prisoner for diet, compared with that in the year 1883, was highest were—

	1884. Rs.	A.	P.	1883. Rs.	A.	P.
Presidency (European)	85	2	1	98	6	4
Hazaribagh	29	6	6	24	9	4
Mozufferpore	28	13	6	22	7	6

And the five in which this expenditure was lowest were—

	Rs.	A.	P.	Rs.	A.	P.
Nuddea	19	6	6	23	13	5
Bhagulpore (District)	18	15	11	17	5	9
Singbhoom	18	4	4	16	15	7
Pooree	15	8	1	15	15	4
Manbhoom	16	5	9	15	5	7

Throughout the year, it is stated, any indication of general loss of health, such as decrease in weight, sickly appearance, or increase in the number of prisoners admitted to the hospital, was met by improvement in the food; there was a consequent decrease in the expenditure on hospital charges corresponding to an increase in the cost of diet incurred by order of medical officers. If this statement be accepted as correct—and the Lieutenant-Governor sees no reason to doubt its correctness—the result could hardly be more satisfactory.

23. The expenditure on establishment of central and district jails decreased from Rs. 4,06,847 to Rs. 3,88,181, owing to reductions in establishment and salaries of some officers. The average cost per head of sick in hospital was Rs. 54-13-9 against Rs. 55-13-2 in 1883. The rise in the expenditure on clothing was apparently due merely to postponement of expenditure in the previous year. It is observed that jailors are very fond of postponing expenditure on necessary clothing till after the close of a year, so as to show economical management. This practice should be at once discontinued. The savings under the head of contingencies were due chiefly to the absence of any extraordinary demand.

24. The average number of prisoners sentenced to labour on working days slightly increased from 13,494·80 to 13,521·78. Of these, 2,136 were employed as prison officers or servants, 716 in gardening, 477 in preparing articles for prison use, 350 in jail repairs, 1,449 on jail buildings, either under the Superintendent or Public Works Department, and 6,478 on manufactures. The only case in which any of the prisoners were employed on extramural labour was at Noakhally, where 120 convicts were hired out to the municipality in order to repair the dispensary buildings after the cyclone of November. The increase in the number of prisoners employed on jail manufactures was due to the large number who were relieved from work on jail buildings, and for whom it was necessary to find other employment.

25. The following table shows the net cash earnings of convicts sentenced to labour in the years 1883 and 1884 :—

Average number of prisoners sentenced to labour ...	13,494·80	13,521·78

Average earning per head on average number sentenced to labour ...	21 7 0	21 3 0
Average earning per head on average number employed in jail manufactures	49 8 0	44 4 0

The net cash earnings according to this statement, which is in the form prescribed by the Government of India, decreased only by Rs. 3,039-11-0; the average earning per head of prisoners sentenced to labour from 21·7 to 21·3, and of prisoners employed in jail manufactures from 49·8 to 44·4. Taking into account credits and debits on account of manufactured articles, raw materials, outstanding bills, plant and machinery and remittances by cash and invoice, the Inspector-General calculates the profits at Rs. 2,98,273, showing a decrease of Rs. 41,674 as compared with the results in 1883. The decrease is attributed in the report partly to the orders of the Government of India discouraging jail manufactures, and partly to a general depression of trade. It is true that, pending final decision of the question of jail manufactures, extension and improvements in them have been checked; but the diminished profits are, the Lieutenant-Governor believes, almost entirely due to general trade depression. At the Presidency Jail there was full employment throughout the year, and the decrease in the average earning per prisoner was only nominal. The gunny-bag industry at Alipore suffered with the outside market. At Hazaribagh the industries, with the exception of that of aloe fibre, practically ceased to exist. On the other hand, the cotton and tent-making industries at the Buxar Jail, and the castor oil pressing at the Rajshahye Jail, showed improved results owing to the special attention paid to them, and to a larger demand by the State. Slight additions were made to the machinery at the Presidency, Alipore, Bhagulpore, and Buxar Jails. With regard to the difficulty experienced in finding for convicts in the smaller district jails work that is at once laborious and remunerative, the Inspector-General observes: "I consider that it is better that an able-bodied convict should be unremuneratively employed on shot drill, tread-mill or crank than that the sentence of hard labour implied in rigorous imprisonment should not be enforced; and I look on the question of profit as a very secondary one when compared with that of prison discipline." While agreeing in the abstract with the general principle laid down by the Inspector-General, the Lieutenant-Governor considers that his views are not applicable to the Bengal jails in their present state. That the present system of prison discipline is already sufficiently deterrent to criminals is conclusively proved by the large decrease in the number of criminals admitted for the last nine years, while the weakly physical condition of much of the convict population renders it impossible for one moment to entertain any idea of applying to them the severe forms of penal labour employed in European jails. To an Indian convict, labour of a kind to which he is not used, which he has to perform in a posture other than that which alone habit has made comfortable to him, and which demands his sustained attention, is severe, penal, deterrent from crime and sufficiently disciplinary. The Lieutenant-Governor cannot think of allowing to be substituted for it any form of severe and merely punitive exercise, probably injurious to the health, and having a certainly deadening influence on the faculties of the convict.

26. Owing to the reduction of the status of the Baraset district jail to that of a subsidiary jail, and to the opening of two new subsidiary jails at Soopool in Bhagulpore and Gopalgunge in Sarun, the number of subsidiary jails increased from 81 to 84. The general management of these jails was in the hands of the sub-divisional officers as Superintendents, the civil hospital assistants acting as Deputy Superintendents under them. It is stated in the report that the majority of Superintendents do not, in the Inspector-General's opinion, do their duty in respect of these jails. An extract from the remarks of the Inspector-General will be sent to Magistrates of districts, who will be requested to see that the sub-divisional Magistrates subordinate to them attend with more regularity to their duties as Superintendents. The proper minimum number of visits which a sub-divisional officer should pay to a subsidiary jail during the year is 77, viz. eight fortnightly visits during his four months' tour, and 69, or two every week, during the remaining eight months of the year. Out of the whole number of subsidiary jails, 54 were visited 70 times or more in the course of the year against 45 in 1883. There was thus a slight improvement in inspection. Full explanations will be asked from the Superintendents of the Diamond Harbour, Kooshtea, Contai, Buxar, Gopalgunge, Nya Doomka, Kurseong, Rampore Hat, Ghatal, Attia, Kishoregunge, Angool, and Khurdah subsidiary jails as to the reason of the small number of inspections made by them.

27. The total number of prisoners admitted direct to subsidiary jails was 28,625 against 25,606 in 1883, and the daily average increased from 674·53 to 743. Of convicts 14,519 were admitted, and their daily average number was 288·16. In 1883 the corresponding figures were 13,209 and 264·72 respectively. The increase was due to the causes already noticed, which affected the jail population generally. Deaths among the convicts decreased from nine to eight, and escapes from six to three. The average period of detention of convicts was 7·08 days. The number of under-trial prisoners admitted during the year was 13,681 or 1,865 more than in 1883, and the daily average increased from 407·32 to 454·21. Six of them escaped and 16 died. In six subsidiary jails, viz. Attia, Kishoregunge, Ghatal, Bhola, Bishenpore, and Kurigram, the average period of detention of under-trial prisoners exceeded 20 days. The sub-divisional officers concerned will be called upon to give explanations. Thirty-one civil prisoners were, it is stated, admitted to subsidiary jails. As no subsidiary jail has, so far as the Lieutenant-Governor is aware, been declared a place for confinement of civil prisoners, an explanation will be called for on this point. Thirty-seven prisoners of all classes escaped, 23 being under-trial and 14 convict prisoners. Sixteen of these escapes are ascribed to insecurity of the jail buildings, and the rest to negligent guarding. It has been proposed to surround many of the least secure of the subsidiary jails with enclosure walls of brick masonry, and the Lieutenant-Governor has in some cases sanctioned this being done. At present, however, there are no funds available for carrying out the proposed improvements. The state of the warder guards at subsidiary jails is reported to have been unsatisfactory, their discipline lax, and their supervision neglected. The attention of the Inspector-General having been drawn to this subject, the Lieutenant-Governor hopes that he will be able to effect improvements in the course of the current year. The number of offences shown as committed by the prisoners was only 65. The discipline of the prisoners in the subsidiary jails is lax, and full task work is not exacted from them. There should, however, be no difficulty in exacting hard labour and regular task work (such as wheat-grinding, paddy-husking or cleaning of aloe fibre) from the convicts, the daily average number of whom in a subsidiary jail was only 3·5 during the past year. The time during which a convict is confined in a subsidiary jail is very short, and if he is allowed to be idle, he is practically exempted from real punishment. The prisoners are as a rule healthy. The percentage of deaths was during the year much below that of prisoners confined in the other jails. The Lieutenant-Governor requests that the Inspector-General will, when inspecting a jail, invariably inspect the under-trial ward attached to it, and ascertain whether the food, clothing, and general health of the prisoners confined in it are properly attended to. He particularly wishes the Inspector-General to ascertain whether the state of bad health in which prisoners are received into jail after sentence is in any way due to their treatment while in the under-trial wards. The Inspector-General is requested to notice this subject in detail in his report for the current year.

28. The expenditure for subsidiary jails of the province during the years 1883 and 1884 is shown in the following table:—

Average number of prisoners ...	675.		743.
	Gross.	Average per prisoner.	Gross.	Average per prisoner.
	Rs.	Rs. A. P.	Rs.	Rs. A. P.

Grand Total ...	1,70,712	252 13 6	1,02,059	137 5 9

The increase in expenditure, exclusive of public works, was chiefly due to the rise in the price of food-grains, and the charges on opening three new subsidiary jails. The decrease in expenditure by the Public Works Department amounted to Rs. 74,338. Manufactures produced a profit of Rs. 2,399 compared with Rs. 2,297 in 1883.

29. In the Resolution on the report for 1883, it was observed that the vital statistics for the first time since 1878 showed a great and decided improvement, and it is with pleasure Sir Rivers Thompson has to record that the improvement was maintained during the year under review. The following table shows the sickness and mortality in Bengal jails since 1865 of all convicts and under-trial prisoners:—

	Daily average number of prisoners.	Daily average sick.	Ratio per mille of daily average sick.	Number of deaths			Death-rates per mille of average strength
				From cholera.	From all other causes.	Total number of deaths.	From cholera.	From all other causes.	From all causes.

The ratio per mille of daily average sick was 6·8 above the average, but the ratio of deaths from all causes was below the average by 11 per mille. On the improvement in health of the prisoners, the Inspector-General observes: "The figures of 1883 showed that the measures which had been taken for maintaining the inmates of our jails in good health had not been in vain, and those now given are equally satisfactory. Precautions have been taken to prevent overcrowding and to provide the best water that can be obtained, though in both these directions much more might be done if funds were available. An admirable system of dry-earth conservancy has been maintained, excreta being guarded with pulverised clay and buried in trenches * * * Prisoners were weighed every fortnight, and if loss of weight indicated any deterioration of health, tasks were reduced and diet improved without consideration of expense. Warm and sufficient clothing was supplied. Medical officers have been allowed full liberty to act as they considered necessary for the health of prisoners, and there has been a corresponding improvement, sickness and mortality having decreased." While confident that these sanitary measures will be maintained, the Lieutenant-Governor does not feel assured that the improvement in the health of the prisoners is altogether due to them, or that the improvement will progress in future years through these means. Those measures were in force during some of the late years in which the sickness and mortality of the prison population was excessive, and the health of the prisoners in 1884 was, according to the statistics, actually worse than in 1875. Until a more exact knowledge is obtained of the state of health of the outside population, it must always be difficult to judge how far the health of prisoners in jails in any particular year is affected by general causes exterior to the jails and how far by the measures taken for its improvement within them. Again, there are many causes predisposing to sickness, e.g. exposure to cold and damp in insufficient clothing, improperly cooked food, exposure to the sun, overcrowding in worksheds, and the like, against which no measures taken by Government or the Inspector-General can adequately provide without the help of careful and intelligent supervision by Superintendents of Jails. Now that so much has been done in the way of providing improved accommodation, good water, ample food and sufficient clothing for our prisoners, Sir Rivers Thompson thinks that unremitting watchfulness and care on the part of these officers will have more effect in reducing the sickness and mortality in jails than any further measures which the Government can adopt.

30. The death-rate per mille of convicts in jails was 50·9; in subsidiary jails 27·7; of under-trial prisoners in jails 46·0; and of those in subsidiary jails 35·2. The health of prisoners in subsidiary jails was considerably better than that of prisoners in the larger jails. The following statement shows the principal diseases from which convicts suffered, the number of deaths from each disease, and the ratio per mille of deaths and admissions in 1883 and 1884:—

	Number of admissions into hospital.		Number of deaths.		Ratio per mille of deaths to admissions.

31. The statistics show but little change in the force of the prevailing diseases. The prisoners, as usual, suffered most from dysentery, diarrhœa, fever, general debility, and respiratory diseases. As usual, stress is laid in the report on the effect produced on the death-rate by the wretched state of health in which prisoners were admitted to jail. A large proportion of deaths occurred among prisoners who were admitted to jail in such bad health that they were never really subject to prison discipline. In seven jails, viz. Rungpore (283·4), Julpigoree (162·6), Mymensingh (153·0), Bogra (134·5), Purneah (115·3), Rajshahye (110·8), and Singhbhoom (102·2), the death-rate from all causes exceeded 100 per mille. Of these only three, viz. the Rungpore, Julpigoree, and Bogra jails, appeared in a similar list of seven last year. Out of 59 deaths at Rungpore, 33 were due to bowel-complaints and 5 to fever. At Julpigoree there were 17 deaths, ten being due to bowel-complaints and two to cholera. At the Mymensingh jail out of 53 deaths, 33 were due to bowel-complaints. The other jails suffered in a similar manner. At Rajshahye there were 78 deaths, of which 11 were caused by cholera. The subject of the high rate of mortality in the jails in Eastern Bengal has been repeatedly considered by the Lieutenant-Governor in the Resolutions on the reports of former years, and he has nothing to add to the conclusions at which he has arrived, viz. that the primary cause of mortality is the diseased condition of the low class of people to which the prisoners generally belong, and that no known preventible causes exist in the jails. Every sanitary precaution has been and will continue to be taken for preserving the health of the prisoners, and although this has not been hitherto always attended with decided success, the Lieutenant-Governor still hopes that with perseverance, and by utilizing the knowledge obtained from special inquiries, a real improvement is gradually being effected in the health of the prisoners.

32. The Inspector-General inspected the eight central jails, 30 out of the 37 district jails and 20 of the subsidiary jails. The general management of all the central and most of the district jails is reported to have been satisfactory. Explanations will be called for from the Magistrates of districts who failed to pay weekly visits of inspection to district jails. Among them are the Magistrates of Nuddea, Chittagong and Sarun, whose shortcomings in this respect were noticed in the Resolution on the report for 1883. Dr. Lethbridge was Inspector-General of Jails until 22nd March 1884, when he went on furlough. He was succeeded by Mr. E. V. Westmacott, C.S., who has since remained in charge.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

F. B. PEACOCK,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

LONDON EXHIBITION OF 1886.

The 11th August 1885.—The following extract from a letter from C. S. Bayley, Esq., Under-Secretary to the Government of India in the Revenue and Agricultural Department, to the Government of Bengal, bearing No. $\frac{227\text{Ex.}}{79-3}$, dated the 18th July 1885, is published for general information.

H. H. RISLEY,

Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

"In continuation of Mr. Buck's letter No. $\frac{1069\text{Ex.}}{79-1}$, dated the 23rd June 1885, I am directed, in order to prevent possible misapprehension, to explain that the Government of India, in inviting the assistance of the Government of Bengal and of the Mercantile Community of the Province, in the prominent representation of the principal commercial products of Bengal at the Colonial and Indian Exhibition, has no intention of imposing expenditure on Provincial Funds. It will therefore be prepared to meet any necessary expenditure which may be incurred in giving effect to these proposals. At the same time, as the funds at the disposal of the Revenue and Agricultural Department are limited, the Government of India will gladly accept any contributions of samples which Merchants or local Institutions may desire to offer."

31	Sarun, „ 15 „	4·24	Weather—fair with occasional clouds and rain. Prospects of bhadoi crops good, except where swamped on dearah lands. Manufacture of indigo (first cutting) nearly completed with fair outturn. Transplanting of paddy seedlings going on briskly. Cholera of a virulent form in the Chuprah town (where special sanitary measures are being taken), and cases, more or less severe, reported from other places in the interior.
	Sewan ...	11·28
	Gopalgunge ...	5·77
32	Chumparun „ 15 „	6·29	Weather—cloudy with easterly wind. Prospects of bhadoi and aghani crops favourable. Some damage has been done to crops by floods from the Sikrahua and from several hill streams. Prices stationary. Cholera still prevails in an epidemic form in Motihari town and in several parts of the interior.
Bhagulpore Div. 33	Monghyr, Aug. 15 '85	2·10	Weather—hotter towards the end of the week. The sudden rise of the Ganges has caused damage to the Indian-corn on the dearah lands, otherwise prospects good. Transplanting of the aghani is being rapidly pushed on. Prices steady. Cholera continues.
	Beguserai ...	3·29
	Jamai ...	4·13
34	Bhagulpore, „ 15 „	4·48	A long period of continuous wet weather has been succeeded by sunshine during last three days. Great damage has been done to the janera crop by floods of the Ganges in the Sudder sub-division, and some damage in Banka by excessive rain; otherwise prospects in the south are very good. More rain is wanted for transplanting rice in the north, where the crop is suffering from insufficient rain. A great deal of cholera in Banka and in thanas Sultangunge and Colgong.
	Mudehpurah ...	2·17
	Banka ...	3·25
	Soopole ...	2·41
35	Purneah „ 15 „	2·49	Weather—showery. Bhadoi crops good; more rain required for transplanting aghani rice. Ganges and Kosi in flood. Crops damaged in Manihari. Health fair.
	Kissengunge ...	3·60
	Arrareah ...	1·52
36	Maldah „ 15 „	2·71	Weather—cloudy and showery, and close alternately. Most of the bhadoi crop on low dearah lands has been destroyed by inundation. The high land crop will be very good in parts of the district, and prospects fair throughout. Haimanti prospects continue good. Public health fair.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h., and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86 formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

o overcast, d drizzling rain, g gloomy, p passing temporary showers, t thunder.

the past ten years. The variations are negative when the mean for the week is less than the corresponding normal mean, and positive when greater. The number denoting cloud amount represents the part of the sky covered, the whole sky being denoted by 10. Under the head "District" observations for the period in question during the past 12 years. The means of the "district" are the numerical averages of the rainfall return received from those on which at least an hundredth of an inch fell.

Calcutta, the 17th August 1885.

SUMMARY OF THE RAINFALL AND METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 14TH OF AUGUST 1885.

At the close of the last week a small cyclonic storm which had previously generated in Central Bengal had moved in a north-westerly direction, and was on the 7th distinctly perceptible near Gya, but it had become very feeble and was evidently breaking up. With the advance of this small storm a fairly strong monsoon current set in from the Bay of Bengal, and on the 7th all stations in the Province, except perhaps Dehree and Hazaribagh, were influenced by the Bengal branch of the monsoon only. On the 8th instant, however, a rather stronger advance of the Bombay current took place, and a westerly wind current set in over the greater part of the Province, and extended as far even as Serajgunge. This was followed by a rather rapid increase of pressure at the western stations, while it fell at the eastern stations. At the same time of course there was a very considerable amount of interaction between the two opposing wind currents, and this was followed by general rain, the rainfall being particularly heavy at the stations in Behar and North Bengal. This action between the opposing currents apparently set up a slight circulation of winds in Central Bengal, and on the following day this was accompanied by falling pressure, which was particularly noticeable in the eastern parts of Central Bengal, and thus the formation of a feeble, but still distinct barometric depression, was determined on the 9th, the centre of which was apparently between Calcutta and Jessore, and round which there was decided cyclonic circulation of winds, though the wind velocities were feeble. The depression was, however, of such slight importance that by the 10th it had almost disappeared, and a second small depression was formed in the north-west angle of the Bay, the centre being apparently between Balasore and False Point. On this day pressure was comparatively low at Saugor Island, and while the greater part of the Province showed a pressure only slightly in defect of the normal, at Saugor Island the defect was more than 0·1″. On this day winds at the head of the Bay showed distinct circulation round the area of low pressure, but in all cases they were light. On the morning of the 11th the depression had moved in a westerly direction, and its centre was to the west of Cuttack, where pressure was no less than 0·13″ below the normal, and again on this day the winds in the districts affected by the depression showed distinct convergence to the area of low pressure. On the 12th this area of low pressure disappeared, but only to be followed by a falling pressure at Gopalpur, and it was evident that a depression was forming off the South Orissa coast, for the wind directions were irregular, and in some instances showed indraught towards the Bay. On the 13th the falling pressure at Gopalpur continued, and it was clear that a small depression had formed off this coast, and that its centre was not far from Gopalpur, and also that it was advancing in a north-westerly direction. There was of course the usual tendency to cyclonic circulation of winds round the area of low pressure. On the morning of the 14th or the last day of the week under review, the depression had moved inland and was near Cuttack, but the whirl was a very feeble one, and the winds which circulated round it were comparatively light, while over the remainder of the Province a fairly strong easterly current had set in.

Three very small and feeble depressions have thus been formed during the week, but in each case they have only existed for a day or two, and have had generally only a feeble action on the meteorology of the Province. It will, however, be noticed that, after the first general advance of the westerly winds which gave heavy rain to North and South Behar and North Bengal, the three depressions have formed, the first in Central Bengal, the second near the South-West Bengal coast, and the third off the South Orissa coast. In each case the indraught towards these slight depressions has had the effect of drawing away the moisture-laden winds from the eastern and northern parts of Bengal and of preventing the same winds from advancing towards the western parts of the Province, and thus for about the last three days of the week rainfall was very scanty or practically absent from Chutia Nagpur, South Behar, North Behar, North Bengal and East Bengal, though of course rainfall was more general in South-West Bengal and Orissa. It will also be seen that while conditions were at the beginning of the week favourable for heavy rainfall over Behar and North Bengal, and for the greater part of the week they have been moderately favourable for rainfall over South-West Bengal, Orissa, and to a certain extent Chutia Nagpur, the conditions have been unfavourable throughout the week for the production of heavy rainfall in East Bengal, and thus this district has received a comparatively scanty fall.

The average pressure for the previous week was very nearly normal, the variation being a defect of 0·007″ only. As described previously, there was at first a general increase of pressure due to the setting in of westerly winds and the occurrence of heavy rainfall, but subsequently pressure decreased again, and became nearly normal, and with the successive formation of the three barometric depressions noted above, pressure of course decreased and became below the normal, particularly in the districts affected by the depressions. The actual pressure variations have to a great extent followed the formation and advance of the small whirls, and, as described previously, on some days pressure has been largely below the normal at stations thus influenced. The average pressure for the whole province for the week shows a defect of 0·04″ from the normal, but this variation has of course been rather unequally distributed, and while Orissa shows a defect of 0·07″, South-West Bengal shows a defect of 0·05″, and East Bengal, South Behar and Chutia Nagpur have registered a defect of about 0·03.″ In North Behar pressure has been nearly normal. The greatest average defect at any single station has been 0·08″ at Cuttack.

The oscillations of temperature during the week have been rather larger than usual during the rainy season, but still of not much practical importance. For the first three days temperature was rather below the normal, and with the heavy rainfall which occurred at this time, the tendency was for temperature to fall. On the 10th temperature was below the normal in all districts, and at Patna the defect was as much as 7°. With the cessation of the heavy rainfall, and particularly when the depression was forming off the Orissa coast, and where the wind systems showed indraught towards the disturbed area, temperature rose rather rapidly, and it was for the last three days of the week generally above the normal. The average temperature for the week has therefore been not very far removed from the normal, except in Chutia Nagpur and South Behar, where temperature has been from 1° to 2° below the normal. In Orissa, South-West and East Bengal the average temperature is almost normal, while in North Behar it has been nearly 1° above the normal.

The week has again been characterised by good general rainfall over the greater part of the Province though, as stated before, the rainfall in East and North Bengal, and in Chutia Nagpur and parts of Orissa, has been somewhat below the normal. The number of rainy days in the Province has been almost equal to the normal, for while the normal number for the week is 4·5, the actual average number of rainy days has been 4·2. Even in those districts where the rainfall has been scanty, the number of rainy days has been about equal to and in some cases has exceeded the normal number, and thus it must be concluded that the showers in these districts during the week, while not less numerous than usual, must have been generally rather lighter in character.

The two meteorological divisions which have received falls in excess of the normal are North and South Behar. In South-West Bengal the fall has been practically normal; in North Bengal and Orissa it has been somewhat below it, and in East Bengal and Chutia Nagpur decidedly below it. Thus North Behar has received a fall of 3·92 inches against the normal fall of 2·95 inches, which is equal to an excess fall of 33 per cent. South Behar has received 2·96 inches against 2·81 inches, or 5 per cent. in excess. In South-West Bengal the average fall received in the week was 2·7 inches as compared with the normal 3·03 inches, and this district has thus been in defect by 11 per cent. Orissa has reported 1·71 inches against the normal 2·72 inches and is thus 37 per cent. in defect. North Bengal registers 2·22 inches against the usual 3·35 inches, and is thus 33 per cent. in defect. East Bengal has received 2·22 inches, while the normal is 4·21 inches, the defect is therefore 70 per cent., and finally Chutia Nagpur has received 1·45 inches against the normal fall of 2·98 inches, and is consequently no less than 52 per cent. in defect. Some extremely heavy rainfalls have again been reported during the week: thus on the 8th Mickligunge, Siliguri, Burhurwa, Gopalgunge, Jehanabad, Patna, Dinapore, Barrh and Simra, all reported between 3 and 4 inches, and Sewan reported the excessive fall of 7·32 inches. On the 9th Diamond Harbour reported 4·02 inches, Darjeeling 5·26 inches, Hajipore (Mozufferpore district) 4·59 inches, Paru (Mozufferpore district) 6·5 inches, Motihari 3·75 inches and Bettiah 5·66 inches. On the 10th Paru again reported 4·55 inches and Buxar 3·71 inches. On the 12th Buxa (Julpigori district) received 5·3 inches, but for the remainder of the week the rainfalls were much lighter, and in many parts of the Province rainfall was almost absent for the last three days.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the Province for the week ending Friday, the 14th of August 1885:—

MEMORANDA.

THE principal Municipalities in Bengal returned during the week ending 1st August 1885, the birth and death-rates of 24·1 and 43·7 per 1,000 of population, respectively, as opposed to 25·2 and 38·7 per 1,000, respectively, in the preceding week ending 25th July, indicating a falling off in the registration of births, and a considerable increase in that of deaths.

2. In the following Municipalities births and deaths are reported to have been recorded at the highest rates :—

Births.

	Ratio per mille.
Chittagong	56·4
Serampore	53·0
Bhagulpore	45·3
Durbhanga	39·4
Patna	35·4
Gya	33·5

Deaths.

	Ratio per mille.
Gya	91·5
Monghyr	90·4
Mozufferpore	68·1
Puri	67·2
Patna	64·8
Serampore	59·0
Bhagulpore	57·0
Suburbs of Calcutta	43·6
Chittagong	42·2
Arrah	40·8
Burdwan	38·1
Durbhanga	37·7
Midnapore	31·0

3. The principal diseases mentioned in the table appended to this memoranda proved fatal at the following rates in comparison with the results of the preceding week :—

	Ratio per mille during the weeks ending—
	1st August 1885.	25th July 1885.
Cholera	9·8	8·1
Small-pox	·4	·3
Fever	15·3	14·9
Bowel-complaints	6·8	4·6
Injury	·6	·5
Other causes	10·8	10·3

The above figures denote that there was an increase of mortality, to a more or less extent from all the death-causes, particularly from cholera and bowel-complaints.

4. Excluding injury, the casualties from which were high nowhere, and small-pox, which proved noticeably fatal only in Arrah Town, viz. at 4·8 per 1,000 of its population, the rest of the diseases caused the highest mortality in the following Municipalities :—

Cholera.

	Ratio per mille.
Monghyr	52·4
Mozufferpore ...	43·7
Puri	42·0
Gya	25·3
Arrah	10·8
Bhagulpore ...	9·9
Patna	9·1

Puri	21·0
Midnapore ...	17·0
Patna	16·8
Serampore ...	15·7
Bhagulpore ...	14·5
Suburbs of Calcutta	13·6

It will be seen that, in comparison with the results of the preceding week, the severity of cholera had abated considerably in Puri, but that in Monghyr, Mozufferpore and Gya the prevalence of the disease was very severe

5. The mortality referable to Sex, Class and Age, stands as indicated below :—

According to Sex.

	Ratio per mille.
Males	42·8
Females	44·6
Ratio of male deaths to every 100 female deaths ...	108

* A special census of the Europeans in the Darjiling Municipality was recently taken as the census of this section of the community, taken in February 1881, was not reliable owing to the Europeans being at a minimum in that month. The number of the natives remains as before, as it was not necessary to re-census them. The ratios have consequently been calculated on the revised population under all heads in the above table, except "Age," the ratios under which have been omitted, inasmuch as the census of the Europeans alluded to, cannot be employed as a basis of calculation owing to the results of the census under this head not having been recorded under the authorized form of age classification.

GENERAL REMARKS.

The decrease in the gross weight of traffic carried still continues in comparison with last year. Food-grain, seed, salt, and railway material are the staples which record the heaviest decreases.

In the market for food-grain there is nothing doing. The same may be said of seeds. Of railway material, none is passing up the line at present, and less coal is being imported by the Locomotive Department. On the other hand ginger, jute, miscellaneous, tea and tobacco show favourable increases. The total quantity of traffic lifted during the month was 13,539·01 tons against 14,390 69 tons last June.

Increases.

Ginger ... ... Tons 247·09
Still continues to be in demand.

Jute ... ... Tons 646·63
The rise and fall in prices during the month led to a strong business being done.

Miscellaneous ... ... Tons 873·81
Under this head the increases have been steady during the year.

Piece-goods ... ... Tons 15·63
It is satisfactory to note this increase in the face of the flooded state of the country. The tone of the Calcutta market has greatly improved since the political situation has been more settled.

Sugar ... ... Tons 18·48
Nattore, Rungpore, Dinagepore and Jalpaiguri are importing sugar.

Tea ... ... Tons 263·02
Prices are fair and competition is brisk, and almost all lots offered for sale are finding buyers.

Tobacco ... ... Tons 770·49
In this staple a very brisk demand has sprung up locally and for Burma.

Decreases.

Ale ... ... Tons 5·87
There has apparently been no despatches of Commissariat beer during the month.

Food-grain ... ... Tons 1,901·64
Prices are nominal, and no business of any kind is doing.

Gunny-bags ... ... Tons 105·25
The demand seems confined to consignments for packing purposes.

Railway material ... ... Tons 1,069·74
No stores are coming forward for the Assam-Behar Railway, and the Locomotive Department is importing less coal than it did last year.

Salt ... ... Tons 291·74
I am unable to assign any reason for the continued decrease in the face of reduced rates.

Seeds ... ... Tons 312·59
The market is quiet, and very limited business is doing.

Allen Meabs,
Dy. Traffic Manager.

Jamalpur, the 10th August 1885.

General Remarks on the fluctuation of principal staples carried over the East Indian Railway during the month ended 30th June 1885.

INCREASES.

Coal.—The increase in the upward coal is due to an active demand for foreign railways, and that in the downward coal is due to despatches to Howrah for supply to steamers.

Railway Material, Foreign.—This increase is attributable to despatches of material for the Cawnpore-Kalpi and Bilaspore Katni Railways.

Wheat.—There has been an increase in the weight carried of this staple, attended with a decrease in the earnings, and this was due to the short lead traffic from the Punjab to Bombay viâ Ghaziabad and Delhi.

Seeds.—The improvement in seeds is due to improved demand for export.

Sugar and Jaggree.—This increase is accounted for by an active demand and good prices ruling in the mofussil markets.

Piece-goods.—A reaction from the late depression in the trade, consequent upon political uncertainty, accounts for this increase.

Cotton.—The small increase in this commodity is attributable to ordinary fluctuation of trade.

Lac.—Better accounts from home and advanced prices led to this increase.

Saltpetre.—Due to ordinary fluctuation of trade

Stone.—Improved demand for building and public works purposes accounts for the increase in this staple.

DECREASES.

Rice (husked and unhusked)—The decrease in the commodity is assignable to the failure of the rice crop in the Beerbhoom and Burdwan districts.

Salt.—This decrease is due to deficiency in the outturn at the Sambhar lakes.

NOTIFICATION.

The 11th August 1885.—It is hereby notified for general information that the Lieutenant-Governor intends, in the exercise of the powers vested in him by section 180 of Act IX (B.C.) of 1880, to confirm the following bye-laws, which have been framed by the District Road Committee of Tipperah at a meeting, unless good reasons are shown to the contrary within one month from the date of the publication of this notification :—

BYE-LAWS.

I. No person shall encroach upon, or cause damage to, any road or slopes thereof under the charge of the Committee, by raising or attempting to raise crops thereon, or by taking earth or grass therefrom.

II. No person shall tether any beast so that it can stray upon any road or slope thereof under the charge of the Committee.

III. No person shall, without having obtained leave in writing from the Chairman or Vice-Chairman of the District Road, or of a Branch Committee, cut any road in charge of the Committee.

IV. No person shall destroy, damage, or remove any tree or fence erected for the protection of any tree, or any post or boundary mark or other fixture situate on any bridge or road or slope thereof in charge of the Committee.

V. No person shall commit a nuisance on any road or slope or side ditch thereof in charge of the Committee.

VI. No person in charge of any cart or other conveyance or of any cattle shall cause such cart, conveyance, or cattle to remain stationary upon any road in charge of the Committee so as to obstruct the traffic thereon without reasonable excuse.

VII. No person in charge of any elephant shall allow that elephant to pass over any bridge or culvert in charge of the Committee, unless the same be of arched masonry.

VIII. No person shall make any dam or embankment or fix any stakes or obstructions whatever in any water channel in charge of the Committee, so as to interfere with the traffic thereon or render the channel unsafe for passengers.

Every person who shall offend against the foregoing bye-laws shall, on conviction before a Magistrate, be liable, under section 180, Act IX (B.C.) of 1880, for every such offence to a penalty of Rs. 10, and in the case of a continuing offence to a penalty of Rs. 2 for every day during which such offence is continued.

NOTIFICATION.

The 20th August 1885.—It is hereby notified that the following revised rules regarding the remuneration of Wharf Officers under the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, for overtime work, having been approved by the Lieutenant-Governor in supersession of existing rules, are published for general information.

Rules for working on Sundays, holidays, and after hours.

1. No work will be allowed on Sundays, New Year's Day, Good Friday, and Christmas Day.

2. On each application for work on general holidays, a fee of Rs. 10 will be charged, which will be divided between the Wharf Supervisor and the wharf officer employed under such application.

3. On each application for overtime work (i.e., work before and after working hours, from 7 to 10 A.M., and after 5 P.M. to sunset), either on such holidays or other week days, a fee of Rs. 2 per hour will be charged, which will be divided between the Wharf Supervisor and the wharf officer employed under such application, and a fee of 4 annas per hour for each peon.

4. No charge will be made for completing the delivery of a consignment when the time required does not exceed five minutes beyond office hours. If the time required for completing such delivery exceeds five minutes, the full fee for an hour will be charged.

5. Fees for overtime and holiday work must accompany each application, on receipt whereof the Wharf Supervisor will issue the order to take up the work.

J. WARE EDGAR,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTIFICATION.

BENGAL TENANCY ACT.

The 24th August 1885.—The following draft rules, under the provisions of Act VIII of 1885, are published for general information, in conformity with section 190 of the Act, and it is hereby notified that the draft will be taken into consideration by the Government of Bengal on the 1st of October 1885. Any objection or suggestion which may be made by any person with respect to the draft should be submitted to the Secretary to the Government of Bengal, in the Revenue Department, at Darjeeling, before the date specified above.

H. H. RISLEY,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Rules under the Bengal Tenancy Act.

1. The following scale of charges is prescribed on account of processes for distraint and sale under the Bengal Tenancy Act :—

(a)—In respect of the warrant of distraint—8 annas.

(b)—In respect of each man necessary to effect the distraint and also to ensure safe custody, where such man is to be left in actual possession—per diem, 4 annas.

(c)—In respect of action taken under section 126 (clause 2) for the reaping, storing, or preservation of the crop distrained—actual costs incurred.

2. In districts where, during a portion of the year, travelling, except by boat, is impracticable, boat-hire may, when it has to be incurred, be charged in addition to the fees payable under rule (1) above. The rates at which such boat-hire is to be charged shall be the same as those fixed for criminal processes under rule VII of the rules prescribed by the High Court under clause 2, section 20, Act VII of 1870, and shall be sufficient only to cover, on the whole, the actual cost of hiring boats, or of such boat establishment as it may be necessary to maintain for the purpose of serving processes of these classes.

3. When, in order to the service of any process, the peon has to cross a ferry, the amount, if any, legally demandable as toll shall be levied in cash before the delivery of the process to the peon from the person at whose instance the process is issued.

Orders and Notifications by the Government of India, &c.

[Reprinted from the Gazette of India.]

The following order, issued by the Government of India in the Legislative Department, is republished for general information.

F. B. PEACOCK,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTIFICATION.

Simla, the 13th August 1885.

No. 15.—The following Statute is published for general information :—

ARMY (ANNUAL) ACT, 1885.

48 VIC., CHAPTER 8.

An Act to provide, during twelve months, for the Discipline and Regulation of the Army.

[28th April 1885.]

WHEREAS the raising or keeping a standing army within the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland in time of peace, unless it be with the consent of Parliament, is against law :

And whereas it is adjudged necessary by Her Majesty and this present Parliament, that a body of forces should be continued for the safety of the United Kingdom and the defence of the possessions of Her Majesty's Crown, and that the whole number of such forces should consist of one hundred and forty-two thousand one hundred and ninety-four men, including those to be employed at the depôts in the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland for the training of recruits for service at home and abroad, but exclusive of the numbers actually serving within Her Majesty's Indian possessions :

And whereas it is also judged necessary for the safety of the United Kingdom, and the defence of the possessions of this realm, that a body of Royal Marine forces should be employed in Her Majesty's fleet and naval service, under the direction of the Lord High Admiral of the United Kingdom, or the Commissioners for executing the office of Lord High Admiral aforesaid :

And whereas the said marine forces may frequently be quartered or be on shore, or sent to do duty or be on board transport ships or vessels, merchant ships or vessels, or other ships or vessels, or they may be under other circumstances in which they will not be subject to the laws relating to the Government of Her Majesty's forces by sea :

And whereas no man can be forejudged of life or limb, or subjected in time of peace to any kind of punishment within this realm by martial law, or in any other manner than by the judgment of his peers and according to the known and established laws of this realm ; yet nevertheless it being requisite, for the retaining all the before mentioned forces, and other persons subject to military law, in their duty, that an exact discipline be observed, and that persons belonging to the said forces who mutiny or stir up sedition, or desert Her Majesty's service, or are guilty of crimes and offences to the prejudice of good order and military discipline, be brought to a more exemplary and speedy punishment than the usual forms of the law will allow:

44 & 45 Vic., c. 58.

And whereas the Army Act, 1881, will expire in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-five on the following days:

(a) in the United Kingdom, the Channel Islands, and the Isle of Man,—on the thirtieth day of April; and

(b) elsewhere in Europe, inclusive of Malta, also in the West Indies and America,—on the thirty-first day of July; and

(c) elsewhere, whether within or without Her Majesty's dominions,—on the thirty-first day of December:

Be it therefore enacted by the Queen's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

Short title.

1. This Act may be cited as the Army (Annual) Act, 1885.

Army Act (44 & 45 Vic., c. 58) to be in force for specified times.

2. (1) The Army Act, 1881, shall be and remain in force during the periods hereinafter mentioned, and no longer, unless otherwise provided by Parliament; that is to say,

(a) within the United Kingdom, the Channel Islands, and the Isle of Man,—from the thirtieth day of April one thousand eight hundred and eighty-five to the thirtieth day of April one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six, both inclusive; and

(b) elsewhere in Europe, inclusive of Malta, also in the West Indies and America,—from the thirty-first day of July one thousand eight hundred and eighty-five to the thirty-first day of July one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six, both inclusive; and

(c) elsewhere, whether within or without Her Majesty's dominions,—from the thirty-first day of December one thousand eight hundred and eighty-five to the thirty-first day of December one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six, both inclusive; and the day from which the Army Act, 1881, is continued in any place by this Act is in relation to that place referred to in this Act as the commencement of this Act.

44 & 45 Vic., c. 58.

(2) The Army Act, 1881, while in force shall apply to persons subject to military law, whether within or without Her Majesty's dominions.

(3) A person subject to military law shall not be exempted from the provisions of the Army Act, 1881, by reason only that the number of the forces for the time being in the service of Her Majesty, exclusive of the marine forces, is either greater or less than the number hereinbefore mentioned.

Prices in respect of billeting.

3. There shall be paid to the keeper of a victualling house for the accommodation provided by him in pursuance of the Army Act, 1881, the prices specified in the Schedule to this Act.

Amendments of Army Act, 1881.

Amendment of section 44 of 44 & 45 Vic, c 58, as the commutation of punishment.

4. Whereas sub-section ten of section forty-four of the Army Act, 1881, is as follows:—

"For the purposes of commutation of punishment, the summary punishment above-mentioned shall be deemed to stand in the scale of punishments next below penal servitude;"

And whereas it is expedient to authorise the commutation of imprisonment into summary punishment: Be it therefore enacted as follows:

In sub-section ten of section forty-four of the Army Act, 1881, the word "imprisonment" shall be substituted for the words "penal servitude."

Amendment of section 88 of 44 & 45 Vic., c. 58, as to the form of proclamation for continuing soldiers in the army service.

5. Whereas by sub-section one of section eighty-eight of the Army Act, 1881, Her Majesty is authorised under the circumstances therein mentioned by proclamation to direct that persons who would otherwise be entitled to be transferred to the reserve shall continue in army service for the same period for which they might be required to serve, if they had been transferred to the reserve and called out for permanent service by a proclamation under the Reserve Forces Act, 1882;

45 & 46 Vic., c. 48.

And whereas it is expedient to assimilate the terms of a proclamation under the said section to a proclamation under the Reserve Forces Act, 1882: Be it therefore enacted as follows:

In section eighty-eight of the Army Act, 1881, there shall be substituted for sub-section one thereof the following enactments (which shall be sub-sections one, two and three thereof, and the present sub-section two of the said section shall be numbered four):—

(1) It shall be lawful for Her Majesty in Council, in case of imminent national danger or of great emergency, by proclamation, the occasion being first communicated to Parliament if Parliament be then sitting, or if Parliament be not then sitting declared by the proclamation, to order that the soldiers who would otherwise be entitled in pursuance of the terms of their enlistment to be transferred to the reserve shall continue in army service.

(2) It shall be lawful for Her Majesty by any such proclamation to order a Secretary of State from time to time to give, and when given to revoke or vary, such directions as may seem necessary or proper for causing all or any of the soldiers mentioned in the proclamation to continue in army service.

(3) Every soldier for the time being required by or in pursuance of such directions to continue in army service shall continue to serve in army service for the same period for which he might be required to serve, if he had been transferred to the reserve and called out for permanent service by a proclamation of Her Majesty under the enactments relating to the reserve.

Amendment of s. 171 of 44 & 45 Vic., c. 58, as to the exercise of powers vested in holder of military office.

6 Whereas by section one hundred and seventy-one of the Army Act, 1881, it is enacted as follows:

"Any power or jurisdiction given to, or any act or thing to be done by, to, or before any person holding any military office may be exercised by, or done by, to, or before any other person for the time being authorised in that behalf according to the custom of the service."

And whereas doubts have arisen as to the application of the said section in certain cases, and it is expedient to remove such doubts: Be it therefore enacted as follows:

In section one hundred and seventy-one of the Army Act, 1881, there shall be added at the end thereof the words "or according to rules made under section seventy of this Act."

Amendment of s. 172 of 44 and 45 Vic., c. 58, as to the signing of orders in relation to prisoners.

7. Whereas doubts have arisen as to the application of sub-section one of section one hundred and seventy-two of the Army Act, 1881, to sub-section two thereof, and as to whether sub-section two extends to directions as well as orders, and it is expedient to remove such doubts: Be it therefore enacted as follows:

In section one hundred and twenty-two of the Army Act, 1881, there shall be substituted for sub-section two thereof above recited the following enactment:

(2) The foregoing enactment of this section shall extend to any order or directions issued in pursuance of this Act in relation to a military convict or military prisoner, and any such order or directions shall not be held void by reason of the death or removal from office of the officer signing or ordering the issue of the same, or by reason of any defect in such order or directions, if it be alleged in such order or directions that the convict or prisoner has been convicted, and there is a good and valid conviction to sustain the order or directions.

Commencement.

8. (1) The amendments of the Army Act, 1881, made by this Act shall take effect as from the commencement of this Act.

Printing and construction of amendments.

(2) Where any enactment or words is or are directed by this Act or by any enactment for the time being in force, whether passed before or after the passing of this Act, to be substituted in the Army Act, 1881, for any other enactment or words, or to be added to, or omitted from, the Army Act, 1881, then all copies of the Army Act, 1881, printed after such direction takes effect shall be printed with the said enactment or words added to the said Act or omitted therefrom, or printed therein, in lieu of any enactment or words for which the same is or are substituted, according as such direction requires, and with the sections and sub-sections numbered in accordance with such direction; and the said Act shall be construed as if it had, at the time at which such direction takes effect, been enacted with such addition, omission, or substitution.

(3) A reference in any enactment, whether passed before or after the passing of this Act, to the Army Act, 1881, shall, unless the context otherwise requires, be construed to refer to the Army Act, 1881, as amended by any enactment for the time being in force.

SCHEDULE.

Accommodation to be provided.	Maximum price.
Lodging and attendance for soldier where hot meal furnished ...	Two pence halfpenny per night.
Hot meal as specified in Part I of the Second Schedule to the Army Act, 1881.	One shilling and one penny halfpenny each.
Where no hot meal furnished, lodging and attendance, and candles, vinegar, salt, and the use of fire, and the necessary utensils for dressing and eating his meat.	Four pence per day.
Ten pounds of oats, twelve pounds of hay, and eight pounds of straw per day for each horse.	One shilling and nine pence per day.
Lodging and attendance for officer	Two shillings per night.

Note.—An officer shall pay for his food.

Home Department Resolution No. 34—1391-98, dated the 5th September 1884, directing the formation of a Committee to frame rules under the Indian Explosives Act, 1884.

A letter from the Committee, dated the 12th January 1885, submitting with explanatory remarks, a draft of proposed rules under the Act.

RESOLUTION.

OBSERVATIONS.—By the Resolution of the 5th September 1884, read in the preamble, a Committee, composed of the officers named in the margin, was appointed to consider the question of the rules to be issued under the Indian Explosives Act, 1884. The rules submitted by the Committee have been considered by the Government of India, and have been amended where necessary. A copy of the rules as amended is attached to this Resolution.

Major P. FitzG. Gallwey, R.A., Deputy Director-General of Ordnance in India.
Mr. G. S. Forbes, Officiating Under-Secretary to the Government of India in the Home Department.
Mr. J. M. Macpherson, Barrister-at-Law, Deputy Secretary to the Government of India in the Legislative Department.
Mr. N. St. L. Carter, Traffic Manager, East Indian Railway Company.

2. The rules appear to the Governor-General in Council to provide for all the subjects for which there is any present occasion. Those relating to Transport and Importation should, in the opinion of His Excellency in Council, be made and issued by the Government of India, while those relating to Manufacture, Possession, and Sale might appropriately be issued by Local Governments and Administrations after such adaptation as may be necessary to suit the local circumstances of each province.

3. No attempt has been made to frame rules for the keeping and transport of explosives within the limits of ports—matters formerly dealt with by the Ports Act, section 7, clause (o), and sections 28 to 34, both inclusive, of which will be repealed when the Explosives Act is brought into force. Each port must be considered separately, and rules for each prescribed with regard to its own circumstances.

4. It will be noticed that under section 5 of the Act, Local Governments are left a discretion in the application of the rules, and it is not necessary that the whole or any of the rules relating to manufacture, possession, and sale should be brought into operation, except in places where a real necessity for such rules may exist.

5. It was at first thought possible that simplification might be secured by confining importation to one or two of the best known explosives which are most useful for practical purposes, and by forbidding the importation of all other explosive substances. Further consideration, however, renders it doubtful whether it is expedient to do this, inasmuch as, in the present state of the industrial development of this country, explosives embraced in the classification adopted in the rules, but not now in actual use, may at any time become of importance and value for practical purposes.

6. The preliminary portion of the rules sets out the classification of explosives contained in the bye-laws made under the English Statute (38 Vic., cap. 17). There are doubtless many explosives known in Europe which at the present moment are neither manufactured, imported, nor used in India; but for the reasons given in the preceding paragraph, it has been deemed desirable to adopt the most exhaustive classification known.

7. One primary consideration kept in view in framing the rules has been to avoid the necessity of double licenses under the Indian Arms Act and the Explosives Act in the case of those explosives that are in common use throughout the country, and the manufacture, possession, sale, and importation of which are regulated under these former Act. With this object, the procedure and forms prescribed for these explosives under the Arms Act and the rules issued thereunder have been as far as possible preserved. The explosives thus specially dealt with are gunpowder, explosives of the 1st division of the 6th (ammunition) class, and explosives of the 7th (firework) class. These comprise all gunpowder ordinarily so called, safety cartridges, safety fuses for blasting, railway fog signals, percussion caps, firework compositions, and manufactured fireworks. It is not overlooked that the term "ammunition" as defined in the Arms Act embraces a larger number of explosive compounds; but it is only in the case of those above specified that the interests or convenience of dealers or of the general public appear to need special consideration.

8. The following order of treatment has been observed in drawing up the rules—(1) manufacture, possession, and sale; (2) transport; (3) importation; and (4) various general matters.

9. Under the head of manufacture, possession, and sale there is first a series of general rules (2—7) prohibiting, under penalty, manufacture, possession, or sale, except in accordance with a license. These are followed by rules (8—11) especially providing for th licensing of the manufacture, possession, and sale of gunpowder, ammunition, and fireworks. The procedure for obtaining a license to manufacture other explosives is then stated (rules 12—13). This is followed by rules relating to the licensing of possession of explosives other than gunpowder, &c, the subject being dealt with under two sets of provisions. First, rules 14—16 regulate the possession of small quantities of explosives; secondly, rules 17—22 provide for cases where larger quantities are to be kept. Provision is finally made (rules 23—26) for the licensing of sale.

To the general rules for the manufacture, possession, and sale of explosives are added provisoes specifying the cases in which licenses need not be taken out. such as the filling of cartridges, the possession of small quantities of explosives for private use, and the like.

10. In the special rules relating to gunpowder, ammunition, and fireworks, the Arms Act procedure has, as already explained, been observed. As, in practice, the licenses under that Act prescribe the quantity which may be dealt with throughout the year, the forms of license are to the same effect. But, in the interests of the public safety, the quantity to be kept at the same time on the licensed premises has been limited.

11. The licening of the manufacture of other explosives (rule 12 and 13) has, it will be noticed, been left entirely to the Governor-General in Council. It is believed that the manufacture of such explosive as dynamite or nitro-glycerine is not at present carried on in India, and it is probably unlikely that this will be the case for some time to come. Detailed regulations on the subject do not therefore appear to be immediately called for. Proposals for the establishment of a factory should, it is thought, receive the special sanction of the Government of India in each case.

12. With regard to the possession of explosives, rules 14—16 provide for the licensing of the possession of small quantities not exceeding 60 lb. This is the maximum quantity which may, in the opinion of the Government of India, be safely possessed at the same time under the less stringent precautions which such licenses impose. Quantities in excess of this amount must be kept in a magazine (rules 17—20). The procedure for obtaining a magazine license follows in its main lines the procedure in force in England. It is designed to give ample notice to all persons likely to be injuriously affected by the establishment of a magazine. It also enables the local authorities both to make full enquiry as to the desirability of complying with an application, and to prescribe the conditions on which a license may be granted. No special procedure in favour of municipal or local bodies desiring to establish a public magazine seems to be required, as it is considered that the regular procedure should be followed by municipal corporations equally with private persons.

13. Looking to the highly dangerous character of all explosives of the fulminate class, it has been deemed expedient (rules 21 and 22) to leave it to the Governor-General in Council to license the possession of any explosive of that class under such conditions as he may see fit in each case to prescribe.

14. Licenses for the sale of explosives can be granted only to persons already licensed to possess them. The premises on which sale is conducted will thus be subject to whatever conditions are imposed on such premises by the possession license. The fee for a sale license has, in view of its being an additional license, been limited to Rs. 5.

15. It has not been considered necessary to require transport to be carried on under license. Explosives falling under the Indian Arms Act will remain subject to such licenses as have been prescribed by the rules issued under that enactment, and, such being the case, it seems sufficient to confine the rules to be issued under the Explosives Act to laying down the regulations under which transport shall be conducted. The transport rules fall under two heads—(1) rules with respect to the packing of explosives for conveyance, and (2) rules as to the mode of conveyance. The packing rules deal with each class of explosive separately. The conveyance rules lay down (a) general regulations (rule 31); (b) regulations (rule 32) relating specially to conveyance by road or vessel; and (c) regulations (rule 33) specially relating to railways. The railway rules follow closely the rules drawn up by the Committee appointed in the year 1881 for the purpose of framing regulations for the conveyance of ammunition and other explosives by railway.

16. With regard to importation, the rules (35—46) are restricted to importation by sea. Importation by land or river does not at present require to be specially regulated under the Explosives Act. As in the case of manufacture, possession, and sale, the importation of gunpowder, ammunition, and fireworks has been specially dealt with (rule 38) so as to make the procedure identical with that prescribed under the Arms Act.

The importation of other explosives has been limited to the ports which are now authorised for the import of gunpowder. It has been provided that no such explosive shall be imported until it has passed a test to be prescribed by the Government of India. At the same time, in order to prevent inconvenience, the proviso to rule 35 has been so framed as to allow explosives of English manufacture which, in the case of the more dangerous explosives, is carried on under strict Government supervision, and other explosives to which the Governor-General in Council may extend the privilege, to be landed on certain conditions previous to the application of the test. The tests which should be prescribed are under the consideration of the Government of India.

17. Under the head of "General," provision has been made for several matters connected with the granting of licenses. Rules 49, 50, and 51, relating to stamps, fees, and the currency of licenses, follow corresponding rules under the Arms Act. Rule 54 empowers, in accordance with the provisions of section 15 of the Act, the authority granting a license under the rules to direct by an order written on the same that it shall have the effect of a like license under the Arms Act. By rule 55 persons lawfully entitled under the Arms Act to possess ammunition enjoy the same privileges in respect of possession and import under the Explosives Act as they enjoy under section 6 of the Arms Act.

18. Finally, it may be observed that the rules have no application in the case of Government explosives (see section 14 of the Act).

19. Copy of a notification required by section 18 (1) of the Explosives Act, which will appear in the next issue of the Gazette of India, publishing a draft of the rules to be issued by the Governor-General in Council, for the information of persons likely to be affected thereby, is enclosed, as also copy of a notification which will be issued under section 18 (2) of the Act, prescribing the manner in which draft rules shall be published by authorities making them. The first of these notifications with the draft rules should be republished in three consecutive issues of the Local Gazettes, and copies should at the same time be freely distributed to English and Vernacular newspapers, and should further be published at the head-quarters of all districts, sub-divisions, and tahsils or taluks and communicated to all municipal bodies. A similar distribution should be made of the draft rules eventually framed by the Local Government, though it is not considered necessary to prescribe this in the notification issued under clause 2 of the section.

20. The rules to be issued by Local Governments under the Act should in due course be submitted for the sanction of the Government of India.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the above Resolution, with a copy of the draft rules, be forwarded to all Local Governments and Administrations for information and guidance, and that a copy be forwarded to the Military and Public Works Departments for information; and that the Resolution, with the rules, be published in the Gazette of India for general information.

DRAFT.

DRAFT RULES UNDER THE EXPLOSIVES ACT, 1884.

PRELIMINARY.

1. For the purposes of these rules explosives shall be classified as follows, namely:—

Class	1	...	...	...	... Gunpowder.
Do.	2	...	...	...	... Nitrate-mixture.
Do.	3	...	...	...	... Nitro-compound.
Do.	4	...	...	...	... Chlorate-mixture.
Do.	5	...	...	...	... Fulminate.
Do.	6	...	...	...	... Ammunition.
Do.	7	...	...	...	... Firework.

And when an explosive falls within the description of more than one class, it shall be deemed to belong exclusively to the latest of the classes within the description of which it falls.

The term "gunpowder" means exclusively gunpowder ordinarily so called.

CLASS 2.—Nitrate-mixture Class.

The term "nitrate-mixture" means any preparation other than gunpowder ordinarily so called, formed by the mechanical mixture of a nitrate with any form of carbon or with any carbonaceous substance not possessed of explosive properties, whether sulphur be or be not added to such preparation, and whether such preparation be or be not mechanically mixed with any other non-explosive substance.

The nitrate-mixture class comprises such explosives as—

Pyrolithe,
Pudrolithe,
Poudre saxifragine,

and any preparation coming within the above definition.

CLASS 3.—Nitro-compound Class.

The term "nitro-compound" means any chemical compound possessed of explosive properties, or capable of combining with metals to form an explosive compound, which is produced by the chemical action of nitric acid (whether mixed or not with sulphuric acid) or of a nitrate mixed with sulphuric acid upon any carbonaceous substance, whether such compound is mechanically mixed with other substances or not.

The nitro-compound class has two divisions.

Division 1 comprises such explosives as—

Nitro-glycerine,	Dualine,
Dynamite,	Glyoxiline,
Lithofracteur,	Methylic nitrate,

and any chemical compound or mechanically mixed preparation which consists either wholly or partly of nitro-glycerine or of some other liquid nitro-compound.

Division 2 comprises such explosives as—

Gun-cotton, ordinarily so called,	Cotton gunpowder,
Gun-paper,	Schultz's powder,
Xyloidine,	Nitro-mannite.
Gun sawdust,	Picrates,
Nitrated gun-cotton,	Picric powder,

and any nitro-compound as before defined, which is not comprised in the first division.

CLASS 4.—Chlorate-mixture Class.

The term "chlorate-mixture" means any explosive containing a chlorate.

The chlorate-mixture class has two divisions.

Division 1 comprises such explosives as—

Horsley's blasting powder,
Brain's blasting powder,

and any chlorate preparation which consists partly of nitro-glycerine or of some other liquid nitro-compound.

Division 2 comprises such explosives as—

Horsley's original blasting powder,	Reichen's blasting charges,
Erhardt's powder,	Teutonite,
Reverley's powder,	Chlorated gun-cotton,
Hochstadter's blasting charges,

and any chlorate-mixture as before defined, which is not comprised in the first division.

CLASS 5.—Fulminate Class.

The term "fulminate" means any chemical compound or mechanical mixture, whether included in the foregoing classes or not, which, from its great susceptibility to detonation, is suitable for employment in percussion caps or any other appliances for developing detonation, or which, from its extreme sensibility to explosion, and from its great instability (that is to say, readiness to undergo decomposition from very slight exciting causes), is especially dangerous.

This class consists of two divisions.

Division 1 comprises such compounds as the fulminates of silver and of mercury, and preparations of these substances, such as are used in percussion caps, and any preparation consisting of a mixture of a chlorate with phosphorous, or certain descriptions of phosphorous compounds, with or without the addition of carbonaceous matter, and any preparation consisting of a mixture of a chlorate with sulphur, or with a sulphuret, with or without carbonaceous matter.

Division 2 comprises such substances as the chloride and the iodide of nitrogen, fulminating gold and silver, diazobenzol, and the nitrate of diazobenzol.

CLASS 6 —Ammunition Class.

The term "ammunition" means an explosive of any of the foregoing classes when enclosed in any case or contrivance, or otherwise adapted or prepared so as to form a cartridge or charge for small arms, cannon or any other weapon, or for blasting, or to form any safety or other fuze for blasting or for shells, or to form any tube for firing explosives, or to form a percussion cap, a detonator, a fog signal, a shell, a torpedo, a war rocket, or other contrivance other than a firework.

The term "percussion cap" does not include a detonator.

The term "detonator" means a capsule or case which is of such strength and construction, and contains an explosive of the fulminate-explosive class in such quantity that the explosion of one capsule or case will communicate the explosion to other like capsules or cases.

The term "safety fuze" means a fuze for blasting which burns and does not explode, and which does not contain its own means of ignition, and which is of such strength and construction and contains an explosive in such quantity that the burning of such fuze will not communicate laterally with other like fuzes.

The expression "safety cartridges" means cartridges for small arms of which the case can be extracted from the small arm after firing, and which are so closed as to prevent any explosion in one cartridge being communicated to other cartridges.

The ammunition class has three divisions.

Division 1 comprises exclusively—

Safety cartridges.
Safety fuzes for blasting.
Railway fog signals.
Percussion caps.

Division 2 comprises any ammunition as before defined which does not contain its own means of ignition, and is not included in Division 1, such as—

Cartridges for small arms, which are not safety cartridges,
Cartridges and charges for cannon, shells, mines, blasting, or other like purposes,
Shells and torpedoes containing any explosive,
Fuzes for blasting, which are not safety fuzes,
Fuzes for shells,
Tubes for firing explosives,
War rockets,

which do not contain their own means of ignition.

Division 3 comprises any ammunition as before defined which contains its own means of ignition, and is not included in division 1, such as—

Detonators,
Cartridges for small arms, which are not safety cartridges,
Fuzes for blasting, which are not safety fuzes,
Fuzes for shells,
Tubes for firing explosives,

which do contain their own means of ignition.

By "ammunition containing its own means of ignition is meant ammunition having an arrangement, whether attached to it or forming part of it, which is adapted to explode or fire the same by friction or percussion.

CLASS 7.—Firework Class.

The term "firework" comprises firework composition and manufactured fireworks.

Division 1.—The term "firework composition" means any chemical compound or mechanically mixed preparation of an explosive or inflammable nature which is used for the purpose of making manufactured fireworks, and is not included in the former classes of explosives, and also any coloured fire composition.

Division 2.—The term "manufactured firework" means any explosive of the foregoing classes and any firework composition, when such explosive or composition is enclosed in any case or contrivance, or is otherwise manufactured so as to form a squib, cracker, serpent, rocket (other than a war-rocket), maroon, star, lance, wheel, Chinese fire, Roman candle, or other article adapted for the production of pyrotechnic effects or pyrotechnic signals.

MANUFACTURE, POSSESSION, AND SALE.

(a) General Rules.

2. An explosive shall not be manufactured except under and in accordance with the conditions of a license to manufacture the explosive granted under these rules.

Nothing in this rule shall apply—

(a) to the making of a small quantity of an explosive for the purpose of chemical experiment, and not for practical use or for sale; or

(b) to the filling for private use and not for sale of any safety cartridges to the amount allowed by these rules to be possessed for private use.

3. If any person manufactures an explosive in contravention of rule 2, he shall be punished with fine which may extend to three thousand rupees.

4. An explosive shall not be possessed except under and in accordance with the conditions of a license to possess the explosive granted under these rules:

Provided that this rule shall not apply—

(1) to a person possessing for his private use and not for sale—

(a) gunpowder to an amount not exceeding on the same premises 80lb or in lieu of the said quantity of gunpowder 15lb of any other explosive, or in lieu of any less amount of gunpowder not so possessed, half that amount of other explosive; or

(b) gunpowder contained in safety cartridges to an amount not exceeding 150lb, or in lieu thereof 150lb of any explosive contained in ammunition of the 1st division of class 6, or in lieu of any less amount of gunpowder not so possessed, that amount of any explosive so contained:

Exception.—Nothing in the foregoing portion of the proviso to this rule shall be held to authorize the possession for private use—

(a) of any explosive of the 5th (fulminate) class; or

(b) of any explosive whereof the possession has been prohibited absolutely by notification under section 6 of the Act; or,

(c) where the possession of an explosive has by notification under that section been prohibited subject to conditions, of any such explosive except subject to those conditions.

(2) to the possession of an unlimited quantity of fireworks, if obtained and intended for immediate use and not for sale, and if kept for a period not exceeding 14 days in a safe and suitable place, and with all due precautions for the public safety :

(3) to the possession of any explosive by a person licensed to manufacture the explosive :

(4) to the possession of any explosive by a carrier or other person for the purpose of transport when the same is being kept or transported in accordance with the provisions of the rules made under the Act with respect to the transport of such explosive : or

(5) to the possession of any gunpowder, rockets, or other explosive on board any ship in pursuance of the provisions of the Merchant Shipping Acts, or any order or regulation under those Acts.

5. If any person possesses an explosive in contravention of rule 4, he shall be punished with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees.

6. An explosive shall not be sold except under and in accordance with the conditions of a license to sell the explosive granted under these rules :

Provided that this rule shall not apply to any person selling any explosive which for his own private use he lawfully possesses to any person who is not legally prohibited from possessing the same.

7. If any person sells an explosive in contravention of rule 6, he shall be punished with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees.

(b) Licensing of the manufacture, possession, and sale of gunpowder and certain explosives.

8. Licenses to manufacture, possess, and sell, or to possess and sell or to possess) an explosive of the 1st (gunpowder) class or of the 1st division of the 6th (ammunition class or of the 7th (firework) class to such total amount during the currency of the license, and in such places as shall be approved by the licensing officer, may be granted in a Presidency Town by the Commissioner of Police, and elsewhere by the District Magistrate :

Provided that nothing in any such license shall be deemed to entitle the license-holder to keep at the same time in the place to which the license applies more than 200 lb of gunpowder, 500 lb of explosive contained in ammunition of the 1st division of the 6th (ammunition) class, and 200 lb of fireworks, or any such less quantity of any of these explosives as the licensing officer may direct in this behalf.

9. The following fees shall be paid for every license granted under the last foregoing rule, namely—

(1) a fee of twenty rupees for every license to manufacture, possess, and sell :

(2) a fee of ten rupees for every license to possess and sell ; and

(3) a fee of eight annas for every license to possess.

10. Every license granted under rule 8 shall be in Form A, B or C in the Schedule hereto annexed as the case may be, and shall be subject to the conditions prescribed therein.

11 If any person commits a breach of any condition subject to which a license under rule 8 is granted, he shall be punished with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees.

(c) Licensing of the manufacture of other explosives.

12. Licenses to manufacture explosives other than those referred to in rule 8 shall be granted by the Governor-General in Council on payment of such fees in such form for such term and subject to such conditions as the Governor-General in Council may in each case prescribe : Provided that the Governor-General in Council shall in the case of any such license, prescribe all the conditions which are hereinafter prescribed for licenses to possess an explosive of the same description and quantity as the manufacturing license is to cover.

13. If any person commits a breach of any condition subject to which a license under rule 12 is granted, he shall be punished with fine which may extend to three thousand rupees.

(d) Licensing of the possession of small quantities of other explosives.

14. Licenses for the possession at such places as shall be approved by the licensing officer of explosives other than those specified in rule 8, shall, if the explosive is not one of the 5th (fulminate) class, and if the quantity to be possessed at the same time does not exceed 60 pounds, be granted in a Presidency Town by the Commissioner of Police, and elsewhere by the District Magistrate.

15. Every license granted under rule 14 shall be in Form D in the Schedule hereto annexed, and shall be subject to the conditions prescribed therein. A fee of five rupees shall be paid for every such license.

16. If any person commits a breach of any condition subject to which a license under rule 14 is granted, he shall be punished with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees.

(c) Licensing of the possession of explosives generally.

17. Licenses for the possession of explosives generally shall, if the explosive is not one of the 5th (fulminate) class, be granted by the Local Government in accordance with the following procedure:—

(1) The applicant shall submit to the District Magistrate, or, in a Presidency Town, to the Commissioner of Police, an application in writing, accompanied by a plan (drawn to scale) of the place in which it is proposed to keep the explosive (herein referred to as the magazine) and the site thereof.

(2) The application shall specify such of the following matters as are applicable, namely—

(a) the boundaries of the land forming the site of the magazine, and either any belt of land surrounding the site which is to be kept clear and the buildings and works from which it is to be kept clear, or the distances to be maintained between the magazine, or any part thereof, and other buildings and works;

(b) the situation, character, and construction of all the mounds, buildings, and works on or connected with the magazine and the distances thereof from each other;

(c) the amount of explosive and of ingredients thereof wholly or partly mixed to be allowed at the same time within the boundaries of the magazine; and

(d) any especial terms which the applicant may propose by reason of any special circumstances arising from the locality, the situation, or construction of any buildings or works, or the nature of any process or otherwise.

(3) Upon receipt of the said application—

(a) The District Magistrate or Commissioner of Police, as the case may be, shall thereupon cause notice to be published of the application, and fix a date on which any persons shall be heard objecting to the establishment of a magazine on the proposed site who have not less than seven clear days before the day of hearing sent to the said District Magistrate or Commissioner of Police and to the applicant notice of their intention to appear and object, with their name, address, and calling, and a short statement of the grounds of their objection.

(b) Where the site of the proposed magazine is situate within, or within one mile of, the limits of the jurisdiction of any Municipality or of any Port authority, the applicant shall serve on such authority notice of the application and of the date of hearing by the District Magistrate or Commissioner of Police.

(c) The said notices shall be published and served at the cost of the applicant by the District Magistrate or Commissioner of Police not less than one month before the date of hearing.

(d) The District Magistrate or Commissioner of Police shall fix the date of hearing as soon as practicable after application is made to him, and the time so fixed shall be as soon as practicable after the expiration of the said month from the publication and service of the notices by the applicant.

(e) On consideration of the application, and on making such enquiry as may be deemed necessary, the District Magistrate or Commissioner of Police may dissent altogether from the establishment of such new magazine on the proposed site, or assent thereto, either absolutely, or on any conditions requiring additional restrictions or precautions.

(f) On the completion of the enquiry the District Magistrate or Commissioner of Police shall forward the application with his recommendation to the Local Government. The Local Government may thereupon either grant the license applied for either in accordance with the recommendation of the District Magistrate or Commissioner of Police or with the addition of any additional restrictions and precautions as may be deemed proper, or the Local Government may refuse such license.

(g) If the Local Government grant a license, it shall forward the same to the District Magistrate or Commissioner of Police, who, when satisfied that the magazine is sufficiently completed according to the license to justify the use thereof, shall confirm the license; but, until so confirmed, the license shall not come into force.

18. A fee of 20 rupees shall be paid for every license granted under rule 17.

19. Every license granted under rule 17 shall be in Form E in the Schedule hereto annexed, and shall be subject to the conditions prescribed therein.

20. If any person commits a breach of any conditions subject to which a license under rule 17 is granted, he shall be punished with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees.

21. Licenses for the possession of explosives of the 5th (fulminate) class shall be granted by the Governer-General in Council on payment of such fees and in such form and subject to such conditions as he may in each case prescribe.

22. If any person commits a breach of ony condition subject to which a license is granted under rule 21, he shall be punished with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees.

(c) Licensing of the sale of other explosives.

23. Licenses for the sale of explosives other than those referred to in rule 8 may be granted in a Presidency Town by the Commissioner of Police, and elsewhere by the District Magistrate, to any person licensed to possess the same.

24. A fee of five rupees shall be paid for every license granted under rule 23.

25. Every license granted under rule 23 shall be in Form F in the Schedule hereto annexed, and shall be subject to the conditions therein prescribed.

26. If any person commits a breach of any condition subject to which a license under rule 23 is granted, he shall be punished with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees.

(f) Supplementary.

27. The District Magistrate, or any Subordinate Magistrate deputed in that behalf by the District Magistrate, or, in a Presidency Town, the Commissioner of Police, or any Police officer not below the rank of Inspector deputed in that behalf by the District Magistrate or Commissioner of Police, may enter and inspect and examine any place in which an explosive is manufactured, possessed, or sold by a person licensed in this behalf under these rules.

28. A person licensed to possess an explosive shall not be required to take out a license for the manufacture of the explosive by reason that, in a room or workshop in connection with the magazine, or place in which he is licensed to possess the explosive, he, by filling cartridges, making charges, drying, sifting, fitting or otherwise, adapts or prepares the explosive for the keeping of which he is licensed, for use, sale or otherwise: Provided that he observes the following rules:

(1) There shall not be in the workshop in which such filling, adaptation or preparation is carried on more than 50lb of gunpowder, or in lieu of such gunpowder or of a less amount thereof, not so present, half that amount of other explosive.

(2) Any work unconnected with such filling, adaptation or preparation shall not be carried on in the said room or workshop while such filling, adaptation or preparation is being carried on.

(3) The said room or workshop shall be detached from the magazine or place in which the license is licensed to possess the explosive and at a safe distance therefrom.

(4) An explosive of one description shall not be converted into an explosive of another description, and shall not be unmade or resolved into its ingredients.

TRANSPORT.

(a) Packing.

29. The following general rules shall be observed with respect to the packing of explosives for conveyance:—

I. An explosive, not being an explosive of the 5th (fulminate) class or of the second and third divisions of the 6th (ammunition) class or of the first division of the 7th (fire-work) class, shall, if not exceeding 5lb in quantity, be contained in a substantial case, bag, canister, or other receptacle made and closed so as to prevent the explosive from escaping.

II. In every other case, the explosive shall be contained in a double package. The inner package shall be a substantial case, bag, canister, or other receptacle, made and closed so as to prevent the explosive from escaping, and the outer package shall be a box, barrel, or case of wood or metal or other solid material, and shall be of such strength, construction, and character that will not be broken or accidentally opened or become defective or insecure whilst being conveyed, and will not allow the explosive to escape: Provided as follows:—

(a) If the explosive is explosive of the 1st or gunpowder class or is explosive of the 2nd (nitrate-mixture) class or is gun-cotton or other explosive of the 2nd division of the 3rd (nitro-compound) class, the quantity of explosive in any one outer package shall not, in the case of explosive of the first two classes, exceed 100lb, and in the case of the last 50lb; and if the explosive be gun-cotton, it shall be carried thoroughly saturated with water.

(b) If the explosive belongs to the 1st division of the 3rd (nitro-compound) class or to the 4th (chlorate-mixture) class, the inner package shall be without any metal in its construction, and the inner or outer package or both shall be thoroughly waterproof. No one of the inner packages shall contain more than 10lb, and the aggregate quantity of the explosive in any one outer package shall not exceed 50lb.

(c) If the explosive belongs to the 5th (fulminate) class, it shall be packed in such manner as the Governor-General in Council may specially direct.

(d) If the explosive belongs to the 1st division of the 6th (ammunition) class or is an explosive of the 2nd division, an outer package shall not be required, but it may be contained in quantity not exceeding 100lb. in a single package, which shall be a box, barrel, or case not less than $\frac{3}{4}$ths of an inch in thickness, of such strength, construction, and character as will not be broken or accidentally opened, or become defective or insecure whilst being conveyed, and will not allow the explosive to escape.

(e) If the explosive belongs to the 3rd division of the 6th (ammunition) class, it shall be packed in a double package. The inner package shall not contain more than 2lb of such explosive, and no more than 50lb, shall be contained in the outer package.

(f) If the explosive belongs to the 1st division of the 7th (firework) class, it shall be contained in a double package. The inner package shall be a substantial canister, case or other receptacle hermetically closed, and containing no more than 1lb of explosive, and no more than 20lb shall be contained in the outer package; and

(g) If the explosive belongs to the 2nd division of the 7th (fire work) class, it shall be contained in a box, barrel, or case of wood, metal, or other solid material, and of such strength, construction, and character that it will not be broken or accidentally opened, or become defective or insecure whilst being conveyed, and will not allow any explosive to escape, and the quantity of explosive in any one package shall not exceed 100lb.

III.—Whatever be the amount of the explosive, and to whatever class or division of a class it belong, the following conditions shall be observed:—

(a) The interior of every package, whether single or double, shall be kept free from grit and otherwise clean;

(b) every package, whether single or double, when actually used for the packing of explosive, shall not be used for the packing of any other explosive of the same or any other class or for any other purpose;

(c) there shall not be any iron or steel in the construction of any such single package or inner or outer package unless the same is effectually covered with tin, zinc, or other suitable material;

(d) on the outermost package there shall be affixed, in conspicuous characters, by means of a brand or securely attached label or mark, the word "Explosive," followed by the name of the explosive or other description of the contents, and the name and address of the owners or sender; and

(e) the amount of explosive in any single package, or, if there is a double package, in any one outer package, shall not exceed the amount specified in the foregoing rules, except with the consent of, and under conditions to be approved by, an officer appointed by the Local Government in this behalf.

30. If any person commits a breach of any of the foregoing rules relating to the packing of explosive for conveyance, he shall be punished with fine which may extend to Rs. 1,000.

(b) Mode of Conveyance.

31. The following general rules shall be observed with respect to the conveyance of explosives:—

I.—No explosive shall be conveyed from place to place unless packed in the manner provided for in the foregoing rules.

II.—There shall not be conveyed in any carriage or vessel, which is being used for the conveyance of an explosive, any explosive of a different class and division, of whatsoever nature, which contains its own means of ignition, unless it be sufficiently separated therefrom to prevent any fire or explosion which may take place in one such explosive being communicated to another.

III.—No explosive shall be loaded or unloaded except between sunrise and sunset.

IV.—Whilst the explosive is being loaded on, or unloaded out of, any carriage or vessel, no fire or artificial light, nor any article which is liable to cause or communicate fire or explosion (such as charcoal, lucifer matches, articles for striking a light, petroleum to which the Petroleum Act or any Act repealing or amending the same applies, or any spirit or oil or substance that gives forth an inflammable vapour at a temperature below 100° Fahrenheit) shall be, or shall be allowed to be, brought, had, or used dangerously near to such carriage, ship, or boat, and no smoking shall be allowed in, on, or dangerously near to, the same; provided that when the use of a light for the purpose of such loading or unloading is unavoidable, a lamp of such construction, position or character as not to cause any danger from fire or explosion may be used; and no person while handling any explosive (except gunpowder, explosive of division 1, class 6, or explosive of class 7, if packed in accordance with the packing rules) shall wear boots or shoes with iron or steel nails, heels or tips.

V.—In loading or unloading any explosive, the casks and packages containing the same shall be passed from hand to hand and not rolled upon the ground; they shall not be thrown or dropped down, but shall be carefully deposited and stowed.

VI.—The explosive shall not be conveyed except in the interior of a carriage so enclosed on all sides with wood or metal, or in the hold of a ship or boat having a close deck, so closed as effectually to protect the explosive against accident by fire from without. If the explosive cannot be so secured, it shall be completely covered with painted cloth, tarpaulin, or other suitable material, so as to effectually protect it against communication of fire.

VII.—There shall not be any iron or steel in the interior of the portion of the carriage or vessel with which the case containing the explosive is in contact, unless the same be effectually covered with leather, wood, cloth or other suitable material.

VIII.—In the stowing of explosive, due precautions shall be taken by means of a partition or otherwise, and by careful stowing to secure such explosive from being brought into contact with, or endangered by, any other article or substance conveyed in such carriage or vessel which is liable to cause fire or explosion; and if the explosive is dangerously affected by water, due precautions shall be taken to exclude water from coming into contact with such explosive.

IX.—The amount of explosive conveyed in any one carriage or vessel at any one time shall not exceed 2,000lb, unless the carriage be so enclosed on all sides with wood or metal, or the vessel have a close deck so closed as effectually to protect the explosive against accident by fire from without, in which case the amount of explosive conveyed shall not exceed the following:—

In any one carriage on a railway	...	...	...	10 tons.
In any one other carriage	...	...	...	2 ,,
In any one vessel	...	...	...	20 ,,

Note.—This rule must, in the case of dynamite conveyed by railway, be read subject to paragraph XII of rule 33.

X.—Nothing in the foregoing rules (except rule I) shall apply to any explosive of the 1st division of the 6th (ammunition) class, provided all due precautions are taken for the prevention of accidents.

32. The following rules shall be observed with respect to the conveyance of explosives otherwise than by public railway:—

I.—No explosive shall be conveyed in a carriage or vessel whilst carrying or plying for public passengers, unless the quantity be less than 5 lb, and notice has been given beforehand to the person in charge of such carriage or vessel: Provided that there shall not be conveyed in any such carriage or vessel any explosive of the 5th (fulminate) class or any explosive of the 3rd division of the 6th (ammunition) class, or of the 1st division of the 3rd (nitro-compound) class.

II.—With respect to the conveyance by carriage or vessel of explosive of the 5th (fulminate) class or of the 3rd division of the 6th (ammunition) class, or of the 1st division of the 7th (firework) class, or of larger quantities than 5lb, of any other explosive, the following regulations shall be observed:—

(1) The person in charge of the carriage or vessel shall not drive or conduct the same in a dangerous or reckless manner, and shall take all due precautions to avoid fire and explosion, and no person shall do any act or thing in relation to the explosive which tends to cause fire or explosion and is not reasonably necessary for the conveyance of the explosive or for work immediately connected with such conveyance, and a person who is intoxicated shall not have charge of any carriage or vessel conveying explosive, and shall not be permitted to be in or on or attending the same.

(2) A person shall not forward to any warehouse-man or carrier a consignment of explosive, unless he has given notice to such warehouse-man or carrier beforehand, stating the name and quantity of the explosive, proposed to be conveyed, and the name and address of the proposed consignee, and has had intimation that the warehouse-man or carrier is prepared to receive the consignment: and a warehouse-man or carrier shall not make such an intimation, nor receive such consignment, unless he is prepared to receive it, and forthwith to despatch the same or to deposit it in a magazine or at a place at which a person is licensed to possess the same.

(3) The carriage or vessel conveying the explosive shall be in charge of, and constantly attended by, some competent person, or by a sufficient number of competent persons, and such persons shall not, if the amount of explosive conveyed exceed 100 lb, stop or delay for a longer time than may be reasonably necessary, or stop unnecessarily at any place where such stopping would be attended with special public danger.

33. The following rules shall be observed with respect to the conveyance of explosive by public railway :—

I.—No person shall send for carriage upon any railway any consignment of an explosive, unless he has given to a Railway servant 48 hours' previous notice in writing of his intention to send such consignment, and stating the true name, description, quantity, and mode of packing of the explosive proposed to be conveyed, and his own name and address, and also the name and address of the proposed consignee, and unless he has had an intimation in writing from an authorised officer of the railway that such consignment will be received.

II.—No explosive which a Railway Administration shall by any notice or regulation for the time being in force notify that they will not receive, shall be brought, sent, or forwarded to, or upon any Railway of the said Railway Administration.

III.—Consignments of explosives shall be sent to the forwarding station and shall be received by the Railway servants, only at such times, between sunrise and sunset, as the Railway Administration may appoint ; and every package containing any explosive proposed to be conveyed on any Railway shall, immediately on arrival at the station, be delivered to, and be received by the Railway servants authorised to receive dangerous goods and by no other person whatsoever.

IV.—An explosive must be removed by the consignee from the receiving station during the twelve hours of daylight after arrival ; if this condition is not strictly complied with, the Railway Administration may return the consignment to the consignor at his risk, peril, and expense. And such packages shall in the meanwhile be kept as far away from the station buildings as possible, in the wagon they were conveyed in, or, if unloaded, shall be completely covered with tarpaulins or other suitable material and, if necessary, shall be protected by a police guard.

V.—The Railway Administration may refuse to receive any packages which they suspect to contain any explosive packed or sent in contravention of these regulations. And in case any package, which the Railway Administration suspect, shall be upon any Railway, they may open or require to be opened, any such package to ascertain the fact, at the risk and expense of the consignor, and may return the explosive contained in the package to the consignor at his risk, peril, and expense, keeping the packages pending such return in the manner prescribed in the preceding rule.

VI.—No explosive shall be conveyed by passenger train except of the kinds, and in the manner, hereinafter specified in this rule :—

(a) Safety cartridges and percussion caps and safety-fuze (for blasting), also fog-signals for railway use, may be conveyed by passenger train, in ordinary wagons or carriages.

(b) Sporting gunpowder or non-safety cartridges packed in double cases as before provided, so long as the gunpowder is contained in one-pound tin canisters packed in a stout wooden case with an outer covering of tin or zinc completely spark-proof, or in metal-lined cases of a pattern approved by the Railway Administration. But no outer case shall contain more than 22 lb of gunpowder, and the total consignment of gunpowder or non-safety cartridges by one train shall not exceed 80 lb.

VII.—Not more than five carriages containing explosives shall be loaded or unloaded at any Railway station, or be conveyed by any one train at any one time ; and the quantity of explosive to be contained in any one carriage shall not exceed two-thirds of the normal load, unless the carriage shall be specially built and approved of by the Government of India for the conveyance of explosives. But nothing in this clause shall be held to apply to separate consignments of small arms ammunition.

VIII.—There shall not be conveyed in the same carriage with any explosive any lucifer or other matches, fuzes, pipelights, acids, naphtha, paraffin, petroleum to which the Petroleum Act or any Act repealing or amending the same applies, or any other volatile spirit or substance liable to give off an inflammable vapour, or liable to spontaneous ignition, or to cause or communicate fire or explosion.

IX.—The consignor shall attach to the consignment note a certificate signed by an officer authorized by the Government in this behalf that the explosive, if it is gun-cotton, dynamite, or blasting gelatine, is of the standard purity, and has undergone no deterioration since its manufacture ; and further, in the case of dynamite, that the cartridges have been examined and show no signs of exuded nitro-glycerine. The consignor shall also certify that the cartridges have been packed in this country in accordance with the packing rules.

X.—In the case of dynamite, the outer package shall be marked with the date on which the dynamite was packed, and be secured with a leaden seal in token of the inspection having been made.

XI.—The certificate referred to in rule IX shall be valid for six months after date, if the examination has been made after the 15th October, but it shall not be compulsory for any Railway Administration to receive dynamite for conveyance from 1st April to 15th October (both inclusive).

XII.—Packages containing dynamite shall be stowed in one layer only, and secured so as to prevent movement during transit. The gross load in any one wagon shall not exceed 3 tons.

XIII.—No explosive belonging to the 5th (fulminate) class or to class VI, division 3, shall be carried in the same train with dynamite, or with any other explosive belonging to class III, division 1.

XIV.— Wagons used for the carriage of explosives shall be examined to see that they are spark-proof, and have been cleaned out before they are loaded. Haircloth, hides, or other suitable material shall be spread on the floor of the wagon and between each layer of packages, except when the packages are covered with gunny or felt, or contain small arms ammunition, packed in tin-lined service pattern boxes.

XV.—Wagons containing explosives shall be loaded and unloaded on sidings distant as far as possible from the station buildings.

XVI.—More than three layers of packages containing explosives shall never be packed one above another, except in the case of small arms ammunition packed in tin-lined service pattern boxes, when such a restriction is unnecessary. The loading and unloading of explosives when once begun shall be diligently proceeded with during daylight until the same is completed.

XVII.—When the train is being marshalled, wagons loaded with explosives may be shunted by a locomotive, provided that they are separated from the engine by not less than three wagons containing no explosive nor easily inflammable substance; this precaution is not necessary with wagons specially constructed and approved of by Government for the carriage of explosive. The speed of these movements will be restricted to five miles an hour; they will be superintended by a duly authorized officer, who will be held responsible for the observance of these orders. Flying shunts are strictly prohibited.

XVIII.—Wagons containing explosives shall be placed at the end of the train away from the locomotive, and shall be close coupled to one another, as well as to the adjoining wagons, and must be preceded and followed by three wagons not loaded with explosive or other traffic of an inflammable nature.

XIX.—If the wagons employed in the transport of explosive, as well as those immediately adjoining them, are provided with breaks, they shall on no account be worked.

XX.—Wagons must in every case be locked when loaded with explosives.

XXI.—All operations connected with the transhipment of explosives at junction stations shall take place during daylight.

34. If any person commits a breach of any of the foregoing rules relating to the mode of conveyance of explosives, he shall be punished with a fine which may extend to Rs. 1,000.

IMPORTATION.

35. An explosive shall not be imported by sea into British India, except under, and in accordance with, the conditions of a license to import the explosive granted under these rules:

Provided that any explosive other than an explosive specified in rule 38 may, previous to the grant of an importation license, if certified to be of British manufacture, be landed in accordance with such regulations as the Local Government may prescribe in this behalf, and be stored in a place set apart by the Local Government for this purpose. The Governor-General in Council may extend this privilege to any such explosive not of British manufacture regarding which he is satisfied that it has been manufactured under adequate official supervision.

Before any explosive is landed under the proviso to this rule, the consignee shall give to the Chief Customs Officer of the port such undertaking, with or without security as the said officer thinks sufficient, to obey, in the event of the explosive failing to satisfy the prescribed tests, such directions as to its disposal as the Local Government may see fit to prescribe.

36. If any person imports an explosive in contravention of rule 35, he shall be punished with fine which may extend to three thousand rupees.

37. An explosive shall not be imported by sea except at the ports of Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, Rangoon, Calicut, Kurrachee, and Aden.

38. If the explosive is gunpowder or an explosive of the 1st division of the 6th (ammunition) class, or an explosive of the 7th (firework) class, the license to import the same may be granted at the ports of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, by the Commissioner of Police, and at the ports of Rangoon, Calicut, Kurrachee, and Aden, by the District Magistrate.

39. The fee payable in respect of each such license shall be Rs. 10.

40. Licenses for the importation by sea of any explosive other than those specified in rule 38 shall be granted by the Local Government or by some officer specially authorized by the Local Government in this behalf.

41. No license for the importation of any explosive of the description referred to in rule 40 shall be granted unless samples of the explosive taken as hereinafter provided are certified by the Chemical Examiner or some other officer appointed by the Local Government in this behalf, to pass the test which may from time to time be prescribed for such explosive by the Government of India.

42. On the arrival in any port at which importation of explosives is lawful, of a ship having on board an explosive other than an explosive of the description referred to in rule 38, such officer as the Chief Customs Officer authorizes in this behalf shall, as soon as may be, proceed on board and obtain samples of the explosive.

The Master of the ship shall give to the said officer, without charge, such samples as he may require. The said officer shall affix to each such sample the name of the ship and of the consignee and such other distinguishing marks as he may think necessary, and shall forward the same to the Chemical Examiner or officer as aforesaid for report.

The Chemical Examiner or officer as aforesaid, after testing the said samples, shall, without delay, forward to the licensing authority, through the Chief Customs Officer, a report under his signature certifying whether the explosive has satisfied the prescribed test.

43. The period for which a license to import an explosive, granted under rule 40, shall continue in force, shall not exceed such period as may seem necessary to the authority granting the license.

44. The fee payable on a license granted under rule 40 shall be Rs. 10.

45. Every license granted under rules 38 and 40 shall be in Form G in the Schedule hereto annexed, and shall be subject to the conditions therein prescribed, and also to such additional conditions with respect to the time and place of unloading, landing, delivery, and conveyance of the explosive, and such other conditions as may in each case be thought by the licensing officer to be necessary for the public safety or in the interest of the State.

46. If any person commits a breach of any condition subject to which a license under rules 38 and 40 is granted, he shall be punished with fine which may extend to three thousand rupees.

D.—GENERAL.

47. Every license granted under these rules shall be liable to be forfeited on breach of any of the conditions subject to which it is granted.

48. If a person licensed to manufacture, possess, sell or import an explosive dies, or becomes bankrupt, or becomes mentally incapable or otherwise disabled, the person carrying on the business of such licensee shall not be liable to any penalty or forfeiture under the Act or the rules made thereunder for carrying on the business or acting under the license during such reasonable time as may be necessary to allow him to make an application to the authority granting the license for a new license in his own name during the currency of the unexpired portion of the original license. Such new license shall be granted on the payment of one rupee.

49. The fees leviable under these rules shall be taken in the shape of "impressed stamps." Ordinarily the applications for licenses or renewals of licenses shall, if not otherwise provided, be written on "impressed stamps" of value equal to the amount of fee leviable in respect of such licenses or renewals, the licenses themselves being issued on plain paper. But when the licenses themselves are written or printed on impressed stamps, the application may be on plain paper. When an application for a license is written on an impressed stamp, and the license is refused, the value of the stamp will on application be refunded to the applicant.

50. All licenses except licenses to manufacture an explosive under rule 12, or to possess explosives of the 5th (fulminate) class under rule 21, or to import under rules 40—42, shall expire on the 31st December of the year for which they are granted. Licenses granted under rules 12, 21, and 40 shall be current for the term therein specified. But the currency of a license may, unless the circumstances have so changed that the grant of a new license would either not be authorised under the Act and rules or is deemed objectionable by the licensing authorities, on application previous to its expiration, be renewed, on payment of the original fee.

51. When a license granted in accordance with these rules is lost, or accidentally destroyed, a duplicate may be granted to the licensee on payment of a fee of 8 annas.

52. Any person holding a license, or acting under a license, granted in accordance with these rules, shall be bound to produce the same, when called upon to do so by any Magistrate or by any police officer in charge of a police station, or by any police officer of higher rank.

53. All Magistrates or other authorities acting under these rules will perform their duties subject to the control of their executive superiors and of the Local Government.

54. Any authority empowered to grant a license under the foregoing rules may, if he thinks fit, direct by an order written on the license that it shall have the effect of a like license under the Indian Arms Act, 1878.

55. Any persons lawfully entitled under the Indian Arms Act, 1878, or the rules made thereunder, to possess any explosive coming under the head of ammunition as defined in that Act may possess, or import without license under these rules, any such explosive in reasonable quantities for his own private use; but when an explosive is so imported, the Collector of Customs or any other officer empowered by the Local Government in this behalf by name or by virtue of his office may at any time detain such explosive until he receives the orders of the Local Government thereon.

Conditions.

1. This license is given subject to the provisions of "The Indian Explosives Act, 1884," and the rules framed thereunder.

2. The license-holder shall keep records and accounts of all explosive manufactured, of all stock in hand, and of all sales, in such form as the Local Government may from time to time direct.

3. The license-holder shall exhibit his stock and his books of manufacture and sales to any Magistrate or to any Police officer not below the rank of Inspector, when such officer may call upon him so to do.

4. The explosive shall be manufactured in a substantially constructed building exclusively appropriated for the purpose and detached from a dwelling-house, and situated at a safe distance from any highway, street, public thoroughfare, or public place.

5. All sales of explosive under this license must be effected upon the premises shown on the face of the license.

6. An explosive shall not be sold to any child apparently under the age of 13 years.

7. The explosive possessed by the licensee shall be kept in such a building as is referred to in condition 4, or in a fire-proof safe outside a dwelling-house and detached therefrom and at a safe distance from any highway, street, public thoroughfare, or public place, made and closed so as to prevent unauthorized persons having access thereto, and to secure it from danger from without:

Provided that a quantity not exceeding 50lb of gunpowder, or, in lieu of each pound of gunpowder not so kept, 2lb of explosive contained in ammunition of the 1st division of class 6, or an equivalent quantity of an explosive of the 7th (firework) class may be kept inside a dwelling-house, or in any building other than as last aforesaid, in a receptacle exclusively appropriated to keeping explosive:

Provided also that no explosive other than gunpowder or ammunition of the 2nd division of class 6 made with gunpowder shall be kept in a fire-proof safe.

8. All articles or substances of an explosive or highly inflammable nature shall be kept at a safe distance from the explosive, and from any building, fire-proof safe, or receptacle containing the same.

9. Neither the building exclusively appropriated for the purpose of manufacturing or keeping the explosive nor the fire-proof safe or receptacle shall have any exposed iron or steel in the interior thereof.

10. All explosive exceeding 5lb in amount of the 1st division of the 6th (ammunition) class or of the 2nd division of the 7th (firework) class, and all other explosive exceeding 1lb in amount shall be kept in a substantial case, bag, canister, or other receptacle made and closed so as to prevent the explosive from escaping, and if publicly exposed for sale or sold, the outermost receptacle containing such explosive shall have affixed the name of the explosive in conspicuous characters by means of a brand or securely attached label or other mark.

11. Each description of explosive, which may be kept under this license, shall be separated by an intervening partition of such substance and character, or by such intervening space as will effectually prevent explosion or fire in the one communicating with the other.

* 12. The license-holder shall affix to his shop or place of business a signboard as required by rule 11 of the rules framed under the Indian Arms Act, 1878, and shall post up in his shop a copy of section 28 of that Act.

* 13. The license-holder shall at the time of purchase endorse upon the license of every purchaser holding a license under Form VIII or IX of the forms prescribed under the Indian Arms Act, 1878, the following particulars:—

(a) the name and address of the person who takes delivery of the articles sold;
(b) the nature and amount of the articles sold;
(c) the date of sale;

and shall append his signature to the endorsement.

* These conditions are to be added only when the authority granting this license directs, by an order written thereon, that this license shall have the effect of a like license granted under the Indian Arms Act, 1878.

1. This license is given subject to the provisions of "The Indian Explosives Act, 1884," and the rules framed thereunder.

2. The license-holder shall keep records and accounts of all explosive in stock and of all sales, in such form as the Local Government may from time to time direct.

3. The license-holder shall exhibit his stock and his books and records of sales to any Magistrate or to any Police officer not below the rank of Inspector, when such officer may call upon him so to do.

4. All sales of explosive under this license must be effected upon the premises shown on the face of the license.

5. An explosive shall not be sold to any child apparently under the age of 13 years

6. The explosive shall be kept in a substantially constructed building exclusively appropriated for the purpose and detached from a dwelling-house, or in a fire-proof safe outside a dwelling-house and detached therefrom and at a safe distance from any highway, street, public thoroughfare, or public place, made and closed so as to prevent unauthorised persons having access thereto, and to secure it from danger from without:

Provided that 50lb of gunpowder or, in lieu of each pound of gunpowder not so kept, 2lb of explosive contained in ammunition of the 1st division of class 6, or an equivalent quantity of explosive of the 7th (fireworks) class, may be kept inside a dwelling-house, or in any building other than as last aforesaid, in a receptacle exclusively appropriated to keeping explosive:

Provided also that no explosive other than gunpowder or ammunition of the 2nd division of the 6th class made with gunpowder shall be kept in a fire-proof safe.

7. All articles or substances of an explosive or highly inflammable nature shall be kept at a safe distance from the explosive and from any building, fire-proof, safe, or receptacle containing the same.

8. Neither the building exclusively appropriated for the purpose of keeping the explosive, nor the fire-proof safe or receptacle referred to above, shall have any exposed iron or steel in the interior thereof.

9. All explosive exceeding 5lb in amount of the 1st division of the 6th (ammunition) class or of the 2nd division of the 7th (firework) class, and all other explosive exceeding 1lb in amount, shall be kept in a substantial case, bag, canister, or other receptacle made and closed so as to prevent the explosive from escaping, and when publicly exposed for sale or sold, the outermost receptacle containing such explosive shall have affixed the name of the explosive in conspicuous characters by means of a brand or securely attached label or other mark.

_____ District,
_____ 188 } _____ of _____ Conditions.

1. This license is given subject to the provisions of "The Indian Explosives Act, 1884," and the rules framed thereunder.

2. There shall not be at the same time in the magazine an amount of explosive exceeding the amount specified in the license.

3. The magazine shall be used only for the keeping of the explosive or explosives specified in the license, and of receptacles for, or tools, or implements for, work connected with the keeping of such explosive or explosives.

4. The interior of the magazine and the benches, shelves, and fittings therein, shall be so constructed or so lined or covered as to prevent the exposure of any iron or steel, and the detaching of any grit, iron, steel, or similar substances in such manner as to come into contact with the explosive, and such interior, benches, shelves, and fittings shall, so far as is reasonably practicable, be kept free from grit and otherwise clean; and in the case of any explosive being possessed which is liable to be dangerously affected by water, due precautions shall be taken to exclude water therefrom.

5. The magazine shall have attached thereto a sufficient lightning conductor.

6. Before repairs are done to or in any part of a room or magazine, it shall, as far as is practicable, be cleaned by the removal of all explosive or mixed ingredients thereof, and the thorough washing out of such room or part; and after such cleaning, these conditions shall cease to apply to explosive until such room or part of the magazine is again taken into it.

7. Except after such cleaning, all tools and implements used in or in any repairs to any part of the magazine shall be made only of wood, copper, or brass, or some soft metal or material, or shall be covered with some safe and suitable material.

8. Due provision shall be made by the use of suitable working clothes without pockets, suitable shoes, searching and otherwise, or by some such means for preventing the introduction into the magazine of fire, lucifer matches, or any substance or article likely to cause explosion or fire, or any iron, steel or grit; but this rule shall not prevent the introduction of an artificial light of such construction, position, or character as not to cause any danger of fire or explosion.

9. No person shall smoke in any part of the magazine.

10. Any person under the age of 16 years shall not be employed in or enter the magazine except in the presence and under the supervision of some grown up person.

11. Two or more descriptions of explosive which may lawfully be possessed in a licensed magazine may be possessed in the same magazine, provided they are separated from each other by an intervening partition of such substance and character or by such intervening space as will effectually prevent explosion or fire in the one communicating with the other, subject to the following qualifications:—

(a) The various explosives of classes 1 (gunpowder), 2 (nitrate-mixture), 3 (nitro-compound), and 4 (chlorate-mixture), safety fuze belonging to the 1st division of class 6 (ammunition), and such of the various explosives of the 2nd division of class 6 (ammunition) as do not contain any exposed iron or steel, may be kept with each other without any intervening partition or space.

(b) The various explosives of the 1st division of class 6 (ammunition) may be kept with each other without any intervening partition or space.

(c) Such of the various explosives of the 2nd division of class 6 (ammunition) as contain any exposed iron or steel may be kept with each other without any intervening partition or space.

(d) The various explosives of the 3rd division of class 6 (ammunition) may be kept with each other without any intervening partition or space.

(e) The various explosives of class 7 (firework) may be kept with each other without any intervening partition or space.

Except as aforesaid, two or more descriptions of explosives may not be kept in the same magazine.

12. The licensee and every person employed in or about the magazine shall take all due precaution for the prevention of accidents by fire or explosion in the same, and for preventing unauthorized persons having access to the magazine or to the explosive therein, and shall abstain from any act whatever which tends to cause fire or explosion, and is not reasonably necessary for the purpose of the work in such magazine.

(b) When the authority making the rules is the Governor-General in Council, in three consecutive issues of the Gazette of India in English, and in three consecutive issues of the local official Gazette (if any) of every Local Government in British India in English and in such other language or languages as the Local Government may direct.

No. 1438.—In acordance with the provisions of section 18, sub-section (1), of the Indian Explosives Act, No. IV of 1884, and with the directions contained in Home Department Notification No. 1437 of this date, the Governor-General in Council is pleased to publish for general information the following draft of rules for the transport and importation of explosives which His Excellency in Council proposes to make under the Act.

The draft will be taken into consideration on the expiry of three months from the date of this notification.

DRAFT.

DRAFT RULES UNDER THE EXPLOSIVES ACT, 1884.

PRELIMINARY.

1. For the purposes of these rules, explosives shall be classified as follows, namely:—

Class 1	...	...	...	...	Gunpowder.
Class 2	...	...	...	...	Nitrate-mixture.
Class 3	...	...	...	...	Nitro-compound.
Class 4	...	...	...	...	Chlorate-mixture.
Class 5	...	...	...	...	Fulminate.
Class 6	...	...	...	...	Ammunition.
Class 7	...	...	...	...	Firework.

And when an explosive falls within the description of more than one class, it shall be deemed to belong exclusively to the latest of the classes within the description of which it falls.

The term "gunpowder" means exclusively gunpowder ordinarily so called.

CLASS 2.—Nitrate-mixture Class.

The term "nitrate-mixture" means any preparation, other than gunpowder ordinarily so called, formed by the mechanical mixture of a nitrate with any form of carbon or with any carbonaceous substance not possessed of explosive properties, whether sulphur be or be not added to such preparation, and whether such preparation be or be not mechanically mixed with any other non-explosive substance.

The nitrate-mixture class comprises such explosives as—

Pyrolithe,
Pudrolithe,
Poudre saxifragine,

and any preparation coming within the above definition.

CLASS 3—Nitro-compound Class.

The term "nitro-compound" means any chemical compound possessed of explosive properties, or capable of combining with metals to form an explosive compound, which is produced by the chemical action of nitric acid (whether mixed or not with sulphuric acid) or of a nitrate mixed with sulphuric acid upon any carbonaceous substance, whether such compound is mechanically mixed with other substances or not.

The nitro-compound class has two divisions.

Division 1 comprises such explosives as—

Nitro-glycerine, Dynamite,
Lithofracteur,
Dualine,
Glyoxiline,
Methylic nitrate,

and any chemical compound or mechanically mixed preparation which consists either wholly or partly of nitro-glycerine or of some other liquid nitro-compound.

Division 2 comprises such explosives as—

Gun-cotton, ordinarily so called,
Gun-paper,
Xyloidine,
Gun sawdust,
Nitrated gun-cotton,
Cotton gunpowder,
Schultz's powder,
Nitro-mannite,
Picrates,
Picric powder,

and any nitro-compound as before defined, which is not comprised in the first division.

CLASS 4.—Chlorate-mixture Class.

The term "chlorate-mixture" means any explosive containing a chlorate.

The chlorate-mixture class has two divisions.

Division 1 comprises such explosives as—

Horsley's blasting powder,
Brain's blasting powder,

and any chlorate preparation which consists partly of nitro-glycerine or of some other liquid nitro-compound.

Division 2 comprises such explosives as—

Horsley's original blasting powder,
Erhardt's powder,
Reverley's powder,
Hochstadter's blasting charges,
Reichen's blasting charges,
Teutonite,
Chlorated gun-cotton,

and any chlorate-mixture, as before defined, which is not comprised in the first division.

CLASS 5.—Fulminate Class.

The term "fulminate" means any chemical compound or mechanical mixture, whether included in the foregoing classes or not, which, from its great susceptibility to detonation, is suitable for employment in percussion caps or any other appliances for developing detonation, or which from its extreme sensibility to explosion, and from its great instability (that is to say, readiness to undergo decomposition from very slight exciting causes), is especially dangerous.

This class consists of two divisions.

Division 1 comprises such compounds as the fulminates of silver and of mercury, and preparations of these substances, such as are used in percussion caps, and any preparation consisting of a mixture of a chlorate with phosphorus, or certain descriptions of phosphorus compounds, with or without the addition of carbonaceous matter, and any preparation consisting of a mixture of a chlorate with sulphur, or with a sulphurate, with or without carbonaceous matter.

Division 2 comprises such substances as the chloride and the iodide of nitrogen, fulminating gold and silver, diazobenzol, and the nitrate of diazonbenzol.

CLASS 6.—Ammunition Class.

The term "ammunition" means an explosive of any of the foregoing classes when enclosed in any case or contrivance, or otherwise adapted or prepared so as to form a cartridge or charge for small arms, cannon, or any other weapon, or for blasting, or to form any safety or other fuze for blasting or for shells, or to form any tube for firing explosives, or to form a percussion cap, a detonator, a fog signal, a shell, a torpedo, a war rocket, or other contrivance other than a firework.

The term "percussion cap" does not include a detonator.

The term "detonator" means a capsule or case which is of such strength and construction, and contains an explosive of the fulminate-explosive class, in such quantity that the explosion of one capsule or case will communicate the explosion to other like capsules or cases.

The term "safety fuze" means a fuze for blasting which burns and does not explode, and which does not contain its own means of ignition, and which is of such strength and construction and contains an explosive in such quantity that the burning of such fuze will not communicate laterally with other like fuzes.

The expression "safety cartridges" means cartridges for small arms of which the case can be extracted from the small arm after firing, and which are so closed as to prevent any explosion in one cartridge being communicated to other cartridges.

The ammunition class has three divisions.

Division 1 comprises exclusively—

Safety cartridges.
Safety fuzes for blasting.
Railway fog signals.
Percussion caps.

Division 2 comprises any ammunition as before defined which does not contain its own means of ignition and is not included in division 1, such as—

Cartridges for small arms, which are not safety cartridges,
Cartridges and charges for cannon, shells, mines, blasting, or other like purposes,
Shells and torpedoes containing any explosive,
Fuzes for blasting, which are not safety fuzes,
Fuzes for shells,
Tubes for firing explosives,
War rockets,

which do not contain their own means of ignition.

Division 3 comprises any ammunition as before defined which contains it own means of ignition and is not included in division 1, such as—

Detonators,
Cartridges for small arms, which are not safety cartridges,
Fuzes for blasting, which are not safety fuzes,
Fuzes for shells,
Tubes for firing explosives,

which do contain their own means of ignition.

By ammunition containing its own means of ignition is meant ammunition having an arrangement, whether attached to it or forming part of it, which is adapted to explode or fire the same by friction or percussion.

CLASS 7.—Firework Class.

The term "firework" comprises firework composition and manufactured fireworks.

Division 1.—The term "firework composition" means any chemical compound or mechanically mixed preparation of an explosive or inflammable nature which is used for the purpose of making manufactured fireworks, and is not included in the former classes of explosives, and also any coloured fire composition.

Division 2.—The term "manufactured firework" means any explosive of the foregoing classes and any firework composition, when such explosive or composition is enclosed in any case or contrivance, or is otherwise manufactured as to form a squib, cracker, serpent, rocket (other than a war-rocket), maroon, star, lance, wheel, Chinese fire, Roman candle, or other article adapted for the production of pyrotechnic effects or pyrotechnic signals.

TRANSPORT.

2. The following general rules shall be observed with respect to the packing of explosives for conveyance :—

I.—An explosive, not being an explosive of the 5th (fulminate) class or of the 2nd and 3rd divisions of the 6th (ammunition) class or of the 1st division of the 7th (firework) class, shall, if not exceeding 5lb in quantity, be contained in a substantial case, bag, canister, or other receptacle made and closed so as to prevent the explosive from escaping.

II.—In every other case, the explosive shall be contained in a double package. The inner package shall be a substantial case, bag, canister, or other receptacle, made and closed so as to prevent the explosive from escaping, and the outer package shall be a box, barrel, or case of wood or metal or other solid material, and shall be of such strength, construction, and character that will not be broken or accidentally opened, or become defective or insecure whilst being conveyed, and will not allow the explosive to escape : Provided as follows :—

(a) If the explosive is explosive of the 1st or gunpowder class or is explosive of the 2nd (nitrate-mixture) class or is gun-cotton or other explosive of the 2nd division of the 3rd (nitro-compound) class, the quantity of explosive in any one outer package shall not, in the case of explosive of the first two classes, exceeded 100lb, and in the case of the last, 50lb ; and if the explosive be gun-cotton, it shall be carried thoroughly saturated with water.

(b) If the explosive belongs to the 1st division of the 3rd (nitro-compound) class or to the 4th (chlorate-mixture) class, the inner package shall be without any metal in its construction, and the inner or outer package or both shall be thoroughly water-proof. No one of the inner packages shall contain more than 10lb, and the aggregate quantity of the explosive in any one outer package shall not exceed 50lb.

(c) If the explosive belongs to the 5th (fulminate) class, it shall be packed in such manner as the Governor-General in Council may specially direct.

(d) If the explosive belongs to the 1st division of the 6th (ammunition) class or is an explosive of the 2nd division, an outer package shall not be required, but it may be contained in quantity not exceeding 100lb in a single package, which shall be a box, barrel or case not less than $\frac{3}{4}$ths of an inch in thickness, of such strength, construction, and character as will not be broken or accidentally opened or become defective or insecure whilst being conveyed, and will not allow the explosive to escape.

(e) If the explosive belongs to the 3rd division of the 6th (ammunition) class, it shall be packed in a double package. The inner package shall not contain more than 2lb of such explosive, and no more than 50lb shall be contained in the outer package.

(f) If the explosive belongs to the 1st division of the 7th (firework) class, it shall be contained in a double package. The inner package shall be a substantial canister, case, or other receptacle hermetically closed, and containing no more than 1lb of explosive, and no more than 20lb shall be contained in the outer package ; and

(g) If the explosive belongs to the 2nd division of the 7th (firework) class, it shall be contained in a box, barrel, or case of wood, metal, or other solid material, and of such strength, construction, and character that it will not be broken or accidentally opened, or become defective or insecure whilst being conveyed, and will not allow any explosive to escape, and the quantity of explosive in any one package shall not exceed 100lb.

III.—Whatever be the amount of the explosive, and to whatever class or division of a class it belong, the following conditions shall be observed :—

(a) The interior of every package, whether single or double, shall be kept free from grit and otherwise clean ;

(b) every package, whether single or double, when actually used for the packing of explosive, shall not be used for the packing of any other explosive of the same or any other class or for any other purpose ;

(c) there shall not be any iron or steel in the construction of any such single package or inner or outer package unless the same is effectually covered with tin zinc, or other suitable material ;

(d) on the outermost package there shall be affixed, in conspicuous characters, by means of a brand or securely attached label or mark, the word "explosive," followed by the name of the explosive or other description of the contents, and the name and address of the owners or sender ; and

(e) the amount of explosive in any single package, or, if there is a double package, in any one outer package, shall not exceed the amount specified in the foregoing rules, except with the consent of, and under conditions to be approved by, an officer appointed by the Local Government in this behalf.

3. If any person commits a breach of any of the foregoing rules relating to the packing of explosive for conveyance, he shall be punished with fine which may extend to Rs. 1,000.

(b) Mode of conveyance

4. The following general rules shall be observed with respect to the conveyance of explosives :—

I.—No explosive shall be conveyed from place to place unless packed in the manner provided for in the foregoing rules.

II.—There shall not be conveyed in any carriage or vessel, which is being used for the conveyance of an explosive, any explosive of a different class and division, of whatsoever nature, which contains its own means of ignition, unless it be sufficiently separated therefrom to prevent any fire or explosion which may take place in one such explosive being communicated to another.

III.—No explosive shall be loaded or unloaded except between sunrise and sunset.

IV.—Whilst the explosive is being loaded on, or unloaded out of, any carriage or vessel, no fire or artificial light, nor any article which is liable to cause or communicate fire or explosion (such as charcoal, lucifer matches, articles for striking a light, petroleum to which the Petroleum Act or any Act repealing or amending the same applies, or any spirit or oil or substance that gives forth an inflammable vapour at a temperature below 100° Fahrenheit) shall be, or shall be allowed to be, brought, had, or used dangerously near to such carriage, ship, or boat, and no smoking shall be allowed in, on, or dangerously near to, the same : Provided that when the use of a light for the purpose of such loading or unloading is unavoidable, a lamp of such construction, position, or character as not to cause any danger from fire or explosion may be used ; and no person while handling any explosive (except gunpowder, explosive of division 1, class 6, or explosive of class 7, if packed in accordance with the packing rules) shall wear boots or shoes with iron or steel nails, heels, or tips.

V.—In loading or unloading any explosive, the casks and packages containing the same shall be passed from hand to hand and not rolled upon the ground ; they shall not be thrown or dropped down, but shall be carefully deposited and stowed.

VI.—The explosive shall not be conveyed except in the interior of a carriage so enclosed on all sides with wood or metal, or in the hold of a ship or boat having a close deck, so closed as effectually to protect the explosive against accident by fire from without. If the explosive cannot be so secured, it shall be completely covered with painted cloth, tarpaulin, or other suitable material so as to effectually protect it against communication of fire.

VII.—There shall not be any iron or steel in the interior of the portion of the carriage or vessel with which the case containing the explosive is in contact, unless the same be effectually covered with leather, wood, cloth or other suitable material.

VIII.—In the stowing of explosive, due precautions shall be taken by means of a partition or otherwise, and by careful stowing to secure such explosive from being brought into contact with, or endangered by, any other article, or substance conveyed in such carriage or vessel which is liable to cause fire or explosion ; and if the explosive is dangerously affected by water, due precautions shall be taken to exclude water from coming into contact with such explosive.

IX.—The amount of explosive conveyed in any one carriage or vessel at any one time shall not exceed 2,000lb unless the carriage be so enclosed on all sides with wood or metal, or the vessel have a close deck so closed as effectually to protect the explosive against accident by fire from without, in which case the amount of explosive conveyed shall not exceed the following:—

In any one carriage on a railway	10 tons.
In any one other carriage	2 ,,
In any one vessel	20 ,,

NOTE.—This rule must in the case of dynamite conveyed by railway be read subject to paragraph XII of rule 6.

X.—Nothing in the foregoing rules (except rule I) shall apply to any explosive of the 1st division of the 6th (ammunition) class, provided all due precautions are taken for the prevention of accidents.

5. The following rules shall be observed with respect to the conveyance of explosives otherwise than by public railway:—

I.—No explosive shall be conveyed in a carriage, or boat whilst carrying or plying for public passengers, unless the quantity be less than 5lb, and notice has been given beforehand to the person in charge of such carriage or boat: Provided that there shall not be conveyed in any such carriage or boat any explosive of the 5th (fulminate) class or any explosive of the 3rd division of the 6th (ammunition) class, or of the 1st division of the 3rd (nitro-compound) class.

II.—With respect to the conveyance by carriage or vessel of explosive of the 5th (fulminate) class, or of the 3rd division of the 6th (ammunition) class, or of the 1st division of the 7th (firework) class, or of larger quantities than 5lb of any other explosive, the following regulations shall be observed:—

(1) The person in charge of the carriage or vessel shall not drive or conduct the same in a dangerous or reckless manner, and shall take all due precautions to avoid fire and explosion, and no person shall do any act or thing in relation to the explosive which tends to cause fire or explosion, and is not reasonably necessary for the conveyance of the explosive or for work immediately connected with such conveyance; and a person who is intoxicated shall not have charge of any carriage or vessel conveying explosive, and shall not be permitted to be in, or on, or attending the same.

(2) A person shall not forward to any warehouse-man or carrier a consignment of explosive, unless he has given notice to such warehouse-man or carrier beforehand, stating the name and quantity of the explosive proposed to be conveyed, and the name and address of the proposed consignee, and has had an intimation that the warehouse-man or carrier is prepared to receive the consignment; and a warehouse-man or carrier shall not make such an intimation, nor receive such consignment, unless he is prepared to receive it, and forthwith to despatch the same or to deposit it in a magazine or at a place at which a person is licensed to possess the same.

(3) The carriage or vessel conveying the explosive shall be in charge of, and constantly attended by, some competent person, or by a sufficient number of competent persons, and such persons shall not, if the amount of explosive conveyed exceed 100lb, stop or delay for a longer time than may be reasonably necessary, or stop unnecessarily at any place where such stopping would be attended with special public danger.

6. The following rules shall be observed with respect to the conveyance of explosive by public railway:—

I.—No person shall send for carriage upon any railway any consignment of an explosive unless he has given to a railway servant 48 hours' previous notice in writing of his intention to send such consignment, and stating the true name, description, quantity, and mode of packing of the explosive proposed to be conveyed, and his own name and address, and also the name and address of the proposed consignee, and unless he has had an intimation in writing from an authorized officer of the railway that such consignment will be received.

II.—No explosive which a Railway Administration shall, by any notice or regulation for the time being in force, notify that they will not receive, shall be brought, sent, or forwarded to, or upon, any Railway of the said Railway Administration.

III.—Consignments of explosives shall be sent to the forwarding station, and shall be received by the Railway servants, only at such times between sunrise and sunset, as the Railway Administration may appoint; and every package containing any explosive proposed to be conveyed on any railway shall, immediately on arrival at the station, be delivered to, and be received by the Railway servants authorised to receive dangerous goods, and by no other person whatsoever.

IV.—An explosive must be removed by the consignee from the receiving station during the twelve hours of daylight after arrival; if this condition is not strictly complied with, the Railway Administration may return the consignment to the consignor at his risk and expense. And such packages shall in the meanwhile be kept as far away from the station buildings as possible, in the wagon they were conveyed in, or, if unloaded, shall be completely covered with tarpaulins or other suitable material, and if necessary, shall be protected by a police guard.

V.—The Railway Administration may refuse to receive any packages which they suspect to contain any explosive packed or sent in contravention of these regulations. And in case any package, which the Railway Administration suspect, shall be upon any Railway, they may open, or require to be opened, any such package, to ascertain the fact, at the risk and expense of the consignor, and may return the explosive contained in the package to the consignor at his risk and expense, keeping the packages pending such return in the manner prescribed in the preceding rule.

VI.—No explosive shall be conveyed by passenger train except of the kinds and in the manner hereinafter specified in this rule:—

(a) Safety cartridges and percussion caps and safety-fuze (for blasting), also fog-signals for railway use, may be conveyed by passenger train, in ordinary wagons or carriages.

(b) Sporting gunpowder or non-safety cartridges packed in double cases as before provided, so long as the gunpowder is contained in one-pound tin canisters packed in a stout wooden case with an outer covering of tin or zinc completely spark-proof, or in metal-lined cases of a pattern approved by the Railway Administration. But no outer case shall contain more than 25lb of gunpowder, and the total consignment of gunpowder or non-safety cartridges by one train shall not exceed 80lb.

VII.—Not more than five carriages containing explosives shall be loaded or unloaded at any railway station, or be conveyed by any one train at any one time; and the quantity of explosive to be contained in any one carriage shall not exceed two-thirds of the normal load, unless the carriage shall be specially built and approved of by the Government of India for the conveyance of explosives. But nothing in this clause shall be held to apply to separate consignments of small arms ammunition.

VIII.—There shall not be conveyed in the same carriage with any explosive any lucifer or other matches, fuzees, pipelights, acids, naphtha, paraffine, petroleum to which the Petroleum Act or any Act repealing or amending the same appplies, or any other volatile spirit or substance liable to give off an inflammable vapour, or liable to spontaneous ignition, or to cause or to communicate fire or explosion.

IX.—The consignor shall attach to the consignment note a certificate signed by an officer authorized by the Government in this behalf that the explosive, if it is gun-cotton, dynamite, or blasting gelatine, is of the standard purity, and has undergone no deterioration since its manufacture; and further in the case of dynamite, that the cartridges have been examined and show no signs of exuded nitro-glycerine. The consignor shall also certify that the cartridges have been packed in this country in accordance with the packing rules.

X.—In the case of dynamite the outer package shall be marked with the date on which the dynamite was packed, and be secured with a leaden seal in token of the inspection having been made.

XI.—The certificate referred to in rule IX shall be valid for six months after date, if the examination has been made after the 15th October, but it shall not be compulsory for any Railway Administration to receive dynamite for conveyance from 1st April to 15th October (both inclusive).

XII.—Packages containing dynamite shall be stowed in one layer only, and secured so as to prevent movement during transit. The gross load in any one wagon shall not exceed 3 tons.

XIII.—No explosive belonging to the 5th (fulminate) class or to class VI, division 3, shall be carried in the same train with dynamite, or with any other explosive belonging to class III, division 1.

XIV.—Wagons used for the carriage of explosives shall be examined to see that they are spark-proof, and have been cleaned out before they are loaded. Haircloth, hides or other suitable material shall be spread on the floor of the wagon and between each layer of packages except when the packages are covered with gunny or felt, or contain small arms ammunition, packed in tin-lined service-pattern boxes.

XV.—Wagons containing explosives shall be loaded and unloaded on sidings distant as far as possible from the station buildings.

XVI.—More than three layers of packages containing explosives shall never be packed one above another, except in the case of small arms ammunition packed in tin-lined service-pattern boxes, when such a restriction is unnecessary. The loading and unloading of explosives when once begun shall be diligently proceeded with during daylight until the same is completed.

XVII.—When the train is being marshalled, wagons loaded with explosives may be shunted by a locomotive, provided that they are separated from the engine by not less than three wagons containing no explosives nor easily inflammable substance; this precaution is not necessary with wagons specially constructed and approved of by Government for the carriage of explosive. The speed of these movements will be restricted to five miles an hour; they will be superintended by a duly authorised officer, who will be held responsible for the observance of these orders. Flying shunts are strictly prohibited.

XVIII.—Wagons containing explosives shall be placed at the end of the train away from the locomotive, and shall be close coupled to one another, as well as to the adjoining wagons, and must be preceeded and followed by three wagons not loaded with explosive or other traffic of an inflammable nature.

XIX.—If the wagons employed in the transport of explosive, as well as those immediately adjoining them, are provided with brakes, they shall on no account be worked.

XX.—Wagons must in every case be locked when loaded with explosives.

XXI.—All operations connected with the transhipment of explosives at junction stations shall take place during daylight.

7. If any person commits a breach of any of the foregoing rules relating to the mode of conveyance of explosives, he shall be punished with a fine which may extend to Rs. 1,000.

IMPORTATION.

8. An explosive shall not be imported by sea into British India, except under, and in accordance with, the conditions of a license to import the explosive granted under these rules:

Provided that any explosive other than an explosive specified in rule 11 may, previous to the grant of an importation license, if certified to be of British manufacture, be landed in accordance with such regulations as the Local Government may prescribe in this behalf, and be stored in a place set apart by the Local Government for this purpose. The Governor-General in Council may extend this privilege to any such explosive not of British manufacture regarding which he is satisfied that it has been manufactured under adequate official supervision.

Before any explosive is landed under the proviso to this rule, the consignee shall give to the Chief Customs Officer of the port such undertaking with or without security, as the said officer thinks sufficient, to obey, in the event of the explosive failing to satisfy the prescribed tests, such directions as to its disposal as the Local Government may see fit to prescribe.

9. If any person imports an explosive in contravention of rule 8, he shall be punished with fine which may extend to three thousand rupees.

10. An explosive shall not be imported by sea except at the ports of Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, Rangoon, Calicut, Kurrachee, and Aden.

11. If the explosive is gunpowder or an explosive of the 1st division of the 6th (ammunition) class or an explosive of the 7th (firework) class, the license to import the same may be granted at the ports of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay by the Commissioner of Police, and at the Ports of Rangoon, Calicut, Kurrachee, and Aden by the District Magistrate.

12 The fee payable in respect of each such license shall be Rs. 10.

13. Licenses for the importation by sea of any explosive other than those specified in rule 11 shall be granted by the Local Government or by some officer specially authorised by the Local Government in this behalf.

14. No license for the importation of any explosive of the description referred to in rule 13 shall be granted unless samples of the explosive taken as hereinafter provided are certified by the Chemical Examiner, or some other Officer appointed by the Local Government in this behalf, to pass the test which may from time to time be prescribed for such explosive by the Government of India.

15. On the arrival in any port at which importation of explosives is lawful of a ship having on board an explosive other than an explosive of the description referred to in rule 11, such officer as the Chief Customs Officer authorises in this behalf shall, as soon as may be, proceed on board and obtain samples of the explosive.

The master of the ship shall give to the said officer, without charge, such samples as he may require. The said officer shall affix to each such sample the name of the ship and of the consignee and such other distinguishing marks as he may think necessary, and shall forward the same to the Chemical Examiner or officer as aforesaid for report.

The Chemical Examiner or officer as aforesaid, after testing the said samples, shall without delay forward to the licensing authority, through the Chief Customs Officer, a report under his signature certifying whether the explosive has satisfied the prescribed test.

16. The period for which a license to import an explosive, granted under rule 13, shall continue in force shall not exceed such period as may seem necessary to the authority granting the license.

17. The fee payable on a license granted under rule 13 shall be Rs. 10.

18. Every license granted under rules 11 and 13 shall be in Form A in the schedule hereto annexed, and shall be subject to the conditions therein prescribed, and also to such additional conditions with respect to the time and place of unloading, landing, delivery, and conveyance of the explosive, and such other conditions as may in each case be thought by the licensing officer to be necessary for the public safety or in the interests of the State.

19. If any person commits a breach of any condition subject to which a license under rules 11 and 13 is granted, he shall be punished with fine which may extend to three thousand rupees.

GENERAL.

20. Every license granted under these rules shall be liable to be forfeited on breach of any of the conditions subject to which it is granted.

21. If a person licensed to import an explosive dies or becomes bankrupt, or becomes mentally incapable or otherwise disabled, the person carrying on the business of such licensee shall not be liable to any penalty or forfeiture under the Act or the rules made thereunder for acting under the license during such reasonable time as may be necessary to allow him to make an application to the authority granting the license for a new license in his own name during the currency of the unexpired portion of the original license. Such new license shall be granted on the payment of one rupee.

22. The fees leviable under these rules shall be taken in the shape of "impressed stamps." Ordinarily the applications for licenses or renewals of licenses shall if not otherwise provided, be written on "impressed stamps" of value equal to the amount of fee leviable in respect of such licenses or renewals, the licenses themselves being issued on plain paper. But when the licenses themselve are written or printed on impressed stamps, the application may be on plain paper. When an application for a license is written on any impressed stamp, and the license is refused, the value of the stamp will on application be refunded to the applicant.

23. When a license granted in accordance with these rules is lost, or accidently destroyed, a duplicate may be granted to the licensee on payment of a fee of 8 annas.

24. Any person holding a license, or acting under a license granted in accordance with these rules, shall be bound to produce the same, when called upon to do so by any Magistrate or by any police officer in charge of a police station, or by any police officer of higher rank.

25. All Magistrates or other authorities acting under these rules will perform their duties subject to the control of their executive superiors and of the Local Government.

26. Any authority empowered to grant a license under the foregoing rule may, if he thinks fit, direct by an order written on the license that it shall have the effect of a like license under the Indian Arms Act, 1878.

27. Any persons lawfully entitled under the Indian Arms Act, 1878, or the rules made thereunder, to possess any explosive coming under the head of ammunition as defined in that Act may possess, or import without license under these rules, any such explosive in reasonable quantities for his own private use: but when an explosive is so imported, the Collector of Customs or any other officer empowered by the Local Government in this behalf by name or by virtue of his office may at any time detain such explosive until he receives the orders of the Local Goverment thereon.

24-Pergunnahs Collectorate, Alipore, the 12th August 1885. A. W. PAUL, Offg. Collector.

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary right of Government, as specified in the conditions of sale below, to the undermentioned estate, situated in the district of Nuddea, will be put up to sale at the Nuddea Collectorate on Monday, the 28th of September 1885, corresponding with 13th Ashvin 1292.

The purchasers will be subject to the following conditions of sale—

Conditions of Sale.

1*st*.—The estate to be sold to the highest bidder above the upset price. The purchaser of this estate will be considered as the proprietor of the estate, and the entire proprietary right of Government in such estate will be transferred to him, subject to the revenue fixed in perpetuity.

2*nd*.—The sale to be subject to existing leases and to the rights conferred by the settlement proceedings and by the laws in force, and purchaser to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators who have signed the schedule of assessment prepared by the revenue authorities.

3*rd*.—If the amount of purchase money do not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.

4*th*.—If the amount of purchase money exceed Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale, reckoning the day of the sale as one, or if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale to be cancelled (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government), and the estate to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser after issue of advertisement, as in the case of original sale.

AUDIT REPORT OF THE COMMISSIONERS' ACCOUNTS, HALF-YEAR ENDING 31st MARCH 1885.

No. 131LA.

FROM

To

THE COMMISSIONERS FOR MAKING IMPROVEMENTS IN THE PORT OF CALCUTTA.

Dated Calcutta, the 13th July 1885.

GENTLEMEN,

WE have the honour to report that the cash and store accounts maintained in your office for the half-year ending the 31st March 1885 have been examined and audited under our supervision and by our direction, and to certify that they have been found to be correct.

We append statements—(1) the transactions of your revenue and capital accounts during the half-year in question, and (2) of your assets and liabilities on the 31st March 1885 as obtained from your books.

We have the honour to be,

GENTLEMEN,

Your most obedient servant,

E. T. ATKINSON,

Accountant-General.

C. RIVETT-CARNAC,

Examiner of Local Accounts in Bengal.

BROJENDRA NATH DE,
Covenanted Certificated Deputy Collector.
Hooghly Collectorate, the 4th August 1885.

Calcutta Port Trust.

GUARANTEED DEBENTURE LOAN, 1885.

The Calcutta Port Improvement Act, V of 1870 (B.C.), and the amending Acts, and the Act to enable the Commissioners for making Improvements in the Port of Calcutta to construct Docks at Kidderpore, Act II (B.C.) of 1885. Issue of seventy-five lakhs of Rupees, 4½ per cent. debentures, having a currency of not less than forty years. Interest guaranteed by the Secretary of State for India in Council until such time as the loan is repaid.

TENDERS are invited for a loan of seventy-five lakhs of rupees at 4½ per cent. interest upon debentures to be issued under the provisions of Act II (B.C.) of 1885 to provide for the construction, equipment, maintenance, and management of the docks at Kidderpore, such loan having been sanctioned by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council by notification published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 22nd July 1885, Part I, page 717, the payment of interest thereon being secured by the guarantee of the Secretary of State for India in Council until such time as the loan is repaid.

The debentures will be for sums of Rs. 100 each, or multiples of Rs. 100, as may be desired, made payable to order, and carrying interest at the rate of 4½ per cent. per annum, payable half-yearly on the 1st day of January and 1st day of July at the office of the Port Commissioners upon presentation of the debentures. Twenty-five per cent. of the amount tendered for to be paid on 1st October, 25 per cent on 1st November, and the balance on 1st December 1885, into the Bank of Bengal. Any allotment may, however, be paid in full at the option of the tenderer upon receipt of letter of allotment, and interest will run on such payments from the date of the Bank's receipts. The Bank of Bengal's receipts for the payments should be forwarded to the Port Commissioners, who, upon the receipt of the acknowledgment for the final instalment, will issue the debentures for the amount allotted in such sums as the holders of the receipts may desire. Arrangements will be made, if required, to enface debentures issued under this loan for payment of interest in England by drafts on India.

Tenders in the prescribed form should be filled up and forwarded in sealed covers superscribed "Tender for Port Trust Dock Loan, 1885," to the Secretary to the Port Commissioners before noon of Wednesday, the sixteenth day of September 1885, accompanied by either Government Promissory Notes equal in value to, or a receipt from the Bank of Bengal for, 2 per cent. upon the amount of each debenture applied for.

The deposit of 2 per cent. will be returned if an allotment is not made, and it will be forfeited if an allotment after being made is not fully taken up.

In case a less number of debentures is allotted than is applied for, the excess of the deposit will be applied in or towards payment of the balance due upon such number as may be allotted.

The tenders will be opened in the presence of the Port Commissioners. The minimum rate at which tenders will be accepted will be recorded under the signature of the Chairman and before the tenders are opened, but will not be made public unless some tender is rejected only because it is below the recorded minimum.

Forms of tender can be obtained on application to the Secretary to the Port Commissioners, and the form of debenture can be seen at the office of the Secretary. A separate tender must be made for each rate.

Radha is represented as lamenting her separation from Krishna who has gone to Mathura, sending her female friends to Mathura to bring him back to her, and becoming reunited to him. The erotic sentiment predominates in this piece.	3773
Nov., 19th	30	12mo ...	1st ...	500	ditto ...	0 4 0	Ramtáran Sányál, 11, Ramchandrá Maitrá's Lane, Calcutta.	Some of the incidents in the story of Behulá and Lakshendra (related in the well-known Bengali work entitled Manasar Bhasan) are told in this opera in the style and spirit of the present school of Bengali erotic poetry. Some alterations are made in the main features of the story, and a decidedly sentimental cast is imparted to the narrative by introducing characters and situations which cannot be found in the original. Behulá is the daughter of a merchant.	3774

Feb., 20th	24	12mo ...	1st ...	2,000	ditto ...	0 1 6	Rájkrishna Ráya, Calcutta.	A pet child suddenly conceives a whim at dead of night to see a monkey. But there is no monkey in the house to show to him. So the child's father, an utterly uxorious man, has to dress himself up and dance like a monkey at the command of the child's mother. It is the author's object to ridicule uxorious men.	3941
Jan., 21st	24	24mo ...	1st ...	1,000	ditto ...	0 1 0	Baradá Kánta Sen, 18, Ratan Mistri's Lane, Calcutta.	A small poem, half political, half sentimental. The moon marries the morning star because it is of all stars the most womanly in loveliness and bashfulness of disposition. Before the marriage the morning star is asked to tell the moon when the moon becomes its husband to remind the people of India of their present degraded and enslaved condition, and to advise them to elevate themselves by loving each other and thereby making union feasible among them. The meaning of the poem seems to be that the regeneration of the people of this country should be the work of Hindu women who are the most womanly of their sex.	3942
,, 26th	31	8vo ...	1st ...	1,000	ditto ...	0 4 0	Sarat Kukári Guptá, 6, Gupta's Lane, Calcutta.	The authoress advises her country women on subjects which are of interest to the sex in this country.	3943

Jan., 10th	18	12mo ...	1st ...	500	Printed	0 4 0	Abinás Chandra Chatterji, 53, Grey Street, Calcutta.	Great sympathy is expressed with the young Bengali widow, but the author is of opinion that it is best for her to remain faithful to the memory of her deceased husband. The restlessness of youth passes away in a few years and if a young widow can only exercise a little self-restraint during those years, she may be sure that all the remaining days of her life will be passed in a state of purity, cheerfulness and tranquility.	3945

Jan., 14th	4	12mo ...	1st ...	12,000	ditto ...	.....	ditto ...	Such things as houses, lands, and gardens can be had for money, but not such things as peace of mind, salvation, &c., which are God's gift to man through Jesus Christ.	3992
„ 14th	4	12mo ...	1st ...	12,000	ditto ..	.....	ditto ...	An adequate idea of the value of the soul can only be formed by first considering what value man sets upon things so inferior to the soul as eyes, ears, &c. Men should therefore always look to the welfare of the soul, which can only be secured by faith in Jesus Christ.	3993
„ 14th	4	12mo ...	1st ...	12,000	ditto ...	.....	ditto ...	The mere knowledge of Christ's life and mission will save no soul. If a soul is to be saved, it is necessary that besides that knowledge there should be faith in Jesus Christ.	3994
„ 15th	12	12mo ...	2nd ...	5,000	ditto ..	.....	ditto ...	There is good evidence in support of the story of Christ's life, but no evidence to show that Krishna did all that he is stated to have done.	3995
„ 9th	4	12mo ...	2nd ...	5,000	ditto ...	.....	ditto ...	Argues that salvation cannot be obtained by anything that man can himself do. For what man does is done with such mental and bodily powers as God has given to him, and therefore any merit which may be supposed to spring from man's acts must belong to God and not to man. Man owes his salvation therefore, not to his own efforts, but to the sacrifice which Christ made of himself for man's sake.	3996

„ 7th	4	12mo ...	1st ...	7,000	ditto ...	.....	ditto ...	In self-sacrifice is found the best proof that one can give of one's love for another. The best proof of God's love for man is found in the sacrifice which he has made of his beloved son, Jesus Christ.	4000
„ 12th	4	12mo ...	1st ...	12,000	ditto ...	.....	ditto ...	For those whose souls are not in a state of peace, the most welcome thing on earth should be Christ's well-known invitation 'come to me'; for if they do come to him, the promise 'I will give you rest' would be sure to be fulfilled.	4001
„ 7th	8	12mo ...	1st ...	5,000	ditto ...	.....	ditto ...	Jesus Christ is or should be every body's delight. The people of India are therefore exhorted to listen with patience and respect to all who speak to them about him, for whoever speaks to them of Christ is not their enemy, as they usually suppose, but their friend. They should also learn to believe in Christ.	4002

1884. Dec., 14th	28	9″ × 6″	1st ...	1,000	ditto ...	0 2 0	.....	It would seem that in some East Bengal districts at any rate the umbilical cord is cut, sometimes by a dry nurse and in some other instances by some member of the family in which a child-birth has taken place. The latter custom is, however, regarded with disfavour, and the families in which it prevails are often subjected to great social penalties. The writer of this tract is of opinion, however, that this should not be, and the cutting of the umbilical cord by a member of a family is not so wrong an action that it should be attended with social disabilities.	332

The editor, who is apparently not a professional man, has become a great believer in the efficacy of the homœpathic system of treatment since his recovery, under that system of treatment. from a long and obstinate illness. He has therefore started this journal with the view of enabling all classes of people in this country to acquire some knowledge of homœopathy and use it themselves in the treatment of diseases.	1323

The writer of one of the papers in this number thinks that the physical weakness of Bengalis of the present time arises not from early marriage and polygamy as such, but from the fall of the general moral tone of Bengali society, which leads to the disregard and non-observance of those customs and usages which were strictly followed in former times in order to render those institutions innocuous.	1324

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.

FINANCE.

Darjeeling, the 20th August 1885.

RESOLUTION.

THE Lieutenant-Governor is now in a position to review the actual financial results of the year 1883-84, the revised estimates for the year 1884-85, and the budget estimates for 1885-86. The final accounts of the first year with the report of the Accountant-General have been received, and the Government of India have considered the estimates which the Lieutenant-Governor has formed of the financial position of this Government at the close of the past year, and of the funds at its disposal during the current year.

ACCOUNTS OF 1883-84.

2. The revised estimate adopted in the Resolution of the 30th August 1884 assumed that the year 1883-84 had opened with a credit balance of Rs. 21,47,000, and closed with a credit balance of Rs. 2,37,000; that the total amount available for expenditure was Rs. 3,95,28,000; and that Rs. 3,92,91,000 had been spent. The actual result has been more favourable by Rs. 4,50,000. The amount actually available for expenditure was Rs. 4,00,11,000, and the amount actually expended was Rs. 3,93,24,000. The closing credit balance was Rs. 6,87,000. The following table gives a general view of the figures:—

Receipts.		Revenue and expenditure.	Outgoings.

REVENUE.

4. There was an increase on the Revenue side of Rs. 4,83,000 over the revised estimates. Among the principal heads of Revenue, the only one which shows an increase is "Land Revenue" (Rs. 78,000). This increase is due to the fact that the amount of "Transfers for Productive Public Works" from Provincial to Imperial, which are adjusted under this head, came to only Rs. 6,61,715 instead of Rs. 7,92,000 as included in the revised estimate, the effect being to increase the Provincial share of Land Revenue by Rs. 1,30,285. On the other hand there was a reduction of Rs. 46,364 in the net credit under Inter-Provincial Adjustments, which afforded a credit for Rs. 95,636 in favour of Bengal against Rs. 1,42,000 entered in the revised estimate. There were also minor differences in the details of adjustments between Imperial and Provincial, and the result was that the total Provincial share of Land Revenue was better than the revised estimate by Rs. 78,000. Against this increase of Rs. 78,000, there was a decrease of Rs. 8,000 under Provincial rates and Rs. 3,000 under Forest.

5. Of the improvement under Civil Departments, amounting to Rs. 1,52,000, a sum of Rs. 1,17,000 is due to increase in Sale proceeds of Jail Manufactures. There was an increase of Rs. 9,000 under "Marine," Rs. 3,000 under "Education," Rs. 3,000 under "Medical," and Rs. 20,000 in Cinchona receipts subordinate to "Scientific and other Minor Departments."

6 The Miscellaneous receipts aggregated Rs. 9,78,000 against Rs. 7,39,000 provided for in the revised estimate. There was an increase of Rs. 2,29,000 under "Miscellaneous" proper, chiefly in Unclaimed deposits, and of Rs. 10,000 under "Interest." There was also an increase of Rs. 1,000 under "Superannuation" against a decrease of Rs. 1,000 under "Stationery and Printing."

7. Under Productive Public Works there was a reduction of Rs. 32,000 in railway receipts, chiefly owing to the failure of the jute crop in the districts which feed the Northern Bengal State Railway, against an increase of Rs. 3,000 in direct receipts from the irrigation canals.

8. The increase under Public Works not classed as productive public works amounted to Rs. 54,000, the bulk of which was due to increased ferry receipts.

EXPENDITURE.

9. The actual expenditure of 1883-84, compared with the revised estimate, shows an increase of Rs. 33,000. There was an increase of Rs. 58,000 under "Scientific and other Minor Departments," chiefly under Cinchona Plantations; of Rs. 49,000 under District Executive Police; and of Rs. 16,000 under Marine. Against these increases there was a saving of Rs. 76,000 under Stationery and Printing, of which Rs. 50,000 was under the sub-head of stationery supplied from central stores; of Rs. 20,000 in miscellaneous refunds subordinate to Miscellaneous, and Rs. 14,000 under Interest. There were also minor increases and decreases, and the net result, as stated above, was an increase of Rs. 33,000 over the revised estimate. The increase under "Public works not classed as productive" is nominal, and is due to the inclusion under this head of the grants made to municipalities which were shown under "Contributions" in the revised estimate. There is a saving of Rs. 1,07,000 shown under the latter head. The net result of the year was, as shown above, an improvement of Rs. 4,50,000, and the year closed with a credit balance of Rs. 6,87,000 against Rs. 2,37,000 anticipated when the revised estimate was framed.

REVISED ESTIMATE FOR 1884-85.

10. A revised estimate, based on the actuals of eight months, and in some instances, of ten months, was submitted to the Government of India with letter No. 922, dated the 4th March 1885. Later information has induced the Lieutenant-Governor to modify these estimates to a certain extent. The following table shows the revised estimates as framed in March last, the estimates as modified by the Government of India, and the estimates as finally adopted by the Government of Bengal:—

In reporting on the accounts of 1882 83, the Accountant-General brought to notice that "Civil furlough and absentee allowances" were being debited against the departments to which the officers belonged, instead of, as heretofore, against head 28, which was made wholly Imperial in the last Financial Contract. Charges of Rs. 36,016 and Rs. 43,437 were incurred by the Provincial Government in 1882-83 and 1883-84, respectively, in consequence of this change of procedure in the accounts, and a credit of Rs. 40,000 a year was accordingly provided in the revised estimate for each of the three years 1882-83 to 1884-85. It appears that this change in the classification of the charges in question was made through a misapprehension of orders, and the Government of India have since directed their re-transfer to head 28 with effect from 1884-85. As a compensation for the loss in 1882-83 and 1883-84, a sum of Rs. 79,000 has been added to the Provincial share of Land Revenue, and the provision of Rs 40,000 for 1884-85 has been struck out. The estimate of the Government of India stands at Rs. 1,29,37,000. The latest return from the Comptroller-General shows that the total collections of land revenue during the year aggregated Rs. 3,74,66,000, or Rs. 6,52,000 less than was anticipated in March last. This falling off is due to the non-payment of revenue, amounting to Rs. 8,00,000, by the Burdwan Raj, owing to the death of the late Maharajah, whose estate has very recently been brought under the Court of Wards. The whole of this amount has been paid since the beginning of the current year, but the postponement of the payment till after the 31st March last has caused a reduction in the Provincial share of Land Revenue for 1884-85. On the other hand there has been an increase of about Rs. 7,000 under "10 per cent. on collections from Government Estates," and the estimate now stands at Rs. 1,27,34,000.

12. Salt.—The original estimate under this head was Rs. 1,47,000. It was reduced to Rs. 1,00,000 in the first revised estimate with reference to the actuals of 1883-84 amounting to Rs. 99,984. There has been an increase in the demand for warehouse accommodation, and the information before Government justifies the Lieutenant-Governor in assuming that the receipts will prove to have amounted to Rs. 1,24,000.

13. Stamps.—The revised estimate of the Local Government under this head, amounting to Rs. 64,50,000, has been raised to Rs. 64,58,000 by the Government of India. The latest returns tend to show that the receipts will probably have amounted to Rs. 64,96,000, and this amount will be taken as the revised estimate for 1884-85.

14. Excise.—The original estimate under this head was reduced from Rs. 52,50,000 to Rs. 51,00,000 in March last, in consequence of the high prices of rice and other food-grains prevailing during the year. The latest returns show that the Provincial receipts will not have exceeded Rs. 50,26,000. The falling off is especially in the Patna Division. The revised estimate will stand at Rs. 50,26,000.

15. Provincial Rates.—The estimate under this head has been raised from Rs. 38,63,000 to Rs. 38,93,000. There has been an increase in the collections of the public works cess, as also under the head of Rates for the Management of Wards' and Attached Estates in consequence of these rates having now been calculated at 1 per cent. on the current demand of rent and cesses combined, and the 4-anna rate for treasury establishments having been also calculated on both rents and cesses.

16. Assessed Taxes.—The returns from the Comptroller-General show that the total receipts from license-tax in 1884-85 will not have amounted to less than Rs. 14,96,000, and half of this, or Rs. 7,48,000, will be taken as the revised estimate of the Provincial share.

17. Forests.—The Government of India have reduced the estimate of the Local Government under this head from Rs. 7,00,000 to Rs. 6,00,000. There has been a diminution of demand for timber for railway works. The receipts will not probably have amounted to more than Rs. 5,66,000, and revised estimate of the Provincial share will stand at Rs. 2,83,000.

18. Registration.—The revised estimate as now adopted amounts to Rs. 5,41,000 against Rs. 5,38,000, as originally estimated.

19. Law and Justice.—The "Fees, fines, and forfeiture of judicial courts," and "Pleadership examination fees" will probably not have come up to the anticipations formed when the revised estimate was submitted to the Government of India. The estimate is now reduced from Rs. 15,60,000 to Rs. 15,09,000.

20. Police.—The revised estimate under this head has been raised from Rs. 6,80,000 to Rs. 6,99,000.

21. Marine.—There was a falling off in pilotage receipts towards the close of the year, and the revised estimate now stands at Rs. 7,83,000 against Rs. 8,50,000 reported to the Government of India in March last.

22. Scientific and other Minor Departments.—There was a slight falling off in the sale proceeds of cinchona febrifuge, owing probably to the unusually cheap rate of quinine prevailing during the year. The revised estimate under this head now stands at Rs. 1,74,000 against Rs. 1,87,000 formerly estimated.

23. Interest.—The receipts under this head will probably have exceeded the estimate by Rs. 20,000. There has been an increase under the head of "Interest on the arrears of the public works cess." The estimate now stands at Rs. 68,000.

24. State Railways (gross earnings)—The Government of India have reduced the local estimate of Rs. 41,72,000 to Rs. 41,07,000, thus:—

	Local Government.	Government of India.
	Rs.	Rs.
Northern Bengal	21,75,000	21,65,000
Tirhoot	13,00,000	12,40,000
Patna-Gya	5,10,000	5,18,000
Dacca-Mymensingh	18,000	15,000
Calcutta and South-Eastern	92,000	94,000
Nulhati	77,000	75,000
Total ...	41,72,000	41,07,000

Later information shows that the receipts from the Northern Bengal Railway will have fallen short even of the estimate of the Government of India by Rs. 24,000. The receipts from the Tirhoot State Railway will have amounted to Rs. 12,66,000, and those from the Dacca-Mymensingh and Nulhati Railways to Rs. 22,000 and Rs. 77,000 respectively. The estimate will be placed at Rs. 41,18,000.

25. The direct receipts from Irrigation and Navigation will probably have increased by Rs. 1,07,000, and the revised estimate has been raised from Rs. 12,00,000 to Rs. 13,07,000.

26. The receipts from Irrigation and Navigation, not classed as Productive Public Works, will not have come up to the revised estimate submitted to the Government of India. The estimate now stands at Rs. 7,77,000 against Rs. 8,00,000 as formerly estimated.

27. Civil Buildings, Roads, and Services in charge of the Public Works Department.—The Government of India have raised the local estimate under this head from Rs. 6,50,000 to Rs. 7,10,000. The net profits from the sale of the Akra bricks to the Port Commissioners, Calcutta, which were included in this estimate, have not been realized, as the Port Commissioners could not pay for the bricks supplied to them during 1884-85. The original estimate also included a credit of one lakh as profits from the Burrakur Iron Works. The so-called profit, however, can for the present only be applied to reducing the deposit account of the works, and should be excluded. The total receipts will not have exceeded Rs. 6,10,000, including a sum of Rs. 4,00,000 realized from the East Indian Railway Company for the value of their office in Calcutta. Rupees 6,10,000 will be taken as the revised estimate for 1884-85.

28. Civil Buildings, Roads, and Services in charge of Civil Officers.—A sum of Rs. 67,000 has been credited under this head "for recovery on account of zemindari embankments under the contract system." There were increases under other heads, and the revised estimate is raised from Rs. 5,03,000 to Rs. 5,79,000.

29. Contributions.—The sum of Rs. 30,000 entered under this head represents the refund of the amount advanced to the Wahabee Fund for the construction of a road from the Maroofgunge Bazar to the Patna Railway station.

Expenditure.

30. The local estimate of the total "Direct Demands on the Revenue" has been reduced by the Government of India from Rs. 48,90,000 to Rs. 48,62,000. A reduction of Rs. 25,000 has been made under "Forests," and of Rs. 3,000 under "Land Revenue" on account of the transfer of the charges for civil furlough and absentee allowances to head 28. The latest information before Government shows that the total demands will not have been less than Rs. 48,70,000, and this amount will be taken as the revised estimate for 1884-85.

31. General Administration.—The expenditure under "Commissioners," "Civil Secretariat," and "Tour Expenses" showed an increase towards the close of the year. The revised estimate will be raised from Rs. 15,42,000 to Rs. 16,04,000.

32. Law and Justice.—The estimate of the Local Government has been reduced by the Government of India by Rs. 12,000 on account of the transfer of the charges for civil furlough and absentee allowances. The charges under the heads "High Court Judges," "Civil and Sessions Courts," and "Criminal Courts" showed a tendency towards increase; while the grant provided for "Law Officers" will not have been fully expended. The estimate has been raised from Rs. 93,56,000 to Rs. 94,12,000.

33. Police.—The Government of India have reduced the estimate under this head from Rs. 46,32,000 to Rs. 46,30,000 on account of the transfer of the charges for civil furlough and absentee allowances. There has, however, been a considerable increase of expenditure under District Executive Force, Presidency Police, and Village Police, and the revised estimate now stands at Rs. 47,74,000.

34. Marine.—The Government of India have reduced the estimate under this head by Rs. 13,000 owing to the transfer of the charges on account of civil furlough and absentee allowances. The information before Government shows that a provision of Rs. 8,23,000 will suffice.

35. Education.—The estimate under this head has been reduced by the Government of India by Rs. 5,000 on account of the transfer of the charges for civil furlough and absentee allowances. There has been an increase of expenditure under grant-in-aid. The revised estimate will be raised to a round sum of Rs. 34,00,000.

36. Medical.—The estimate under this head also has been reduced by the Government of India by Rs. 5,000 for civil furlough and absentee allowances transferred to head 28. There has been an increase of expenditure, and the revised estimate is now placed at Rs. 14,45,000.

37. Scientific and other Minor Departments.—The local estimate under this head has been reduced by the Government of India from Rs. 3,62,000 to Rs 3,51,000. The latest information shows that a provision of Rs 3,42,000 will suffice. This amount will accordingly stand as the revised estimate for 1884-85.

38. The revised estimate of "Miscellaneous Civil Charges" now amounts to Rs. 26,61,000 against Rs. 26,65,000 formerly estimated. There will probably have been larger expenditure under "Stationery and Printing" and "Miscellaneous" against smaller expenditure under "Superannuation allowances, &c."

39. A sum of Rs. 25,000 has been spent on "Charitable Famine Relief" out of the provision of Rs. 50,000. This represents only the expenditure directly incurred by Government agency, and excludes the grants made from the provision for "Contributions" to District Road Committees for expenditure on relief works. Rupees 25,000 will accordingly stand as the revised estimate under this head.

40. State Railways (Working Expenses).—The local estimate under this head has been raised by the Government of India from Rs 29,54,000 to Rs. 29,85,000, thus:—

	Local Government.	Government of India.
	Rs.	Rs.
Northern Bengal	15,15,000	15,15,000
Tirhoot	9,88,000	9,93,000
Patna-Gya	2,95,000	3,04,000
Dacca-Mymensingh	14,000	15,000
Calcutta and South-Eastern	69,000	86,000
Nulhati	73,000	73,000
Total ...	29,54,000	29,85,000

The latest information shows that the estimate of expenditure on the Northern Bengal State Railway will have been exceeded, and the revised estimate will now be raised to Rs. 30,00,000.

41. The working expenses of Irrigation and Navigation Canals will also have exceeded the estimate of Rs. 11,36,000, and it now stands at Rs. 11,76,000.

42. The latest returns received from the Examiner of Public Works Accounts show that the charge for interest on the capital expended on Productive Public Works, Irrigation, amounted to Rs. 22,13,000, or less by Rs. 2,000 than the sum originally estimated.

43. A provision of Rs. 1,38,000 was made in the revised estimate under the head of "State Railways, Capital Account." The whole of this grant could not be appropriated in 1884-85, and the total expenditure, including the administrative charges, and a new charge for the survey of a route for an extension of the Northern Bengal State Railway from Rungpore to the bank of the Brahmaputra river between Bugwa and Kaligunge, will not have amounted to more than Rs. 57,000. This amount will be entered as the revised estimate for 1884-85.

44. Subsidized Railways.—A sum of Rs. 70,000 was provided under this head for payment of compensation for lands taken up for the Tarkessur Railway. The payments could not all be effected during the current year, and the total expenditure will probably have amounted to Rs. 58,000. This amount will be taken as the revised estimate for 1884-85.

45. Irrigation and Navigation (non-productive).—The grant of Rs. 8,73,000 under this head will not have been fully appropriated during 1884-85, and the revised estimate now stands at Rs. 7,61,000.

46. Civil Buildings, Roads, and Services in charge of the Public Works Department.—The revised estimate under this head, as submitted to the Government of India, amounted to Rs. 25,21,000. The failure of the Calcutta Port Commissioners to pay within the year for a large quantity of bricks purchased by them from the Akra works has led to an increase of the stock balances of the Public Works Department, causing an increase of expenditure of more than two lakhs. The revised estimate now stands at Rs. 27,30,000.

47. Civil Buildings, Roads, and Services in charge of Civil Officers.—The allotment under this head included a provision of Rs. 61,000 for grants-in-aid to municipal and other funds, which were not wholly drawn during 1884-85. The revised estimate under this head now stands at Rs. 66,000.

48. A sum of Rs. 3,50,000 was provided for "contributions" to Incorporated Local Funds. This was increased to Rs. 4,00,000 by the Government of India. The latest report from the Accountant-General shows that the expenditure under this head will not have exceeded Rs. 2,54,000. This amount will accordingly stand as the revised estimate for the year.

49. In letter No. 922, dated the 4th March 1885, submitting the revised estimate for 1884-85 to the Government of India, it was reported that the Province was expected to close the year 1884-85 with a credit balance of Rs. 18,39,000. The Government of India have reduced this estimate to Rs. 17,24,000. According to the revised estimate now adopted, the closing balance will now amount to Rs. 14,09,000.

Budget Estimate, 1885-86.

50. The Lieutenant-Governor has already, in separate Resolutions, reviewed the estimates of receipts and expenditure for the current year under each head of account. Later information, however, has led the Lieutenant-Governor to modify these in some respects, while the general reduction of civil expenditure, rendered necessary in consequence of the political situation on the North-Western Frontier, has necessitated retrenchments, amounting in all to Rs. 9,07,000, in the Provincial budget for the current year. The following statement shows the original budget submitted by the Local Government, the figures accepted by the Government of India, and the estimates which the Lieutenant-Governor has finally resolved to adopt:—

RECEIPTS.

51. Land Revenue.—The total Land Revenue for the year 1885-86 was originally estimated at Rs. 3,81,60,000, and the Provincial share at Rs. 1,28,92,000, thus :—

	Rs.

Net—
Provincial share	1,28,92,000

The Government of India have deducted the credit for Rs. 40,000 taken on account of "Civil furlough and absentee allowances," as these allowances have been transferred to a separate head, 28, which is Imperial. The amount taken on account of the loss incurred by the Government of Bengal, by the transfer of the Old Calcutta and South-Eastern State Railway to the Eastern Bengal State Railway, has also been reduced by the Government of India from Rs. 40,000 to Rs. 30,000. The estimate of the Government of India thus amounts to Rs. 1,28,42,000. The death of the late Maharajah of Burdwan towards the end of last year led to the payment of about eight lakhs of land revenue due from his estate being deferred till after the 31st March, and caused a corresponding diminution in the receipts under "Land Revenue" during 1884-85. This amount, it is reported, has already been made up since the 1st April last, and will proportionally swell the receipts during the current year. The Provincial share will accordingly be increased by Rs. 2,58,000, and the estimate will stand at Rs. 1,31,00,000.

52. Salt.—There has been an increase in the demand for warehouse accommodation. The original estimate of Rs. 1,44,000, which has been passed by the Government of India, will be retained.

53. Stamps.—The total revenue from stamps has been estimated at Rs. 1,32,00,000, showing an increase of Rs. 2,08,000 over the revised estimate as it at present stands. The latest returns from the district officers show that the receipts during the first three months of the current year exceeded those of the corresponding period of last year by Rs. 1,64,000. Calculated at this rate, the total increase during the year may amount to Rs. 6,56,000. It will not be safe, however, to calculate on such a large increase, but the estimate may be safely placed at a round sum of Rs. 1,33,00,000, and the Provincial share at Rs. 66,50,000.

54. Excise.—The estimate under this head was originally placed at 102 lakhs. The returns show that the actual receipts in 1884-85 have not amounted to more than Rs. 1,00,52,000, and the figures for the first three months of the current year show a falling off as compared with 1884-85 of Rs. 38,353, Rs. 69,800 and Rs. 69,043 respectively. On a careful consideration of all the elements involved, the Lieutenant-Governor thinks it will not be safe to place the estimate for 1885-86 at a higher figure than Rs. 97,00,000, although, if the rains are favourable, and the harvest a success, a larger revenue may confidently be looked for. In forecasting the Excise revenue for the year, there are three principal points to be considered. In the first place it is undeniable that in some of the districts from which a large part of this revenue is drawn, notably in Gya, there has been for a year past considerable pressure upon the population, and the surplus available for expenditure on luxuries, among which country liquor takes a prominent place, has approached a vanishing point. This circumstance has largely affected the rates offered at auction for the outstills where this system is still in force. In the second place it is an indisputable fact that, in apparent defiance of the laws of political economy, the revenue of some districts, such as Bhagulpore, had been unnaturally inflated by errors of administration, and that the liquor-vendors have for some years been carrying on their business at a loss. This of course is not a state of things which could continue for more than a comparatively short time; and the inevitable collapse has now taken place. Lastly, the outstill system, under which the rate of monthly license fee is determined by auction before the beginning of the year, is, for obvious reasons, less immediately responsive to the fluctuations of the season. The rates for the current year were settled once for all in March last, and were injuriously affected by the deficient rainfall and scanty crops of 1884-85. If, as may be hoped, the harvests of 1885-86 are favourable, the outstill revenue will improve comparatively little. On the other hand, the sudder distilleries are very sensitive to the fluctuations in the prosperity of the agricultural classes; and though there has been some delay (for financial reasons) in introducing these, and in strengthening the supervising staff, it is hoped that good harvests will re-act favourably on the returns of this branch of the revenue. It will depend on whether the autumn rains are propitious, whether the operation of this last-named factor will cause the Excise revenue to exceed the estimate. If they should be unseasonable, the Lieutenant-Governor cannot hope for a larger revenue than 97 lakhs.

55. Provincial Rates.—The revised estimate under this head for 1884-85 now stands at Rs. 38,93,000. The latest returns from the district officers show that the receipts from the public works cess during the first quarter of the current year exceeded those of the corresponding period of last year by more than Rs. 17,000. The Burdwan Estate has also been brought under the Court of Wards, and there will be an increase under "Management rates." The estimate will be placed at Rs. 39,10,000.

56. Assessed Taxes.—The proceeds of the license-tax during the first three months of the current year show a falling off compared with the collections made during the same period of 1884-85. This falling off is attributed to the depression of the rice trade in Bhagulpore, Bankoora, Hooghly, Jessore, Mozufferpore, and Rungpore. It is expected that this will be made up as the year goes on. The Provincial estimate will stand.

57. Forests.—The total receipts of the Forest Department are estimated at Rs. 8,00,000 against Rs. 5,66,000, the revised estimate for 1884-85. It is expected that, with more gazetted officers available for the Chota Nagpore and Orissa Divisions, the departmental operations will be more successfully developed during the working season of 1885-86. There has also been a revival of trade in timber in the Sunderbuns, and an increase in the demand for firewood is anticipated. The estimate of Rs. 8,00,000, which has been passed by the Government of India, will stand. The Provincial share amounts to Rs. 4,00,000.

58. Registration.—The Provincial share of the Registration receipts has been estimated at Rs. 5,55,000 against Rs. 5,41,000, the revised estimate for 1884-85. The Provincial receipts during the first two months of the current year show an increase of Rs. 6,000 over those of the same period of last year. Looking to the steady expansion of registration operations all over Bengal, the Lieutenant-Governor would place the estimate at Rs. 5,60,000 for 1885-86.

59. Law and Justice.—The receipts under Law and Justice (proper) aggregated Rs. 8,23,000 in 1882-83 and Rs. 7,63,875 in 1883-84; while it is anticipated that they will not have amounted to more than Rs. 7,54,000 in 1884-85. The fees, fines, and forfeitures of the judicial courts partake largely of the character of casual receipts, the amount of which from year to year is, as it were, the balance of many chances. It will not be safe, however, to estimate these receipts for next year at more than Rs. 7,60,000. The estimate will accordingly be reduced from Rs. 8,10,000 to Rs. 7,60,000.

In the original estimate under Jails for 1885-86, the sale proceeds of jail manufactures were taken at Rs. 7,50,000 against an average of Rs. 8,09,000 per annum realized during the three years 1880-81 to 1882-83. The estimate was partly based on the actuals of 1883-84, which amounted to Rs. 6,37,863. The marked decrease in 1883-84 was due to exceptional causes, building operations having been in progress in many jails. These have now for the most part ceased, as the Province is now very fully equipped in the matter of jails; and the labour of the prisoners thus set free may be expected to yield a larger direct return. The estimate of receipts has accordingly been raised by one lakh, which has been passed by the Government of India. The total estimate of jail receipts stands at Rs. 8,55,000.

60. Police.—The estimate under this head includes a provision of Rs 40,890 on account of "Deductions from policemen for clothing" and "Clothing receipts." These deductions were not formerly exhibited in the accounts, but the net pay of policemen was charged to Government. The clothing of policemen costs Rs. 7 per head, of which Rs. 4 are paid by Government and Rs. 3 are deducted from the pay of the men. The estimate for the current year provides for the pay of 21,622 head constables and constables. The deduction of Rs. 3 per head would bring in Rs. 64,866. These added to the clothing receipts, which aggregated Rs. 9,464 in 1883-84, may amount to about Rs. 75,000. The estimate will be increased by Rs. 34,000, and it will stand at Rs. 7,06,000 against Rs. 6,99,000, the revised estimate for 1884-85.

61. Marine.—The receipts under this head aggregated Rs. 9,51,889 in 1882-83 and Rs. 8,96,260 in 1883-84, and it is anticipated that they will not have exceeded more than Rs. 7,83,000 in 1884-85. The falling off is chiefly in pilotage receipts, and is probably due to slackness of trade. In view of the large decrease in 1884-85, the Lieutenant-Governor would not place the estimate at a figure higher than Rs. 8,50,000.

62. Education.—The Government of India have adopted the estimate of the Accountant-General under this head, amounting to Rs. 5,42,000. This estimate includes Rs. 7,860 on account of contributions from municipalities. The departmental returns for 1883-84 show that in that year the municipal contributions to Government schools amounted to nearly Rs. 12,000, and as these are steadily increasing, the amount to be expected for 1885-86 was taken by the Local Government at Rs. 20,000. The total estimate was accordingly passed for Rs. 5,54,000, which will be retained.

63. Medical.—The receipts under this head aggregated Rs. 1,41,756 in 1883-84, and they will have amounted to Rs. 1,47,000 in 1884-85. The estimate for the current year, which was originally placed at Rs. 1,37,000, will be raised to Rs. 1,45,000.

64. Scientific and other Minor Departments.—The receipts under this head are estimated at Rs. 1,86,000, which include Rs. 1,55,000 on account of sale proceeds of Darjeeling febrifuge. The Superintendent of the Botanical Garden anticipates a falling off of Rs. 65,000 in these proceeds, owing to the despatch by the Secretary of State of 7,000lbs. of the London febrifuge. It is doubtful whether the conditions under which this febrifuge is to be sold are such as to interfere seriously with the Darjeeling febrifuge, and the Lieutenant-Governor thinks the original estimate may safely be retained.

65. Interest.—The receipts under this head are estimated at Rs. 73,000 against Rs. 68,000, the revised estimate for 1885-86. There are heavy arrears of public works cess in Hooghly, and an increase of revenue from interest on these arrears is also anticipated in Nuddea, Dacca, Sarun, Monghyr, and Durbhunga. The estimate of Rs. 73,000 will be retained.

66. Stationery and Printing.—The estimate under this head amounts to Rs. 1,26,000 against Rs. 1,08,000, the revised estimate for 1884-85. There was an abnormal falling off of miscellaneous Press receipts in 1884-85. These will have amounted to Rs. 38,000 against Rs. 50,000 in 1883-84 and Rs. 64,000 in 1882-83. The estimate for the current year includes a provision of Rs. 50,000 on account of these receipts, and will stand.

67. Miscellaneous.—The original estimate of Miscellaneous receipts was Rs. 6,33,000. A sum of Rs. 10,000 has been included under this head on account of "1 per cent. recoveries for marine insurance," and the estimate, as finally adopted by the Local Government and the Government of India, amounts to Rs. 6,43,000, which will stand.

68. State Railways (gross earnings).—The original estimate was made up thus—

	Rs.
Northern Bengal	23,25,000
Tirhoot State	13,60,000
Patna-Gya	5,10,000
Dacca-Mymensingh	1,50,000
Nulhati	78,000
Total ...	44,23,000

The Government of India have reduced the estimate of receipts from the Northern Bengal State Railway by Rs. 1,75,000, and have raised the estimate of receipts from the Patna-Gya by Rs. 10,000 and from the Dacca-Mymensingh by Rs. 50,000. The original estimate of receipts from the Northern Bengal State Railway for 1884-85 was Rs. 24,00,000. It has been reduced to Rs. 21,41,000 in the revised estimate, owing partly to the transfer of the Poradah section of the line to the Eastern Bengal State Railway from 1st July 1884, and partly to the reduction of the charge for crossing the river Ganges on the opening of the extension of the Poradah section to the new ghât at Golabnugger; but the greater portion of the decrease is due to the traffic in jute and gunny not having revived during the last year. The estimate of the Government of India for the current year, which has been adopted by the Public Works Department, will stand.

69. Irrigation and Navigation (direct receipts).—The revised estimate under this head for 1884-85 amounts to Rs. 13,07,000. The estimate for 1885-86 will be raised from Rs. 12,00,000 to Rs. 13,10,000.

70. State Railways (Provincial).—The receipts from the Kaunia-Dhurla Railway, which has not yet been classed as a Productive Public Work, are shown under this head. The estimate, as passed by the Government of India, provides for an increase of Rs. 10,000 over the revised estimate for 1884-85 and will stand.

71. Irrigation and Navigation (non-productive).—The estimate of the Local Government, amounting to Rs. 8,00,000, has been passed by the Government of India, and will stand, the receipts in 1883-84 having aggregated Rs. 7,92,338.

72. Civil Buildings, Roads and Services.—The estimate of receipts in charge of the Public Works Department as adopted by the Financial Department of the Government of Bengal was Rs. 2,50,000. The Government of India accepted the estimate of Rs. 2,40,000 furnished by the Public Works Department. As the Port Commissioners will probably be able to pay for the bricks supplied to them in 1884-85 during the current year, and as it is also probable they will take more during this year, the original estimate of Rs. 2,50,000 will be retained. The estimate of receipts in charge of Civil Departments amounts to Rs. 5,01,000, and the total under this head will stand at Rs. 7,51,000.

EXPENDITURE.

73. In accordance with the instructions received from the Government of India for the restriction of expenditure in the current year, the Lieutenant-Governor caused a very careful scrutiny to be made of all heads of expenditure under the control of the Government of Bengal. Even apart from these special retrenchments, the Government of Bengal has experienced great difficulty in working up approximately to the prescribed closing balance of 20 lakhs, and for this reason the Provincial expenditure for 1885-86 was originally estimated on a very restricted scale. It was therefore peculiarly difficult to make further reductions without seriously interfering with the work of Government. The urgency of the matter, however, is patent, and it is manifest that, in the face of pressing military necessity, all considerations arising out of the improvement of the Civil administration merely must give way. In this view orders have been issued for still further reductions in the estimated expenditure for 1885-86. The heads of expenditure under which reductions have been found possible, and the amounts retrenched, will be noticed below.

74. Refunds and Drawbacks.—The Provincial expenditure which is classed under this head consists almost entirely of payments which Government is legally bound to make, and which cannot be deferred. No reduction under this head is possible. The estimate of Rs. 1,24,000 has been retained.

75. Land Revenue.—The original estimate of the Local Government under this head was Rs. 34,04,000. A sum of Rs. 3,000 has been deducted on account of civil furlough and absentee allowances, which have been transferred to the Imperial Head 28, and the estimate of the Government of India stands at Rs. 34,01,000. Under this head no retrenchment could be made in the grant for "Collectors' and Deputy Commissioners', &c., establishments," the greater part of which consists of fixed charges which cannot be avoided. Similar remarks apply to the "Malikhana allotment" and the grant for "Sub-divisional establishments." The "Survey" grant has already been largely reduced, and it would not be safe to cut it down still further. Under the sub-head "Charges for the management of estates the rental of which belongs permanently or temporarily to the State," the grant for which had been fixed at Rs. 3,27,000, a reduction of Rs. 15,000 has been made, and the grant of Rs. 78,200 for "Land settlement charges" has also been reduced by a similar amount. The latter sub-head is divided between Provincial and Imperial in the proportion of 32·2284 and 67·7716 respectively. The total retrenchment under Land Revenue will therefore be Rs. 30,000, of which Rs. 20,000 is Provincial and Rs. 10,000 Imperial. The estimate of total Provincial expenditure now stands at Rs. 33,81,000. The increase of Rs. 90,000 in the estimate for 1885-86 over the revised estimate for 1884-85 is chiefly under "Collectors' and Deputy Commissioners', &c., establishments," is due to a provision having been made for the salary and travelling allowance of an additional third grade Collector on account of the new appointment of Director of Agriculture sanctioned by the Secretary of State, to an increased provision of Rs. 18,000 for "Partition of Estates' establishment," to a provision of about Rs. 20,000 for compensation for lands in Jessore, Khulna, and Shahabad, and to a revision of ministerial establishments in certain districts.

76. Salt—The Provincial expenditure under Salt has been estimated at Rs. 21,000, the greater part of which represents the cost of the permanent establishment, which it is impossible to reduce or dispense with. No reduction has been made under this head.

77. Stamps—The grant sanctioned under this head is comprised chiefly of the following items:—(1) The Superintendent of Stamps and his establishment; (2) discount on the sale of stamps; and (3) the cost of stamps supplied from central stores. The first of these is barely adequate, and the second and third are not under the control of the Local Government. No reduction has been possible. There is an increase under the third head owing to the larger demand for stamps by local officers. The Government of India have increased the local estimate by about Rs. 500 under miscellaneous expenses of the Superintendent, and the Provincial share of total expenditure now stands at Rs. 2,42,000, as against Rs. 2,41,000 originally estimated.

78. Excise.—The grant for Excise has been fixed at Rs. 4,00,000 for 1885-86 against Rs. 2,62,000 the budget estimate for the past year. The increase of Rs. 1,38,000 was provided principally in order to comply with the recommendations made by the Excise Commission. Orders have already been issued for strengthening the supervising staff throughout a large part of the Province, and for the re-introduction of the central distillery system in the place of outstills in a number of considerable towns in Behar and Bengal. The Lieutenant-Governor would have been very loath to postpone these important reforms, which will, it is hoped, effect an administrative and moral improvement of great value, and also probably result in an increase of revenue; and though he was prepared, had necessity arisen, to make a reduction of Rs. 60,000, the Government of India has consented to the retention of the original budget provision at its full amount.

79. Customs.—The estimate under this head consists almost entirely of the charge for the fixed establishment of the Calcutta Custom House and Preventive establishment, which is not susceptible of reduction. The estimate amounts to Rs. 4,86,000 against Rs. 4,97,000, the revised estimate for 1884-85. The revised estimate includes a provision of Rs. 8,000 for the construction of new boats for the Calcutta Customs Patrol and Preventive Service. No such provision is needed for the current year. Smaller expenditure is also anticipated under the head of "Repairs of Preventive Service boats." Against these decreases an increased provision has been made for temporary establishments required to be maintained for keeping the Calcutta Jetties open after working hours.

80. Assessed Taxes.—No reduction has been considered possible in the grant for the assessment and collection of the license-tax, and the Provincial share of expenditure stands at Rs. 48,000.

81. Forests.—Under this head a reduction of Rs. 1,20,000 has been made, viz. Rs. 1,02,000 under Conservancy and Works (including Rs. 40,000 provided for a steamer in the Sunderbuns Division) and Rs. 18,000 under Establishment. Of the total reduction, Rs. 60,000 will be saved in the Provincial and an equal amount in the Imperial Budget. The Provincial share now stands at Rs. 2,00,000, the same as the revised estimate for 1884-85.

82. Registration.—The operations of the Registration Department are expected to expand even more rapidly than heretofore, in consequence of the new requirements of the Bengal Tenancy Act. No reduction in the present grant can therefore be effected. The grant for Land Registration charges, however, which are under the control of the Board, and not of the Inspector-General of Registration, has been reduced by Rs. 15,000. The Provincial share of expenditure will stand at Rs. 2,87,500, or Rs. 2,88,000 in round numbers.

83. General Administration.—The estimates under this head have been scrutinized with exceptional minuteness, because the expenditure has of late years shown a strong tendency to increase. It does not appear, however, that there is any charge which can be dispensed with or postponed. A small deduction of Rs. 7,000 has been made from the provision of Rs. 2,63,000 under the sub-head Board of Revenue; but, with this exception, no reduction could be made. The estimate stands at Rs 15,50,000.

84. Law and Justice.—Under Law and Justice (proper) no retrenchment can be made with the exception of a small sum of Rs. 3,000 under "Pleadership examination charges." Under Jails, however, the Lieutenant-Governor has ordered a reduction of Rs. 1,07,000, of which one lakh is under the sub-head Jail manufactures (purchase of raw materials), and the remainder under Petty construction. In view, however, of the uncertain prospects of the crops in some districts, it has been found necessary to raise the provision for rations by Rs. 20,000. The net reductions cannot, therefore, be placed at a higher figure than Rs. 87,000, though it is hoped that something further may be saved if the harvests are favourable. A reduction of Rs. 12,000 has also been made on account of the transfer of civil furlough and absentee allowances to head 28. The estimate now stands at Rs. 97,59,000.

85. Police.—No reduction of police establishments is anywhere possible, as the strength of the force is already barely sufficient to cope with its duties. It was proposed, however, to strike out the provision of Rs. 40,000 which had been made for the supply of new arms, as it was ascertained that the old arms could be made to last another year. The Inspector General of Ordnance has, however, expressed his inability to postpone the issue of new arms indented for for the current year, and the Government of India have agreed that no reduction need be made on this account. A reduction of Rs. 7,500 has been made in the grant for purchase of clothing, and a deduction of Rs. 2,000 has been made on account of the transfer of civil furlough and absentee allowances. A sum of Rs. 3,000 has also been transferred to the Public Works Department for repairing the police-station buildings at Burrabhoom and Chas, in the Manbhoom district. The estimate will then stand at Rs. 47,09,500, or Rs. 47,09,000 in round numbers. The estimate, as originally passed in the Resolution of the 26th February 1885, included a gross provision of Rs. 2,03,672 on account of "Special police." As the grants for "Petty construction and repairs" and "Purchase of elephants and boats" were increased by Rs. 2,000 and Rs. 5,800, respectively, the provision under this head ought to have been placed at Rs. 2,11,472. This amount will stand in the estimate. The allowance for probable savings under this sub-head has, however, been raised from Rs. 10,000 to Rs. 17,800, and the net grant will stand at Rs. 1,93,672 as before.

86. Marine.—The charges under this head depend very largely upon the amount of shipping which visits the Port of Calcutta, and the only items which are capable of reduction are the charges for repairs and purchase of marine stores and coal. A lump deduction of Rs. 10,000 has been made on this account. A sum of Rs. 18,000 has also been deducted on account of civil furlough and absentee allowances transferred to head 28, and the grant now stands at Rs. 8,54,000.

87. Education.—In consequence of the straitened condition of the Provincial finances, the Education grant for 1885-86 was placed at Rs. 33,87,000, being less by Rs. 6,000 than the grant for the previous year. The proposals for giving effect to the recommendations of the Education Commission were altogether postponed, with the exception of a small increase to the salaries of Sub-Inspectors of Schools, for which Rs. 15,000 was provided. It has therefore been exceedingly difficult to make any retrenchments without seriously throwing back the work of the department. A saving has been made of Rs. 80,000, of which Rs. 15,000 is from the primary grant, Rs. 11,000 from grants-in-aid, Rs. 39,320 from building grants to European Schools, and Rs. 14,680 from establishments. The grants to European schools have for the most part been already promised, and in some cases large subscriptions have been collected from the public on the strength of the assistance promised by Government. It is expected, however, that some of these can be postponed for the present, although it will not be possible to avoid them permanently. A sum of Rs. 5,000 has been deducted on account of civil furlough and absentee allowances transferred to head 28, and Rs. 14,000 transferred to the Public Works Department to meet the cost of the following works:—

	Rs.
Construction of three wooden gates at the three main entrances of the Burrisal school	380
Extension of the Mozufferpore zillah school building ...	4,288
Ditto Motihari zillah school building	4,267
Construction of an arched verandah along the south front of the Moorshedabad High School	3,632
Construction of an additional building for the Baraset school ...	1,600
Total ...	14,167

The grant now stands at Rs. 32,88,000.

88. Medical.—The charges under this head consist chiefly of the salaries of the permanent medical establishments of all grades, and the cost of maintaining the Government hospitals and lunatic asylums. The original estimate of the Accountant General was Rs. 14,78,000. His provision under Medical establishment was increased by Rs. 600 on account of two additional copyists sanctioned for the office of the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals. The total was raised in round numbers to Rs. 14,79,000. From this amount Rs. 17,000 has been deducted on account of probable savings under Hospitals and Dispensaries, and Rs. 5,000 on account of transfer of civil furlough and absentee allowances to head 28. The estimate now stands at Rs. 14,57,000.

89. Scientific and Minor Departments.—This head includes a considerable number of items, of which the largest are Cinchona Plantations (Rs. 1,26,035) and Botanical Gardens (Rs. 99,900). Under these two sub-heads a gross retrenchment of Rs. 20,000 has been found possible, which has been obtained by reducing the native establishment on the Cinchona Plantations and some miscellaneous charges. No reduction is possible in the allotments for Provincial Museums, Donations to Scientific Societies, Emigration, Census, Examinations, or Registration of Traffic. The provision for model farms, however, has been reduced by Rs. 2,000, and a similar deduction has been made from the grant of Rs. 5,000 for local exhibitions. Under the sub-head Agricultural Department, the grant for office establishment and rent has been reduced by Rs. 4,800, while the allotment of Rs. 25,000, which had been provided on account of the projected Veterinary College, has been struck out, the scheme having been deferred for the present. The total reductions under this head amounts to Rs. 53,800, and the total grant stands at Rs. 3,50,200 or Rs. 3,50,000 in round numbers.

90. Superannuations.—From the nature of this charge it is evident that no reduction is possible. There have been new pensions costing in the aggregate Rs 1,45,686 against Rs. 98,351 lapsed since the original estimate for 1884-85 was passed. The estimate, as accepted by the Government of India, will stand at Rs. 13,15,000.

91. Stationery and Printing.—A Committee is now sitting which will, the Lieutenant-Governor hopes, have the result of effecting economies in the Stationery Department; but it does not seem possible to estimate for any material reduction of expenditure under this head. An endeavour is also being made to reduce the cost of printing, but it would be unsafe to reckon upon any saving during the current year. The estimate stands at Rs. 10,31,000.

92. Miscellaneous.—The chief items included under this head are Destruction of wild animals (Rs. 30,000), Donations for charitable purposes (Rs. 60,000), and Rents, rates and taxes (Rs. 1,63,000). The last item represents the amount of municipal taxes upon Government buildings, and cannot be reduced. The grants to charitable and other institutions are for the most part of long standing, and should not be withdrawn, except in the last resort. The grant for the destruction of wild animals has been reduced by one-half. No reduction seems possible under any other sub-head. On the contrary, the grant to the District Charitable Society has lately been increased by Rs. 3,000, and a sum of Rs. 21,614 has been paid to the Ladies' Committee of the Hospital Nurses' Institution on account of the balance of the Government grant due to it for the year 1884-85. The total grant under this head will stand at Rs. 3,45,000.

93. Famine relief.—No provision was made in the original estimate under this head. Considerable grants have already been made to the local officers for expenditure on famine relief. A sum of Rs. 50,000 will be allotted under this head.

94 The remaining heads, with the exception of "Contributions," all relate to public works expenditure, and it is under these that it was expected that the largest reductions could be made. There are only three heads of expenditure under Public Works classed as Productive Works. These are "36, State Railways (working expenses)," "38, Irrigation and Navigation (working and maintenance)," and "39, Interest on debt." No reduction has been possible in the estimate for the working expenses of State Railways. The estimate of the Local Government included a provision of Rs. 75,000 on account of "administrative charges of State Railways." The Government of India have deducted this provision and otherwise reduced the estimate by Rs. 41,000. As the administrative charges are now being recorded under this head with the sanction of the Government of India, the provision originally made will stand, except that the amount will be reduced to Rs. 60,000 with reference to actuals, and the total grant will be Rs. 29,40,000, thus—

	Rs.
Northern Bengal	14,00,000
Tirhoot	9,30,000
Patna-Gya	2,85,000
Dacca-Mymensingh	2,00,000
Nulhati	65,000
Administrative charges	60,000
	29,40,000

The charge for "Interest" represents payments by the Government of Bengal to the Government of India, and does not admit of any reduction. The estimate passed by the Government of India, amounting to Rs. 41,69,000, will be retained. Under 38, "Irrigation, &c.," however, reductions have been possible. The provision for the repairs, &c., of the Hidgellee Tidal Canal has been reduced by Rs. 12,500, and the grant for the Sone Canals by Rs. 20,000, though, if heavy floods occur in Shahabad, the latter sum may not be available. The grants for the Orissa and Midnapore Canals are not susceptible of reduction. The total saving under this head is Rs. 32,500. As this reduction will cause a proportionate increase in the cost of establishment adjusted in the Roads and Building Branch, a further sum of Rs. 6,900 has been transferred from this head to head 46. The grant under 38 will stand at Rs. 10,61,000.

95. As regards the expenditure on Public Works not classed as Productive, no real reduction has been possible under either of the Railway heads 40 or 41. The grant provided for by the Government of India for the former was only the estimated cost of the Railway Branch of the Secretariat. This has now been transferred to 36, State Railways, and there will nominally be no provision under this head. The provision of Rs. 1,10,000 under 41, State Railways (working and maintenance), is for the working expenses of the Kaunia-Dhurla State Railway. No provision was made for 42, Subsidized Railways, as it was understood that all payments for compensation for lands taken for the Tarkessur Railway would be completed in 1884-85. All the adjustments could not, however, be effected in that year, and a grant of Rs. 15,000 has been asked for the current year. A provision of this amount will accordingly be made under this head. Under 44, Irrigation and Navigation, a reduction of Rs. 84,000 has been ordered on the Provincial allotment of Rs. 9,72,000, and in consequence of this reduction a further sum of Rs. 19,100 has been transferred to 46, Civil Buildings, Roads and Services, to meet the increase of cost of establishment adjusted under that head. The grant under 44 will stand at Rs. 8,69,000 in round numbers.

96. The grant for 46, Civil Buildings, Roads and Services, in charge of the Public Works Department was originally fixed at Rs. 29,25,000 in addition to which a sum of Rs. 1,30,000, consisting of subscriptions for the Bhagulpore Water-works, was available for disbursement by the Department. Of the total grant of Rs. 30,55,000, Rs. 5,55,000 was allotted for original works, Rs 14,75,000 for repairs, Rs. 9,89,104 for establishment, and Rs. 35,896 for tools and plant. It has been ascertained that a reduction of 3½ lakhs can be effected under repairs, and of 2 lakhs under original works, or 5½ lakhs in all. The Government of India have, however, made a reduction of some 6 lakhs in the Imperial grant under head 46, on account of Imperial works to be carried out by the Provincial staff, and this will increase the cost of the establishments (including tools and plant) paid for from Provincial revenues by about 25 per cent. of this amount, or by Rs. 1,50,000. The net reduction under this head will, therefore, be Rs. 4,00,000 in round numbers. A sum of Rs. 26,000 has, however, been transferred to this head from heads 38 and 44, Irrigation and Navigation, as noticed above, and additional grants, amounting to Rs. 25,000, have been sanctioned to meet the following charges :—

	Rs.
For additions and alterations to Educational buildings as detailed in paragraph 87	14,167
For repairing the police station buildings at Burrabhoom and Chas, mentioned in paragraph 85	2,972
For repairing the Alipore Police case Hospital	6,139
For constructing a work-shed in the Berhampore Lunatic Asylum	1,933
Total ...	25,211

The grant of Rs. 3,383 sanctioned in Government order No. 1184 T—F, dated 18th June 1885, for the construction of additional record-racks in the Board's Office will not be required, as the work has been deferred for the present. The total grant, therefore, now stands at Rs. 25,76,000. It will not be possible to reduce the grant below this amount. The grant for 1884-85 was placed at an exceptionally low figure, Rs. 25,21,000. In order to keep the expenditure within that amount, it was necessary to suspend all quadrennial repairs throughout the Province, to withhold the grants usually made to Civil Departments for minor works, to abandon all projects for new works, however necessary, and to stay operations on all works already begun, wherever this could be done without increasing heavy and incommensurate loss. Now, for the second year in succession, it has been found necessary to disallow all repairs except such as are absolutely necessary to prevent buildings from falling down. No new works can be undertaken, although in numerous cases court-houses, cutcherries, and other buildings have long been imperatively required. No provision has again been made for minor works by civil officers. This state of things is justified by the imperative necessity of retrenchment; but the Lieutenant-Governor hopes that in the ensuing year 1886-87 he will be able to make an allotment under this head more in accordance with the requirements of the Province.

The estimate for "Public works in charge of civil officers" was placed at Rs. 46,000. A sum of Rs. 50,000 has been added to it for contribution to municipal and other excluded local funds, and the provision under this head stands at Rs. 96,000.

97. Contributions.—A sum of Rs. 5,00,000 was originally provided for contributions for local purposes. It has been reduced by the Government of India to Rs. 3,00,000. A sum of Rs. 50,000 has been transferred from this head to head 32, Famine relief, and Rs. 50,000 to 46, Public Works in charge of civil officers. The remainder, Rs. 2,00,000, is now provided under this head. About Rs. 1,62,000 of this represent recurring expenditure which cannot be avoided, such as the cost of collecting the public works cess, the grants made for communications in non-cess districts, and charges for the improvement of Government estates, and the sum available for grants-in-aid to District Road Funds is now reduced to Rs. 38,000.

98. Closing balance.—According to the estimate submitted to the Government of India in March last, it was expected that the Province would close the year 1885-86 with a credit balance of Rs. 16,35,000. The Government of India raised this balance to Rs. 16,80,000. According to the estimate now adopted, the closing balance will amount to Rs. 23,85,000. Inclusive of the balance with which the year opened, the total amount available for expenditure was, according to the estimate of the Government of India, Rs. 4,42,48,000, and according to the estimate now adopted Rs. 4,41,20,000. The difference amounts to Rs. 1,28,000, as shown below:—

The expenditure as now estimated is less by Rs. 8,33,000 than the estimate passed by the Government of India. This reduction is, however, less than the savings (Rs. 9,37,000) reported to the Government of India in letter No. 1049T—F, dated the 5th June 1885, by Rs. 1,04,000, which is made up as follows:—

	Rs.
Retrenchment withdrawn under Excise	30,000
Ditto ditto Police	40,000
Increase under Medical	1,000
Ditto Miscellaneous	25,000
Decrease under Subsidized Railways	15,000
Ditto Civil Buildings (exclusive of transfers from other service heads)	8,000
Total ...	1,19,000
Decrease under 36, State Railways	15,000
Net increase ...	1,04,000

The necessity of this further grant of Rs. 1,04,000 has been explained above, and the closing balance now stands at Rs. 23,85,000 against Rs. 16,80,000 originally estimated by the Government of India, and (Rs. 16,80,000 + Rs. 9,37,000 =) Rs. 26,17,000, the balance estimated when the reductions were reported to the Government of India.

100. The estimate as originally passed showed a deficit of Rs. 4,29,700. The Government of India have increased this to Rs. 4,56,000, and it now stands at Rs. 5,56,000. The estimate of the Government of India provides for a net credit of Rs. 10,000 under "Deposits," instead of Rs. 34,000 shown in the original estimate. In other respects the figures, as originally estimated, have been passed, except that a reduction of Rs. 1,000 has been made in the estimate of receipts from the District Post Fund, of Rs. 200 from the District Road Account, and Rs. 300 from the District Fund; while a sum of Rs. 600 has been added to the estimate of expenditure of the District Post Fund, and Rs. 200 to that of the District Road Account. These additions and deductions have for the most part been made to bring the figures to round numbers in distributing them under service heads, as shown in the following paragraph. The estimate of the Government of India has been retained, except that the provision made for contributions from Provincial funds has been reduced, as explained above, from Rs. 3,00,000 to Rs. 2,00,000. From the commencement of 1884-85, the Inland Labour Transport Fund has been divided between Assam and Bengal. The undivided fund had a balance of Rs. 76,263 on the 31st March 1884. It has been decided that all pensions and leave allowances calculated at one-seventh of the salary of the employés, if paid from the date of the passing of Act I of 1882, shall be deducted from this balance, and the remainder divided in the proportions of one-fourth to Bengal and three-fourths to Assam. No division has yet been made of the balance at credit of this fund, and it will probably have opened the current year with a balance of Rs. 70,000. This will stand in the estimate; but the Accountant-General will take early steps for the distribution of the amount in the manner decided by the Government of India.

No.	District, and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
ORISSA.
Orissa Div. 38	Cuttack, Aug. 21 '85	2·73	Weather—cloudy and hot with occasional scanty rainfall. Beali ripening and in some places being cut. Sarad doing well, but requires more rain. Price of rice almost unchanged. Public health generally good. Sporadic cases of cholera reported.
39	Pooree, „ 20 „	1·79	Weather—seasonable. Transplanting, puddling and weeding of sarad paddy in progress. Miscellaneous crops doing well. Common rice selling at an average of 18 seers 10 chittacks per rupee in the Sudder sub-division and 18 seers 3 chittacks in the Khoorda sub-division. Cholera still reported from the town and the interior.
	Khoorda ...	3·15
40	Balasore „ 21 „	4·90	Weather—cloudy and rainy. Weeding and transplanting going on satisfactorily. Public health good.
CHOTA NAGPORE.
South-West Frontier Agency.
41	Hazaribagh, Aug. 21 '85	4·01	Weather—seasonable. Ample rain reported from all stations. Bhadoi damaged in places by excessive rain. Transplanting of rice nearly completed and crops promise well. Cholera very prevalent and some fever also reported. Prices steady.
42	Lohardugga, „ 22 „	4·93	Weather—cloudy and rainy. Excessive rain during the week; continuance of this weather for many days more will be injurious to the bhadoi crop. In the Palamow sub-division there is very little sickness, but in the head-quarters sub-division cholera and fever are on the increase; the former has assumed an epidemic character in some villages in the Ranchee and Mandar thanas. Prices stationary.
43	Singbhoom, ...	.....	Report not received.
44	Manbhoom, „ 22 „	4·26	Weather—wet and stormy. Gundli and makai are being cut; outturn fair. Other crops doing well, but some fine weather is now required. Public health fair.

CALCUTTA, the 24th August 1885.

SUMMARY OF THE RAINFALL AND METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 21st OF AUGUST 1885.

THE week has again been one of steady rainfall, and in fact in most districts the fall has been very large, if not in many cases excessive. The conditions which have obtained in Bengal throughout the week have been those favourable to steady and continuous rain in almost all districts, and in no previous week during the present monsoon has the rainfall been so generally in excess of the normal, nor has the rainfall been so continuous in any previous week, as in that under review. At the close of the previous week a cyclonic depression which had formed off the South Orissa coast near Gopalpore had passed inland, and on Friday, the 14th, its centre was not far to the west of Cuttack. The falling barometer with which the formation of this depression had been ushered in continued on the following day over the whole Province, the fall being particularly rapid at the western stations, the lowest pressure being reported from Cuttack. This rapid fall at the western stations was probably connected with the inland advance of the depression, which, however, rapidly passed away and disappeared. With its advance of course a fairly strong monsoon current commenced to blow over the Province bringing moderate to heavy rain, but on the 16th a rapid fall of the barometer took place in the north-west angle of the Bay, while the wind directions showed clearly that another small cyclonic storm had formed. It was, however, rather a feeble storm, though it gave rise to a rough sea and strong winds at the Sandheads, but it was formed too close to the land for it to have time to gather strength, and by the following morning it had moved in a south-westerly direction, and was in the south of Chutia Nagpur. The depression of course carried forward with it moderate to heavy rain, and at the same time, as it advanced, a fresh inrush of humid southerly winds flowed over the Province. On the following day, Tuesday, the 18th, the depression had either filled up or passed from Bengal, and rather a rapid increase of pressure commenced over the Province, the increase being as much as 0·15″ at some of the south-western stations. On this day the meteorological conditions over the Province were nearly normal, and a fairly strong monsoon current was blowing from the Bay of Bengal over all districts, and was giving moderate to heavy rain in all districts and at almost all stations. The increasing pressure continued on the 19th, and this ushered in a slight advance of westerly winds, due to the branch of the monsoon coming from the Arabian Sea. At the same time the Bengal branch of the current was and had been blowing steadily and rather strongly for some days, and on the 18th in particular it was evident that a strong advance of this current was taking place in the Bay; winds were rather high in the Bay and heavy rain was falling on the Arakan coast. There was thus a considerable amount of interaction between these two more or less opposing wind systems, giving rise of course to increased precipitation or rainfall, particularly in the western and south-western districts. On this day the lowest pressure in the Province was in the western parts of South Behar, and round the low pressure area the opposing winds commenced to circulate slowly. On the 20th the westerly winds strengthened, and the low pressure area with its circulation of winds moved to the eastwards, pressure commenced to fall, and a distinct depression was formed in the eastern part of South Behar. Almost similar conditions prevailed on Friday, the 21st, and the depression became more clearly marked, and the circulation of winds rather stronger, the centre of the circulation on this day being apparently not far from Maldah. The depression, though very slight, was still sufficient to determine a distinct cyclonic circulation of winds over a large part of the Province, the southerly humid winds pouring into the Province over Eastern Bengal, and the westerly and south-westerly winds sweeping across the western districts, so that for the whole of the latter portion of the week considerable interaction was taking place, and conditions were eminently favourable to rainfall over a large portion of the Province, and the only district which, to a certain extent, escaped this action was North Behar, where the rainfall was less general than in other districts.

The variations of pressure during the week have been mainly determined by the formation and movement of the low pressure areas or barometric depressions which have been described above. In the previous week pressure was on the average of the whole Province about 0·04″ in defect, but the defect was unequally distributed, and pressure was comparatively low in the south-western districts, the greatest defect being in Orissa at Cuttack. On the 15th pressure fell rapidly over the whole Province, the fall being largest in the western and south-western districts, and thus pressure was in defect of the normal on that day in all districts, the defect varying from 0·11″ in Orissa to 0·03″ in East Bengal. For the following two days the changes were clearly connected with the formation and advance of the small storm in the north-west angle of the Bay, and on the 16th, while pressure was 0·14″ below the normal at Saugor Island, it was normal in Behar and even slightly above the normal at Durbhunga. On the 18th and 19th, as has been explained before, there was a decided and continuous increase of pressure, and on the latter date it became in excess in all districts. On the last two days of the week pressure generally fell, the decrease being generally largest in the northern and eastern districts, and at the close of the week pressure was therefore below the normal at the central stations in the Province by nearly 0·1″, while it was above the normal at the western stations. For the whole week the average pressure has again been below the normal, but by scarcely so large an amount as in the previous week, the average defect being rather less than 0·03″. The average defect too is rather more evenly distributed than it was previously, and no districts show any marked preponderance of defect over others.

The variations of temperature during the week have been mainly with a downward tendency. On the first day of the week temperature, however, rose, and it was generally above the normal by amounts which varied from 1° to 2°. With the very heavy rainfall which then commenced over the whole Province temperature commenced to fall, and on the 16th it was below the normal in almost all districts, the average defect being about 1°. From this date temperature continued somewhat below the normal for the remainder of the week; the defects in certain districts having been occasionally very considerable, and thus on the 17th, in Orissa, temperature was 5° below the normal, and on the 18th Gya reported a temperature 6° below the normal. The average temperature for the week has not of course been so largely in defect as in these cases, but still South Behar shows an average temperature 2·3° in defect of the normal, while Orissa, South-West and East Bengal and Chutia Nagpur show defects varying for 1° to 2°, and North Behar shows a slight defect only.

The effect of the meteorological conditions described previously has been to give heavy and prolonged rainfall to all districts, and though on some days rainfall in certain districts has been heavier than on others, yet the heavy falls have been so frequent and so general that it is not necessary to describe the daily rainfall in detail. As may be expected from the conditions previously sketched out, the districts receiving the largest amount of rainfall have been Chutia Nagpur, South-West Bengal and East Bengal: South Behar and Orissa have also received very heavy falls, and so, but to a rather smaller extent, has North Bengal. Thus the only district which has not received an excess fall during the week has been North Behar.

The falls in many districts have been so large as to be more than double the normal amount.* Thus taking up the meteorological divisions, Chutia Nagpur has received 5·72 inches of rain against the normal amount of 2·73 inches, which is equal to an excess fall of 110 per cent. South Behar has received 4·87 inches against the normal fall of 2·41 inches, and thus is 102 per cent. in excess. South-West Bengal has received an average rainfall of 5·73 inches against the normal 3·25 inches, which is equal to 76 per cent. in excess. East Bengal reports 7·06 inches against the usual amount of 3·67 inches, and thus is 92 per cent. in excess. Orissa records an average fall of 3·90 inches against the normal 2·72 inches, which is 43 per cent. in excess. North Bengal has received 3·58 inches against the normal fall of 3·48 inches, and is thus 3 per cent. in excess, while North Behar has received an average fall of 2·20 inches, which is precisely equal to the normal amount; or taking the whole Province into consideration, and making the meteorological divisions of equal value, there has been an average excess rainfall over the whole Province equal to 61 per cent. of the normal.

On the whole, this excess rainfall has been fairly evenly distributed, but there are certain districts, even in those divisions which have received excess falls, where the rainfall for the week has been in defect. Thus in North Bengal, which has generally received a slight excess, the district of Rungpore is decidedly deficient, and only reports 1·35 inches against the normal 2·79 inches; while at Kurigram and Bagdogra in this district the fall for the week has been only about 0·8 inch. In North Bengal also the Dinagepore and Bogra districts have received falls decidedly below the normal, though not to the same extent as in Rungpore. In North Behar the Chumparun district is distinctly in defect, averaging only 1·58 inches against 2·75 inches, while Burhurwa in this district has only received 0·72 inch and Bettiah 1·21 inches. At Madhubani in the Durbhunga district also the fall has been only 0·58 inch, and at Muddapore in the North Bhagulpore district it has only been 1·06 inches. These are the principal stations at which diminished amounts have been recorded, and there are of course corresponding instances of increased precipitation. The largest fall for the week at any single station is at Cox's Bazar, which has received 27·69 inches, while at the following stations falls of over 7 inches for the week, or an average of more than an inch of rain a day, have been recorded. In Orissa, at Jajpore. In South-West Bengal at Saugor Island, Dum-Dum, Baraset, Hooghly, Jehanabad, Mankar, Raneegunge (13·59 inches), Gangajalghati, Sonamukhi, and Satkhira. In East Bengal at Laksham, Ramchanderpore, Noakholly, Chandpore, Madaripore, Patuakhaily and Perozepore. In North Bengal at Cooch Behar and Buxa. In South Behar at Aurungabad. In the Southal Pergunnahs at Deoghur and Jamtara, and in Chutia Nagpore at Ramghur, Jhoomra Hills, Giridi, Barhi, and Jhalda.

There have also been some exceptionally heavy falls during single days in this week, and thus on the 15th Cooch Behar reported 4·99 inches. On the 18th Baraset reported 5·6 inches, Jehanabad 4·79 inches, Cox's Bazar, 6·9 inches, and Jamtara (Sonthal Pergunnahs) 4·51 inches. On the 19th Raneegunge reported 6·51 inches, Gangajalghati (Bankoora district) 5·13 inches, and Cox's Bazar 4·84 inches. On the 20th Buxar received 4·59 inches, Aurungabad 4·43 inches, and Jhalda (Manbhoom district) 6·10 inches; and on the 21st Ramchunderpore in the Tipperah district reported the excessive fall of 16 inches, Hooghly recorded 4·02 inches, Cox's Bazar 4·14 inches, and Sheikpura (Monghyr district) 5·39 inches. Thus there has been excessive rainfall in almost all districts for the week, and in addition to these very large individual falls have been recorded on several days, and thus in many districts local floods and inundations have probably occurred.

The continuous nature of the rainfall for the week may also be judged from the fact that in South-West Bengal, East Bengal, North Bengal and Chutia Nagpur, the average number of rainy days has been about 6·3 against a normal average of about 4 days, and for the whole Province at all stations the average number of rainy days has been 5·8 against the normal average of 4·2 days.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the Province for the week ending Friday, the 21st of August 1885 :—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph and from observations made at 6h, 10h., 16h., and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 1 formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

MEMORANDA.

THE returns received from the principal Municipalities in Bengal, during the week ending 8th August 1885, disclose the following results:—

1. That births and deaths were recorded in these Municipalities in the proportions, respectively, of 23·8 and 45·6 per 1,000 of population against 24·1 and 43·7 per 1,000, respectively, during the preceding week ending 1st August, indicating a considerable advance in the registration of deaths, with a small falling off in that of births:—

2. That the undermentioned Municipalities returned the highest proportions of births and deaths:—

Births.

	Ratio per mille.
Bhagulpore	48·0
Chittagong	44·6
Patna	44·1
Mozufferpore	34·1

* A special census of the Europeans in the Darjiling Municipality was recently taken as the census of this section of the community, taken in February 1881, was not reliable owing to the Europeans being at a minimum in that month. The number of the natives [illegible] as by the [illegible] them, the ratios have consequently been calculated on the revised population under all heads in the above table, except [illegible] under which have been omitted, inasmuch as the census of the Europeans
